GERMANS RETREAT; CARNAGE IS AWFUL

FOUR PARTIES TOE THE MARK IN FALL RACE

Moose and Democrats Urge Constitution at Convention.

ROBINS HITS SULLIVAN

State conventions to choose state committee chairmen, nominate candidates for state university trustees, and to adopt platforms for the coming campaign, were held by the Republicans, Democrats, Progressives, and Socialists of Illinois yesterday.

The Democrats met at Springfield, the Republicans at Peoria, the Progressives at Urbana, and the Socialists in Chicago. The party platforms of the Progressives and Democrats declared outright for an Illinois constitutional convention to which many legislative candidates of all parties have already been pledged. The Republicans declared for "the amendment or revision" of the state constitution.

Leaders Sound Keynote.

Addresses by L. Y. Sherman, Roger C. Sullivan, and Raymond Robins, the senatorial nominees, sounded the keynotes of the campaign for the Republicans, Democrats, and Progressives.

The Progressive nominee for senator centered his attack on Mr. Sullivan, declaring that he was "the man we've got to beat." Mr. Robins classed Sullivanism with Lorimerism and called the biscuit maker a political and industrial pirate. Col. Roosevelt was mentioned thus: "We look forward to the election of Theodore Roosevelt as president of the United States in 1916.

The Democrats in speech and resolution indorsed President Wilson's administration. Gov. Dunne, who before the primaries had opposed the aspirations of Mr. Sullivan, said all Democrats should now get together and work for the senatorial nominee.

Senator Borah spoke to the Republicans and was greeted by delegates as a possible nominee for the presidency in 1916.

Nominees for Trustees.

The nominees of the various parties for trustees of the University of Illinois were:

DEMOCRATS OUT FOR WILSON FOR 1916.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Woodrow Wilson! That's the story of today's Democratic state convention. A convention that will go down in history as the most "disgustingly harmonious" gathering of Democrats in Illinois in the last quarter of a century if not of all time.

There was not a note of discord from start to finish. Throughout the day the gathering listened time and again to the magic name, Wilson, and cheered the name with great yelling.

The culmination of the day's Wilson triumph was reached when the convention solemnly declared for the renomination and reëlection of the president in 1916 and pledged the solid Democracy of Illinois in support of that pronouncement.

Illinois First to Act.

By this action Illinois becomes the first state in the union to formally declare in a Democratic convention for the reëlection of the president. Inasmuch as this is Mr. Bryan's native heath, over which he assumes still to exercise a fatherly supervision of things Democratic, the action was interpreted as an acquiescence on the part of Mr. Bryan in the repudiation of the "one term" plank in the Baltimore platform.

The convention adopted a platform placing President Wilson on a pedestal with Washington, Jefferson, and Lincoln, praised unstintingly the administrative record of Gov. Dunne, and extolled Roger C. Sullivan as one of the great and good men of this day and generation.

For State School Trustees.

It nominated for state university trustees the following: Robert R. Ward, Benton; Robert S. Carr, Highland Park; Henry Huttman, Chicago.

At the organization meeting of the state committee tonight Arthur W. Charles

German Official Statement on Destruction of Louvain

BERLIN, Aug. 30, 1914.—Following is an official communication of the German general staff regarding the destruction of Louvain:

"The city of Louvain had surrendered and was given over to us by the Belgian authorities. On Monday, Aug. 24, some of our troops were shipped there and intercourse with the inhabitants was developing quite friendly.

"On Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 25, our troops, hearing about an imminent Belgian sortie from Antwerp, left in that direction, the commanding general ahead in a motor car, leaving behind only a colonel with soldiers to protect the railroad (landsturm battalion 'Neuss').

CIVILIANS OPEN FIRE.

"As the rest of the commanding general's staff, with the horses, was going to follow and had collected on the market place, rifle fire suddenly opened from all the surrounding houses, all the horses being killed and five officers wounded, one of them seriously.

"Simultaneously fire opened at about ten different places in town, also on some of our troops just arrived and waiting on the square in front of the station, and on incoming military trains. That it was a designed coöperation with the Belgian sortie from Antwerp was established beyond a doubt.

"Two priests who were caught handing out ammunition to the people were shot at once in front of the station.

FIGHT LASTS 24 HOURS.

"The street fight lasted till Wednesday, the 26th, in the afternoon (twenty-four hours), when stronger forces, which arrived in the meantime, succeeded in getting the upper hand. The town and northern suburb were burning at different places, and by this time probably have burned down altogether.

"On the part of the Belgian government a general rising of the population against the enemy had been organized for a long time; depots of arms were found, where to each gun was attached the name of the citizen to be armed.

"A spontaneous rising of the people has been recognized at the request of the smaller states at The Hague conference as being within the law of nations, as far as weapons are carried openly and the laws of civilized warfare are being observed; but such rising was only admitted in order to fight the attacking enemy.

TREACHERY OF BELGIANS.

"In the case of Louvain the town already had surrendered and the population renounced, without any resistance, the town being occupied by our troops.

"Nevertheless the population attacked us on all sides and with murderous fire the occupying forces and newly arriving troops, which came in trains and automobiles.

"Therefore there can be no question of means of defense allowed by the law of nations, neither of a warlike guetapens (ambush), but only of a treacherous attempt of the civil population all along the line, and all the more to be condemned as it was apparently planned long beforehand with a simultaneous attack from Antwerp, as arms were not carried openly, as women and young girls took part in the fight and blinded our wounded, sticking their eyes out.

GERMAN ACTS JUSTIFIED.

"The barbarous attitude of the Belgian population in all parts occupied by our troops has not only justified our severest measures but forced them on us for the sake of self-preservation.

"The intensity of the resistance of the population is shown by the fact that in Louvain twenty-four hours were necessary to break down their attack.

"We ourselves regret deeply that during these fights the town of Louvain has been destroyed to a great extent. Needless to say that these consequences are not intentional on our part, but cannot be avoided in this infamous Franc-tireur war being led against us.

BLAME BELGIAN GOVERNMENT.

"Whoever knows the good natured character of our troops cannot seriously pretend that they are inclined to needless or frivolous destruction.

"The entire responsibility for these events rests with the Belgian government, who, with criminal frivolity, has given to the Belgian people, instructions contrary to the law of nations and incited their resistance, and who, in spite of our repeated warnings, even after the fall of Luettich (Liege), have done nothing to induce them to a peaceful attitude."

FIGHT OVER PORK LASTS ALL NIGHT

Senate Still in Session at 2 A. M., Burton Having Spoken Seven Hours.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19, 2 a. m.—[Special.]—The senate is in an all night session in a final effort to wear out and break down the determined filibuster against the "pork" bill appropriating millions for river and harbor improvements.

At 12:30 a. m. Senator Burton of Ohio, a leader of the filibuster, had been on his feet and speaking constantly for seven hours and evinced no signs of fatigue.

At that post-midnight hour a point of "no quorum" made by Senator Smoot relieved Mr. Burton. A roll call showed forty-six senators present.

At 1 o'clock deputy sergeants-at-arms started out in taxicabs and with writs of arrest to bring in the absent senators instantly.

Advocates Spurn Compromise.

Earlier in the night a proposed compromise contemplating $20,000,000 lump sum appropriation for river and harbor improvements as a substitute for the pending bill, evoked little enthusiasm.

A point of order to hamper the filibuster which was made on Thursday occupied all of yesterday and proved abortive.

The senate, by a vote of 35 to 15, reversed its ruling of Thursday when by a vote of 24 to 28 it held that Senator Kenyon, occupying the floor, could not yield it to another except by unanimous consent.

The debate occupied the whole session, Senators Bryan and Stone arguing vigorously that a senator had no right to occupy the floor and "farm it out."

Williams Ridicules Enemies.

Senator Williams made an impassioned plea for a "permanent and perpetual session of the senate."

"Let them talk till they drop from their feet," he shouted; "let 'em talk until their mouths are so dry they can't utter another word."

When Senator Kenyon early last evening concluded five days of discussion of the bill he surrendered the floor to Senator Burton.

And then, for hour after hour, Senator Burton poured out a flood of statistical information regarding the traffic on government improved rivers.

ORE STEAMSHIP GROUNDS IN FOG

George F. Baker from Duluth, Sticks on Shoal Off the Winnetka Shore.

The steamship George F. Baker, laden with 15,000 tons of iron ore, bound out of Duluth for South Chicago, went aground off Elm street, Winnetka, in a heavy fog yesterday.

At midnight the big ore ship lay on the shoal with its waist two feet above water line, hard aground, with no prospect of floating before daybreak.

The ship was held to be in peril in event of a northeaster because of the exposed position.

The Evanston life saving crew, under Capt. P. F. Jensen, put out in a motor life boat shortly after noon and stood by through the night.

Fleet of Tugs at Scene.

Two heavy tugs were kept under steam at the docks of the Dunham Towing and Wrecking company all night ready for emergency calls from the fleet of tugs about the grounded boat.

The vessel is owned by the Pittsburgh Steel company. H. J. Sullivan, Chicago agent for the company, of Cleveland, refused to give any information concerning the ship. Capt. W. H. Cambeau, in command, gave out no statements.

The grounding of the vessel at a point so far off the steamer lanes was something of a puzzle to Chicago harbor men.

Thinks Captain Mistook Light.

A captain familiar with the west coast said in his opinion the navigating officer of the ship had mistaken Gross Point light for the South Chicago light and put in full speed ahead, expecting to make his harbor, until the vessel nosed into the shelving sand of the Winnetka shore.

This opinion was borne out in a degree by the position of the vessel and the fact that, laden with ore, the big vessel, 540 feet long and 58 feet beam, had been forced so far out of water.

The distress signals of the vessel excited residents of the north shore, and there was an automobile pilgrimage to look over the vessel, which lay about 300 yards out.

At night two "sand suckers," sent from Chicago, were put to work jettisoning the cargo of ore. The small capacity of the emergency equipment, however, made it improbable that the vessel would be lightened enough to float free of the sand in less than twenty-four hours.

RUSSIA WILL RAISE ARMIES TO 7,000,000

Enormous Forces to Be in the Field by Next Month.

HOLD FIRM IN PRUSSIA

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Reports received from Petrograd today say that the Russian pursuit of the Austrians continues and that the Russians have gained important successes over the Austrian rear guard. The whole of the Austro-Russian border between Yusevoff and Annapol is reported to be overrun by Cossacks, who are leading the Russian advance.

The Russian army now in Galicia will be left there to complete its work, for, according to a Rome dispatch, an army of 900,000 Russians is marching into central Poland, followed by another army of 2,000,000, while a third army, also aggregating 2,000,000, is coming from more distant regions and will reach the front in October.

Russia to Use 7,000,000 Men.

There already are said to be a million Russians in Galicia and a half million in East Prussia. While these numbers are enormous they are considered probably a fair estimate of what Russia soon will have available for her war. It is said she will soon have 7,000,000 men on the move.

While continuing the offensive in Galicia, Russia is standing on the defensive on the East Prussian frontier, her army having been driven back by the Germans. This army, however, is said to be intact.

More Germans Called Out.

German military authorities occupying the territory around Kalisz in Russian Poland have called to the colors all the German inhabitants there between the ages of 16 and 45.

Many of the German subjects fled. Some of these were caught and twenty were hanged.

The Reuter Telegram company's correspondent at Nish, sends an official Austrian statement which includes the following:

"On the northern front beyond the Save river, notwithstanding the fact that our offensive has been crowned with success, our troops have been recalled for strategic purposes."

Germans Checked in East Prussia.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 18.—The following communication was issued today by the chief of the general staff:

"On the front in East Prussia the armies of Gen. Rennenkampf definitely stopped on Sept. 17 the offensive movement of the Germans. At several points the Germans are falling back and shifting to new positions.

"On the Austrian front the pursuit of the enemy continues. The Russians are approaching the defensive positions of Sienawa, Jaroslau, and Przemysl in Galicia."

Austrians Given Little News.

VENICE, via Paris, Sept. 18.—In the complete absence of satisfactory details regarding the progress of the campaign in Galicia and along the Servian frontier, the Austrian public is waiting with patience for some definite news as to what really is happening.

Ever since it became known that Russia was making great headway in Galicia the comment in Vienna newspapers has been guarded, the editorials dealing chiefly with the German campaign in western Europe. The presence of 70,000 Polish refugees from Galicia, however, added to the constant arrival of trainloads of wounded, tends to offset this reticence.

Germans Govern Russian Province.

BERLIN, via Rotterdam Sept. 17, via London, Sept. 18.—The German government has appointed Count von Merveldt as governor of the Russian province of Suwalki and other points occupied by them.

The University of Koenigsberg today conferred upon Gen. von Hindenberg honorary doctors' degrees from all four of the departments of philosophy, theology, law, and medicine.

REFUSES PRINCE OF WALES.

Lord Kitchener Advises King It Is "Undesirable That He Go to War."

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The Prince of Wales was very anxious to go to the front, according to a statement issued this evening by the official press bureau, and tried to get Lord Kitchener's consent to do so. But as he had not completed his military training, Lord Kitchener submitted to the king "that for the present it is undesirable that his royal highness should proceed on active service."

ALLIES CROWD ENEMY BACK SEVEN MILES

Bayonet Charges and Hand to Hand Fights at Battle of Aisne.

CALLED CRUCIAL CLASH

ON THE BATTLE FRONT, via Paris, Sept. 18.—The four days' battle along the line from Noyon to the Franco-German frontier on the east was continued all day today.

The fighting became more furious than ever.

During the combat along the River Aisne the adversaries in many instances came to hand to hand clashes and the bayonet was used extensively.

As a result of today's terrific fighting the Germans were forced to retire about seven miles.

The bloody scenes of the battlefield have no retarding effect on either side. The carnage was horrifying, but the troops appear to have become hardened and fought with great coolness.

SILENCE MASKED GUNS?

The allies' aviators apparently discovered the placements of some big German guns, notwithstanding the cleverness with which they are hidden beneath an earthen covering strewn with the branches of trees.

The allies' artillery opened a concentrated fire on a certain portion of the line and the heavy German artillery shortly after lapsed into silence at that spot, although it is not known whether they were made impotent or merely were effecting a change of position owing to their position having become untenable.

GERMANS MOVE BACK.

It is impossible to learn from any one portion of the line what is occurring at other places, but an inclination to recede slightly seemed evident on the German side, although they offered the most obstinate resistance and fought as if made of iron.

The allies at the same time doggedly pursued the small advantage they gained and kept at the heels of their reluctantly retiring foe.

BATTLE IS FURIOUS.

At a point where the bulk of the British troops formed part of the allies' line the fighting was furious yesterday and today, and some of the most famous English, Scottish, and Irish regiments, including the guards and the Highlanders, suffered severely.

They performed the task set for them unflinchingly, advancing and occupying some of the advanced German positions, but at terrible cost.

EARLY FIGHTING SEVERE.

The early fighting of this great battle was nearly as severe as that staged today.

During the night of Sept. 15-16 the Germans attempted a formidable movement in the western sphere, but were met by the French and British with courage that was marvelous against overwhelming odds.

The Germans returned to the attack no fewer than ten times with remarkable tenacity and intrepidity, but were unable to break through the firm line presented by the allies infantry.

The fight just before daybreak was the most violent of all. The Germans appeared to throw into the charge all that remained of their energy, but were rolled back with enormous losses.

MANY TEUTONS SACRIFICED.

Before retiring behind their big guns they sacrificed many of their number, displaying resolution which approached desperation.

A vigorous counter attack from the allies ensued, during which a small extent of ground was gained.

Behind the fighting line along the Acy-puiscux road still lie many of the dead who fell in the fighting of Sept. 5.

Laborers engaged in the task of interment declared that although they had buried great numbers over a thousand bodies still awaited removal from the battlefield.

AISNE BATTLE CRUCIAL.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—Military experts agree that the battle of the Aisne is more momentous than the battle of the Marne.

Col. Rousset says in the Petit Parisien

FIGHT TO FINISH, PEACE ANSWER

British Leader Says Idea of Ending War at This Time Is Ridiculous.

BY SIR GILBERT PARKER, M. P.
[By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The proposal for peace at this stage of this world conflict, when nothing is settled except that the German march to Paris has been stayed, borders almost on the ridiculous.

I believe I speak the mind of 95 per cent of my fellow countrymen when I say that Great Britain is in this war to its last man and its last penny to break the militarism which is at present and would be a perpetual danger to the world if it were allowed to dominate Europe.

I do not believe that any proposals for peace on the part of Herr Dernburg or Count von Bernstoff really represents the opinion of the German people. I have too high an opinion of their will and power. They know this thing is a fight to the end.

Germany Seeks U. S. Pity?

What subterranean idea there is in having the suggestions come so soon I do not know, but I have a shrewd idea that it is for the purpose of rousing American feeling to the temperature of pity for one great power which is being fought by three great powers.

It must not, however, be forgotten that when this war began Germany had the means of aggressive Austria as well as its own great army to fight Russia and France, because there was no army in the European sense in England. Our contemptible, our negligible army, as it was called, was not taken into the accounting of this war by Germany because it expected to be in Paris before we could have any army worth while in the field.

Above all things Great Britain has desired peace. It has had the greatest instrument of war in the world for over 100 years in its navy and no small nation has ever been crushed by it, no great power threatened by it. It has been the symbol of its power for the protection of the commerce of the world.

What territory does it expect to get? What territory does it want? None.

War for Freedom.

This war is a war for freedom. It is a war for the integrity and existence of small communities. When it is ended, if fortune be with the allies, there will be a readjustment of Europe in the interest of the separate nationalities.

The people of the United States are peace loving, but they have been through a great war and knew well that when Lincoln was harried and attacked by peace lovers, honest though they were, to call a treaty of peace in the midst of that conflict of the continent, Lincoln said he would fight it out to the end and settle the business once and for all, and Lincoln and Grant did it.

An agreement has been made by Russia, France and England that neither will make peace until this question of dominant militarism is settled by a peace secured when complete victory is won.

The world may be sure that having entered upon this business England will not rest, whatever the cost, until this issue is decided without any doubt.

DAY'S WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED.

That one of the most terrific battles of the war was staged yesterday on the River Aisne was the news given out last night by the allies' headquarters.

It was reported the Germans had been pushed back seven miles after several bayonet charges and many hand to hand clashes.

The British official press bureau said that the status of the battle, in which it is estimated 3,000,000 men are engaged, was without particular change except on the left wing.

No late statement was received from Berlin, but early in the day it was said there was no change.

Petrograd issued an official report which said the Russian general, Rennenkampff, had stopped an offensive movement of the Germans last Thursday and that the Germans at several points were retreating and taking up new positions. As regards the warfare in Galicia, the statement said the Austrians were still being pursued.

Rome reported that a rumor was in circulation there that bombs had been thrown in the Austrian arsenal at Pola and that mines which had not been placed by the Austrian authorities had been found in the canal leading to the arsenal.

The British war office issued another casualty list, which showed that British officers are still falling in large numbers on the battlefield.

Great Britain has received no proposal for peace from Germany or Austria, according to a message received by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador at Washington, from Sir Edward Grey.

TERMONDE RAZED BY GERMAN FIRE

Only Church and Hospital Left Standing; Belgians Still Harrying.

LONDON, Sept. 19, 3:40 a. m.—Reuter's Antwerp correspondent, telegraphing Friday, says:

"The Germans today completed the destruction of the town of Termonde (Dendermonde). The communal offices were bombarded and are in ruins. The church still stands, though its tower is damaged.

Says Hospital Was Spared.

"The hospital was spared, but all other public buildings and houses were destroyed."

Another Antwerp dispatch says the Belgians have destroyed the great railway bridge over the Dener river between Termonde and Brussels, and that the Germans retreating from France are being harried by the Belgians.

Belittle Belgian Actions.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—The operations in Belgium are not regarded as important. German movements are directed toward preventing sorties of the Belgian army which are designed to interfere with reinforcements sent to the battle line in France.

German troops are constantly passing through Liege bound for the southwest.

PATTI HELD A PRISONER.

Singer and Husband Released by Germans, However, and Reaches Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—Adelina Patti, the former opera singer, has arrived in Paris from Carlsbad, where, at the beginning of August, a threatening crowd surrounded the hotel at which she was stopping and shouted "down with the English and French." It was known that her sympathies were with the allies.

The singer was told by the police that she and her husband would have to consider themselves prisoners of war. They were detained for several weeks at the hotel. Every day a mob appeared before the hotel and shouted and hooted at them from the outside.

Finally the government allowed Mme. Patti and her husband to go.

PRESIDENT WAITS FOR POWERS TO ACT BEFORE HE PRESSES PEACE.

it will be the most important battle of the war and the result will have a great effect in clarifying the situation.

"It is no simple rear guard action, but a supreme conflict which will close the era of great German operations on French soil," he said.

A wounded French officer who has returned from the front says the battle became general early on the afternoon of Sept. 14. At first it was defensive on the part of the Germans, as it was evident they wished to stand pat while awaiting reinforcements. On the 15th the situation was marked by alternative advances and retirements without decisive result.

KAISER ATTACK REPULSED.

On the night of the 15th the Germans made a formidable effort, notably against the extreme left, where the English occupied the French left center.

Ten times they were repulsed and ten times they returned to the attack in a vain effort to break the allies' line. The engagements at this time, this officer said, "were the most murderous of any in which I assisted during the campaign."

"The German leaders," he added, "were desperately prodigal with the lives of their men, but nowhere had any permanent success.

"On the 16th the situation was unchanged and the night of the 16th was relatively calm. But at dawn on the 17th the allies took the offensive and drove the enemy back a dozen kilometers, taking 600 prisoners and capturing several uick firers."

HEAVY FIRE ON SOISSONS.

An inhabitant of Soissons describes the bombardment of that place which took place three times a day, from 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock in the morning, from noon to 2 o'clock, and from 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock. At these hours, when the whistling of the shells began to be heard, the inhabitants hid in caves in their houses till the two hours were up.

While the prefect of the Marne was walking in the town with a French general a shell exploded twenty paces away. "Twenty yards nearer," the general said, "that shell would have caused promotion in the army and the administration."

An English general, passing through the town, was bespattered by pieces of a shell. "By jove," he said, "this is certainly uncomfortable."

CITES ALLIES' SUCCESSES.

According to an official communication issued by the war office the allies have progressed somewhat on their western wing and are repulsing a vigorous German offensive movement.

This announcement was elaborated on tonight in a second communication which says:

"There is no change in the general situation, except that we have continued our progress on the left wing and that a lull in the battle is noticed."

ADMIT MAUBEUGE FALL.

The Times correspondent at Boulogne announces the fall of Maubeuge in the following dispatch:

"Maubeuge fell on Sept. 7. The investment began on Aug. 25. More than a thousand shells fell in one night near the railway station and the Rue de France was partially destroyed. The loss of life, however, was comparatively slight.

"At 11:50 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 7 a white flag was hoisted on the church tower and trumpets sounded 'cease firing,' but the firing only ceased at 3:08 o'clock that afternoon. In the meantime the greater part of the garrison succeeded in evacuating the town. The German forces marched in at 7:08 o'clock that evening."

FRANCE HAS 7,000,000 MEN.

The French government today issued decrees by which young men of less than 20 years are to be admitted as volunteers. This indicates that France has at last decided to put forth its full fighting strength. Properly carried out this new decree will mean that France will have at least 7,000,000 men to face the invaders, for the summoning of youth below 20 will add enough to the fighting ranks to bring the total up to more than one-sixth of the entire population.

Both Berlin and Paris agree that the German front has received considerable reinforcements during the last forty-eight hours, and these additional troops may turn the scale of battle.

Against them, however, Paris is able to assure its people that the French front has received great reinforcements and it is not doubted that the forces of the allies along the 150 miles front from Noyon to the west of Verdon are considerably in excess, numerically, of the German forces.

CONDITIONS ARE O. K.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company says regarding the battle of the Aisne:

"The information communicated by the general staff is considered satisfactory as showing that the allies' frontal attack is developing under favorable conditions and that the enemy's counter attacks are being repulsed.

"It must be realized, however, that the allies' gains necessarily are slow, owing to the enormous strength of the German fortified positions.

"It seems probable final success will be achieved by threatening the German communications rather than by carrying their positions by a frontal attack.

"Meanwhile it must not be imagined that the enemy's communications are so precarious as is generally supposed. So long as the Germans hold Tergnier and Laon they have at their disposal to replenish their supplies and munitions not only two lines of railway running across the Belgian province of Luxemburg and the department of Meuse, France, but also the Belgian railway system entering France by the way of Mons, St. Quentin, and Tergnier.

GERMAN TRENCHES STRONG.

"The German trenches to the north of Chalons-Sur-Marne are strong. They are more than three feet deep, with splinter screens every twenty yards, and resting places covered with house doors which are themselves covered with earth.

"The trenches consist of several parallel rows flanked by other trenches running at right angles and containing concealed machine guns. It is easy to understand that confronted by such obstacles the allies' advance is necessarily slow.

"It is understood that the British, French, and German governments have agreed to arrange for the exchange of prisoners through the agency of the United States government."

That the Germans are confident of ultimate success is indicated in the following dispatch from the Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News agency in Berlin:

"The situation of the German troops in the great battle on the western frontier is good, especially in the center, where the Germans have received substantial reinforcements. The end of the battle is expected soon."

ALLIES' STRENGTH FAILS?

BERLIN, Sept. 18, via wireless, by way of Sayville, L. I.—The following official statement has been given out by the headquarters of the German general staff:

"The battle between the Oise and the Meuse rivers still is continuing, but there are sure indications that the enemy's force is failing.

"The French attempt to cut through the German right wing was broken down without notable exertion on the German side. The German army is advancing slowly but surely.

"A sortie from Verdun on the right bank of the Meuse was most easily repulsed."

A courier just arrived from Brussels, bringing important dispatches, says the Belgians expect to see Brussels treated as was Louvain before the Germans evacuate the city. He asserts all the important public buildings, including the Palais de Justice, and the largest and most imposing private residences, already have been mined in preparation for blowing up, while the school houses and many other buildings have been filled with straw ready for the torch.

The courier says the Belgians think the Germans intend to make their principal stand on a line including Namur and Liege, as the forts and other defenses are being reconstructed. The Germans, he says, also seem to be preparing for a strong defense on the Valenciennes line, as a strong system of earthworks and intrenchments is being constructed there.

According to the courier the Germans seem now to be using Luxemburg for their principal line of communications for their armies in France.

The German troops achieved a noteworthy success today at Chateau Brimon, near Reims, where they captured 500 prisoners. The place was carried 24 FOREIGN SHIPS NOW UNDER AMERICAN REGISTRY.

Difficulty Met in But One Transfer, That of Robert Dollar at Rio Janeiro.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Twenty-four foreign built vessels with a total tonnage of 100,820 have been admitted to American registry under the new shipping law and customs collectors are acting on registers for twenty-seven additional ships of 106,360 aggregate tonnage.

Assistant Secretary Sweet of the department of commerce said tonight that difficulty had been met in effecting transfer in only one case, that of the British steamer Robert Dollar at Rio Janeiro. Delay in this case, he said, was only temporary and had been caused by a custom house error.

E. L. Chermont, counselor of the Brazilian embassy, inquired today of Solicitor Johnson at the state department if the American government had on record any precedent since the outbreak of the present war for the change in registry of merchant ships. Mr. Johnson cited the cases of the Niagara and Buffalo, which changed their flags at San Francisco.

FRENCH NURSE IS KILLED.

Mme. Adrienne Buhet, Head of Dames du Sacre Cœur, Reported Slain on Battlefield.

[By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The name of Mme. Adrienne Buhet, head of the Dames du Sacre Cœur, appears in a long list of names of those killed on a battlefield. She was struck by a bullet from a German machine gun as she was raising the head of a wounded soldier.

WILSON WILL NOT SOUND ALLIES ON TERMS FOR PEACE

Will Wait Until One of the Nations Officially Requests Action.

WOMEN URGE ON HIS WORK

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—President Wilson will not permit himself or the state department to be used as a catspaw to pull chestnuts out of the fire for any of the belligerent European nations.

The president is ready and eager to take any step that will bring cessation of the great war or even a temporary suspension of hostilities for the discussion of peace, but he is unwilling to be used by either of the parties to the quarrel as a means of gaining an advantage, moral or otherwise, over an adversary. He will resent any endeavor to involve the United States in diplomatic jockeying on the peace question.

This is the blunt statement of the latest phase of the peace situation as it developed here today. It represents the attitude of the president, which will be made known to the warring powers in more diplomatic form.

Wilson Puts His Foot Down.

It became known today that Mr. Wilson has put his foot down on the efforts being made to induce him to continue the submission of peace proposals to the belligerents on the basis of unauthorized statements that this or that combatant is willing to consider mediation.

Until he receives a definite official request to undertake mediation the president will ignore the subtle schemes to employ the United States as a medium of revealing the attitude of an adversary toward a settlement of the big international dispute.

In pursuance of this policy the president will not sound Great Britain, France, Russia, and Belgium concerning their willingness or unwillingness to discuss peace with Germany and Austria.

Mr. Wilson reiterated today that the German chancellor in formally acknowledging the state department's inquiry whether the kaiser would consider a peace proposal was extremely brief and entirely noncommittal on the question of mediation.

Pressure Brought on Wilson.

Extraordinary efforts have been made to convince the president that the message of the Grman chancellor should be construed as an intimation of the willingness of the kaiser to consider peace and as an indirect and informal request to the American government to approach the allies on the proposition.

It is known, however, that the president has fresh reason to proceed cautiously even in furthering a movement, the success of which is so greatly desired by the entire civilized world.

It appears that the allies harbor suspicions that Germany is pretending to be in favor of peace for the double purpose of causing President Wilson to elicit the allies' confidential plans in regard to a settlement of the war and of placing the allies in the position of refusing to end the carnage that is shocking the world.

Germans Also Suspicious.

The Germans have their suspicions also. They appear to think that the allies are seeking to discover through the medium of the United States what Germany would consider in the way of peace terms and also to elicit from Germany an admission that it is ready to quit.

Inasmuch as all parties to the struggle are acquainted both formally and informally with the earnest wish of the American nation to be the instrument of genuine mediation, the president feels that if his good offices are desired the next move in this direction should originate with one or more of the belligerents.

Moreover, the president desires to avoid any embarrassment which would cause any of the combatants to hesitate to turn to the American nation with a plea for the restoration of peace.

Refuses to See Chicagoan.

It is with this purpose always in view that Mr. Wilson is striving to maintain neutrality on a plane never conceived before. In pursuance of a stern devotion to this policy he refused today to receive Horace L. Brand of Chicago, publisher of the Illinois Staats Zeitung, who wished to present a protest against the charges of atrocities by the German troops which were submitted officially by the Belgian delegation.

Senator Lewis was unable to arrange an appointment for Mr. Brand, who left for Chicago this afternoon. The explanation given the senator at the White House was that it would be embarrassing to the president to receive a delegation of American citizens, even though they style themselves German-Americans, to protest against an official representation by the Belgian government.

The reception of American citizens for that purpose, it was pointed out, would be a violation of neutrality both by the delegation and by the president.

The president made it clear that he would receive Mr. Brand if he is a German subject desiring to present an official protest from the German government against the Belgian representations. But Mr. Brand said he is an American citizen.

Mr. Brand sent to the White House a petition signed by several thousand Germans in Illinois and neighboring states against the reception of the Belgian commission by the president. The president believes the signing of this petition by American citizens is inconsistent with a strict observation of neutrality. He may write Mr. Brand a letter setting forth his views on the conduct of American citizens, not only of German, but of French, English, Russian, and Austrian origin.

Women Plead for Peace.

President Wilson today received an appeal from women of all nations that he lead a movement to end the European war. It was carried to the White House by Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer of Hungary, secretary of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, who was presented by Senator Thomas.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt accompanied Mrs. Schwimmer. The total of those for whom the appeal was made was not less than 1,000,000 women of thirteen countries.

"The president told me he was thinking day and night about the possibility of peace in Europe," declared Mme. Schwimmer after her interview with Mr. Wilson. "He seemed to be deeply interested in the movement and said he would lose no opportunity of taking practical steps to end the war."

Friends Ask for Peace.

President Wilson was requested today by a delegation representing the general conference of Friends to initiate plans for the calling of a meeting of the nations for the formation of a world parliament for settlement of the war.

"A world parliament, with a world court, and a world police to enforce its decisions can maintain peace," the petition said.

ALLIES NOT FOR PEACE.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—From all sides today—in interviews, newspaper editorial comment, and gossip among the people—came an answer to news from Washington that Germany has suggested the allies be sounded in regard to peace. The answer is:

"There shall be no peace until the allies are victorious and Germany has been brought to its knees with the nightmare of Prussian militarism shattered."

The war is likened to the principles for which the north fought in the civil war.

The Daily Mail sees the interchange of views between Germany and the United States as "an attempt by the former to hoodwink the latter." In other quarters it is said that "America understands as well as Great Britain the motives that prompt the action of Germany."

German Papers Comment.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Berlin Kreuz Zeitung of Sept. 14, in a leading article, says:

"No hour is more ardently desired by us than that of the reckoning with England. History tells us that no words are so grewsome and so hard as those between people of the same race. So be it then. We must have satisfaction, and if ever a war should be regarded as a judgment of God, it is this one.

"We know and feel more every day that England is not unconquerable. We have seen its mercenaries in France fight and flee. We have noted the disparity between their killed and wounded and the numbers of those made prisoners. We know that the more England sends troops to the continent the more its position of military defenselessness must be accentuated.

"We know, as many instances have recently shown, that its ships approach and familiarize themselves with the place, whether in the Baltic or the North sea, from which we shall be able to drive a blow into the heart of the British empire.

"It should and must be, however, not merely retribution, but above all the facing of the question of which European power shall in the future exercise dominion on the sea and beyond the ocean.

"The one which remains victorious in this struggle holds the trident in his powerful fist. The trident in the German fist, however, will not be a symbol of domineering and of injury to foreign rights, but the sign of moderation, discipline, morality, and justice."

Comment by the Temps.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 18.—The reported project of mediation by the United States among the warring nations has elicited much public and newspaper comment here. Referring to a dispatch emanating from Berlin, according to which a conference to fix the basis of peace already has been summoned in Washington the Temps says:

"Germans, who are numerous in America, perhaps thought to be of service to their empire by stirring up opinion, but American opinion, like that of the English or the opinion of any other impartial country, sees through this game and has already given its verdict.

"There is a disaster greater than war. A hasty, deceptive peace would give only a breathing space which would enable German militarism to prepare its revenge and a war worse than the present."

Austria Scouts Peace.

ROME, via Paris, Sept. 18.—An Austrian official denial from Vienna that any initiative toward peace has been taken by Austria is causing much comment here, because it contains no assurance that peace would be concluded together with Germany. The Austro-German treaty originally contained a clause specifying that the two countries should act eciprocally.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW RIDES ON TRAIN'S RUNNING BOARD

Former Senator Tells How He Got to Boulogne in His Flight from Europe.

New York, Sept. 18.—Chauncey M. Depew, former United States senator for New York, arrived from Liverpool today on the Baltic.

"I was in Geneva when the trouble began," he said. "After crossing the border into France we picked up men joining the colors on the way to Paris, until our train could hold no more.

"Whenever I stuck my head into a corridor the soldiers would set up a cheer on seeing my side whiskers. They mistook me for an Englishman and cried: 'Long live the entente cordial.'

"We stayed in Paris a week and then left for Boulogne. We were obliged to crowd into a coach as best we could. I sat on the running board all the way."

FRENCHMAN WINS AIR DUEL.

Pilot Succeeds in Maneuvering Above German Flier, Who Is Mortally Wounded by Revolver.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The newspapers today related the story of an air duel between a French aviator and a German airman at an unnamed place during a battle. After long maneuvering the Frenchman succeeded in ascending above the German. Both men used revolvers. The German was seriously wounded and his machine turned over, falling among British troops. He was dead when picked up.

AUSTRIAN ENVOY BRANDS RUSSIAN REPORTS FALSE

Recites Contradictory News as Proof Armies Have Not Met Disaster.

CAMPAIGNS ARE DEFENSIVE

New York, Sept. 18.—Dr. Konstantin Dumba, Austrian ambassador to the United States, today issued the following statement:

"I am compelled to protest most emphatically against the false reports sent via London from Rome, Milan, Geneva, Copenhagen, and St. Petersburg about the Austrian campaign in Russian Poland and Galicia. To quote some of these reports purporting to come from official sources:

"'The Austrians lost since the battles of Lemberg 350,000 dead and wounded and 100,000 prisoners.' But we hear that immediately afterwards 'the Austrian generals, Dankl and Auffenberg, who had to retreat from Russian Poland, succeeded in uniting and rallying for a new fight.'

Says Reunion Controverts Losses.

"I do not think that anybody endowed with a little common sense can for one moment believe that an army of 1,000,000, having lost 450,000 men, would be able immediately to rally for a new fight.

"Then, again, 'The backbone of the Austrian army in Galicia was utterly broken after the fall of Lemberg, it practically no longer existed, so that the dreaded Cossacks had the cohice between a rush to Budapest to join hands with the Serbs and the announced onslaught to Berlin via Breslau.'

"What in reality happened is this: The Austro-Hungarian troops from the beginning had to wage in eastern Galicia a defensive war against great odds. After repeated engagements, they fell back on their strong line of defense under the protection of the first class fortress of Przemysl.

"The advance of our northern and central army to Lublin and to the river Bog, although finally checked and repulsed, achieved its end to arrest the progress of a huge Russian army in the direction of Thorn and Breslau and to relieve the enormous pressure brought to bear by Rennenkampf's army on two or three German army corps left to defend East Prussia.

"Here the Russian invasion recently resulted in defeat and disaster.

Loss of Galicia Unimportant.

"As to the central Russian army, with the fortress of Brest-Litowsk to lean upon, its onslaught on the Prussian provinces of Silesia and Posen is far from imminent, as the Polish territory on the left bank of the Vistula occupied by German troops must be first conquered. The only tangible result of the Russian victories is the occupation of eastern Galicia, a flat, open country, without any strategical positions, which had to be given up to the enemy, as everybody knew in Austria.

"The general staff of the dual monarchy, on the other hand, announced, as a result of four weeks' fighting, the capture of 41,000 Russian prisoners and of 300 guns."

APPEALS TO U. S. TO AID BELGIANS

NATIVES LOSE HOMES.

New York, Sept. 18.—Mme. Vandervelde, wife of the Belgian minister of state, reached New York today aboard the Cretic with an appeal to the men and women of America for aid for the people of Belgium whose homes have been laid waste by war.

Mme. Vandervelde was ill when the vessel docked and declined to see interviewers, but from her cabin she sent the following statement:

"Mme. Vandervelde, wife of the Belgian minister of state, has come to the United States from Antwerp to appeal to the generosity of the great American democracy on behalf of her countrymen—men and women—whose land has been ravished by the horrors of war through no fault of their own and thousands of whom are now destitute.

Thousands Lose Their All.

"Thousands have lost all they had, land, houses, farms, money, and the very tools with which they got their daily bread. Thousands are even without clothing and have become wanderers and outcasts.

"Mme. Vandervelde wishes to tell the American people what she has seen herself—the stream of refugees leaving Malines, the bombardment, the murderous raids of the Zeppelins, and the story of the burning of Louvain. She wishes to tell them also of the sublime courage of the Belgian people.

"A few hours before she left Antwerp King Albert of Belgium sent his secretary to Mme. Vandervelde to wish her good luck and to tell her that the king approves her intention of appealing for help for the Belgian refugees to the people of America.

Queen Approves Mission.

She brings with her the following letter from Queen Elizabeth:

"'Her majesty, the queen, wishes to tell you that she approves your project of putting before public opinion in England and the United States the sufferings which the German invasion has inflicted upon our peaceful population.

"'Five of our provinces are devastated and thousands of families driven out of their houses at this moment without homes. It is deserving well of one's country and of humanity to try to help them.

"'Best wishes of the queen accompany you to these two countries, which love to give help to those in distress.'

"Mme. Vandervelde implores the American people to help Belgium to repatriate all these poor people, to start them again in life in new homes.

"Their sufferings are unutterably terrible, and hundreds of the bread winners, fathers, husbands, and sons, have been killed in the war.

"Is it not right and fitting that those who can help should do so at this moment? Mme. Vandervelde is convinced that her cry for help will be heard."

GERMAN ARMY NOT A "BUBBLE" AS BRITISH ADVERTISED BEFORE WAR OPENED.

FREES GERMANS OF BRUTALITIES LAID TO THEM

John T. McCutcheon Holds They Are Innocent of Atrocities in Belgium.

GREAT ARMY NO 'BUBBLE'

BY JOHN T. M'CUTCHEON.

(Copyright: 1914: By The Tribune Company.)

AACHEN (Aix-la-Chapelle), Sept. 2.—When I left London for Brussels on Aug. 17 the London papers were filled with stories of German defeats and German atrocities. The news came from French and Belgian sources.

No news came out of Germany. There was a blank wall of silence screening that nation from the rest of the world and to all purposes Germany was terra incognita, as completely isolated as if it were in the heart of Asia instead of the heart of Europe.

No correspondents were with the German army and there was no medium by which the Germans could counteract or disprove the stories of horrifying German atrocities which were flooding the world.

READ FALSE REPORTS.

As I read the London papers in the middle of August I thought the Germans were being repulsed with frightful losses and that Belgium was performing the miracle of stopping the kaiser's wonderful military machine which the world has been regarding as so mighty and so invincible.

The stories of German atrocities were so revolting that one was astounded that the German character could have undergone such a change in so few days, that the nation which had been so completely a home loving and sentimental one could in a few days have reverted to the practices of barbarism. It seemed unbelievable.

From these first reports, so entirely discreditable to German military valor as well as to German civilization, one was justified in believing and hoping that in a very short time the armies of France, Belgium, England, and Russia would crush the German empire and bring the German emperor to a realization of the insane folly of his course.

That was barely three weeks ago.

LEARNS OTHER SIDE.

By a combination of circumstances as unexpected as they were unplanned I have been given a chance to see the other side of the story.

I have been with the German army for nearly two weeks and have seen at close range the marvelous discipline and precision of the most wonderful military machine that the world has ever known.

In that time from Louvain to the French frontier at Beaumont there has not been a single instance of wanton brutality which has come under my observation.

The widely disseminated stories of German atrocities were found to be groundless, and I am sincerely convinced, after my association with and observation of the officers and private soldiers of the German columns with which I have traveled, that no army could go through hostile country with fewer exhibitions of brutality.

Regardless of one's opinion as to the justness or unjustness of the German cause, it seems only fair that this statement be made in refutation of the stories of German brutality which have flooded the world.

HEARS OF GERMAN REVERSES.

I also found in Brussels when I first arrived there astounding stories of Belgian valor and more astounding ones in which battalions of German soldiers were being hurled back or wiped out thousands at a time by the defenders of the frontier.

Defeat after defeat of the Germans was chronicled until one came to believe that the widely advertised strength of the German army was like a bubble which was being pricked by a smaller power, much as the Russian bubble was pricked by Japan.

I remembered seeing in a London magazine an article "The German Military Bubble—Who Will Prick It?" The article, which was written by a military man, claimed that in maneuvers the German army was marvelous, that the action of every officer and man was regulated by rules which would work beautifully in times of peace but which would inevitably break down in times of war.

The article proved conclusively that the German army was a bubble waiting to be pricked.

TEUTONS CELEBRATE.

Tonight as I sit here in this German city I can hear the bands playing patriotic German songs, and hear a great chorus of voices singing in the street below. The people are celebrating the wonderful succession of victories which have attended their armies thus far in the east and the west.

The events that are taking place do not seem to indicate that the German army is a bubble, or that, even with the tremendous odds against which it is fighting, it will be defeated. As a German officer said: "We have no word for 'retreat' in our army. The soldier either goes forward or dies trying to go forward."

Or as a German citizen said today: "We cannot be defeated. We are fighting for our national existence and must win."

This is the spirit that animates the army and the nation today, and when one has seen the army in the field and has observed the almost religious belief in the justness of their cause one cannot escape being profoundly impressed by it.

WAS PREPARED FOR WAR.

That Germany has considered war with France as inevitable sooner or later is always evident. The Germans have been preparing for it for years, feeling that it was bound to come.

They have worked out the details of their army equipment to a degree that is amazing. The same careful minds that have evolved siege guns that fire dynamite shells five feet high and fourteen inches in diameter such as were used at Liege have worked out the apparently insignificant but really important detail of having two sets of suspended buttons on the trousers of the soldier, so that the failure to function of one set need not delay the man in his onward marching. Details have been worked out to microscopic fineness.

The color of the German uniforms is one which blends in the landscape so that it is almost invisible at a distance of a few hundred yards. In tragic contrast to this is the French uniform, a cumbersome long blue coat and red trousers which make the wearer visible three times as far away as that of the German soldier.

FRENCH BADLY EQUIPPED.

The haversack and equipment of the French soldier is equally inferior to that of the German, whose equipment has been worked out with scientific precision to a point where the very last degree of durability and compactness has been secured.

"While the French have been singing the Marseillaise we've been thinking," remarked a German officer in commenting upon the inferiority of the French uniform and equipment to that of the German.

The French have clung to the old fashioned long tailed blue coat and red trousers, although knowing a change to a modern and more serviceable uniform was imperative. In consequence the French soldier is a target as soon as he is in sight, which is long before the gray, dust colored German uniform is visible.

The same thoroughness which the German empire has applied to the extension and development of its commerce has been applied to the perfecting of its military machine. As the one has grown, so has the other, and by the same painstaking, persistent application. No detail, however small, has been overlooked. There seems never to be a missing strap or a defective buckle.

URGES QUIZ INTO WAR 'ATROCITIES' BY 3 U.S. JURISTS

LONDON, Sept. 18.—An inquiry by American jurists into the allegations of German disregard of the rules of civilized warfare is suggested by the Weekly Spectator in its current issue.

"Undoubtedly American jurists would command most general confidence," the Spectator says. "We cannot ask President Wilson or the American government to appoint such a committee of inquiry. They would naturally be afraid of annoying the German government by so doing and of imperilling that strict, nay anxious, neutrality which they desire to maintain in the case of the German empire.

Can Be Privately Invited?

"We do not see, however, why the French, British, and Belgian governments should not privately invite three American jurists of high distinction to undertake the work of discovering whether the Germans have respected and are respecting the agreement made at The Hague in 1899 and 1907, and also those rules of civilized warfare which generally are respected by belligerents and to report whether any infringement of these conventions and these rules have been made by military order or whether such cases of inhumanity as have taken place were due merely to the soldiery having got out of hand and that the responsible officers did their best, even if ineffectively, to check the unauthorized action.

Wilson Would Not Forbid?

"President Wilson could hardly forbid Americans to conduct such an inquiry.

The spectator takes exception to the suggestion of Lord Selborne that Dutch jurists should join with the Americans on the ground that the Dutch people stand today in the grip of Germany and that it would not be fair to ask Dutch jurists by their action to expose their country to the risk of bringing upon it the fate that has overtaken Belgium.

CANADA RUSHES TO BUY WHEAT IN UNITED STATES.

Lake Exports from Chicago in Two Months Twice Greater than All in Past Six Years.

The European war has brought about an enormous increase in Chicago's wheat exports to Canada by way of the great lakes. Figures compiled by Chicago customs officials yesterday show that twice as much wheat was exported from Chicago to Canada in July and August this year as during the entire six years from 1908 to 1913 inclusive.

The total wheat exports for July, August, and the first ten days of September this year amounted to 21,069,960 bushels. This was valued at $19,360,114. In the six year period used for comparison only 10,665,449 bushels valued at $10,707,194 were exported to Canada by lake carriers.

The figures were compiled by R. C. McCreary, head of the marine department of the custom house, for Rivers McNeill, collector of customs.

Figures for the six year period follow:

	Bu. exported.	Value.
1908	1,786,625	$1,741,023
1909	3,406,168	3,781,478
1910	588,082	615,731
1911	879,700	851,846
1912	581,000	578,990
1913	2,875,724	2,133,860

Prior to the outbreak of the European war wheat sold for 80 cents a bushel on the average. Since the beginning of the war the price has ranged between $1.10 and $1.25.

BRITISH NOTABLES KILLED.

Official Casualty List Includes Lord John Hamilton and the Hon. H. L. Pelham.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A casualty list issued tonight contains the names of Lord John Hamilton of the Irish guards, brother of the Duke of Abercorn, and the Hon. H. L. Pelham of the Sussex regiment, a brother of Earl Chichester, among the killed. The Hon. H. P. Brown of the Coldstream guards, brother of Viscount Castlerosse, is among the wounded.

KAISER EXPECTED BRITISH REVOLT, ASQUITH HOLDS

LONDON, Sept. 18.—One of the roots of the present war was the grave and serious miscalculation regarding the British empire that German culture and German spirit led Emperor William and the German people into, said Premier Asquith tonight in addressing a recruiting meeting at Edinburgh, Scotland.

The Germans were led into the miscalculation, he said, that the British colonies wanted to cut connections with the mother country, and that India was in revolt.

"What a fantastic dream and what a rude awakening," exclaimed the premier.

It has been proved that Germany, by her own deliberate act, made war, Mr. Asquith continued, adding that Germany has made no attempt to controvert that fact except by the circulation of wanton falsehoods. It is in the interest not only of the British empire but of civilization, the speaker declared, that the arrogant claim of a single power to dominate the destinies and development of Europe should be resisted.

RUSSIA BLAMES GERMANY IN ITS "ORANGE BOOK"

HOLDS KAISER UNYIELDING

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—There has just been received in London a copy of the Russian orange book, giving the Russian diplomatic correspondence from the time of the Austrian ultimatum to Servia to the beginning of the war. This correspondence undertakes to show Russia's efforts to prevent war and Germany's determination that war should follow the Austrian ultimatum, and not only Germany's failure, but its refusal to take any steps that might prevent war.

The first dispatch in the book is from the Russian chargé d'affaires at Belgrade to the foreign minister at St. Petersburg, telling of the ultimatum and saying that Servia solicited the aid of Russia, as the Servian government could not accept the Austrian demands. This was on July 23. The next day Sazonow, the foreign minister, instructed the Russian chargé d'affaires at Vienna to ask Count Berchtold to prolong the forty-eight hour time limit to Servia in order to give the powers time to smooth out the complications.

Plea Made to Austria.

The dispatch said as Austria was willing to inform the powers of the results of the inquiry upon which the ultimatum was based, "it ought, therefore, to give them time to consider them. A refusal to prolong the terms of the ultimatum would deprive of all weight the proceeding of the Austro-Hungarian government toward the powers and would be in contradiction of the very basis of the international relation."

The Russian representatives in England, Germany, Italy, and France were told to urge those countries to make similar representations to Vienna. On the same day the Russian chargé at Berlin telegraphed that all Berlin papers welcomed with great sympathy the energetic tone of Austria, while the official Lokal Anzeiger was particularly aggressive, and stigmatized as superfluous appeals of Servia to St. Petersburg, Paris, Athens, and Bucharest.

Russian Proposal Refused.

On July 25 the Russian chargé at Vienna telegraphed that Count Berchtold was away, but his representative said he could predict with certainty the count's categorical refusal of Russia's proposal for delay and a few hours later his refusal was formally given by Austria. On the same day the chargé in Berlin telegraphed he was unable to induce Germany to bring pressure on Austria for a delay. England, on the other hand, as shown by a telegram from the ambassador in London, not only worked hard for the extension of the ultimatum, but suggested that if the time limit were not extended the result might be obtained by Austrian delay in beginning hostilities if Servia refused the ultimatum.

By this time Russia considered the situation so serious that Sazonow telegraphed to the ambassador in London on July 25: "In case of a fresh aggravation of the situation, provoking corresponding acts on the part of the great powers, we rely upon England in not delaying to take its stand clearly with Russia and France, so as to maintain European equilibrium in support of which it has constantly intervened and which would undoubtedly be compromised in the event of the triumph of Austria."

Germany Sustains Austria.

Benckendorff replied that Grey "has told me the German ambassador declares Germany absolutely sustains the Austrian demand, asking at the same time if England would consent to act at St. Petersburg in the spirit of conciliation." Grey replied that it was absolutely impossible and that England reserved for itself complete liberty of action if Austrian mobilization compelled Russian mobilization and thereby all the great powers become involved.

Benckendorff telegraphed again later the same day:

"Grey has told the German ambassador that in his opinion Austrian mobilization would involve mobilization of Russia and that then would arise the acute danger of general war, and that he saw only one means of pacific solution—that in the presence of the Austrian and Russian mobilizations Germany, France, Italy, and England should abstain from immediate mobilization and tender their good offices at once.

"Grey told me that this plan necessitated above all the agreement of Germany and the undertaking of that power not to mobilize. Consequently he has sent an immediate question to Berlin on this subject."

On July 26 Sazonow telegraphed the Russian ambassador in Italy to urge and attempt to exercise influence over Austria and adopt an attitude "strictly unfavorable to the conflict, for this latter cannot be localized." The dispatch said: "It is desirable for you to express the conviction that it is impossible for Russia not to come to the aid of Servia."

On the same day Russia learned of the Austrian mobilization and Sazonow telegraphed the chargé in Vienna to urge the Austrian government to authorize the ambassador in St. Petersburg to enter into an exchange of views for mutual revision of some provisions of the ultimatum to Servia. The dispatch says, "Please explain the sense of this telegram prudently and amicably to the minister of foreign affairs."

Germany was asked to advise Vienna to accept this proposition. On the same day the French minister of foreign affairs asked the German ambassador in Paris if England, Germany, Italy, and France could not make representations to St. Petersburg and Vienna, as the affair had at last resolved itself into a conflict between Russia and Austria, but the German ambassador replied he could not act as he had no instructions.

Effort for Peace Cited.

On July 27 Sazonow telegraphed Benckendorff in London: "The English ambassador has suggested that if we think it useful, England will take the initiative or convoking in London of a conference of representatives of England, France, Germany, and Italy, to seek a way out of the situation. I answered the ambassador that I had entered into a conversation with the Austro-Hungarian ambassador under conditions that I hope were favorable.

"However, I have not yet received a reply to the proposal that I made of a revision of the note by the two cabinets. If direct explanations of the cabinet in Vienna cannot be realized, I am willing to accept the English proposal or any other capable of solving the problem favorably."

The uncompromising attitude of Germany still was more strongly shown by a telegram from the Russian chargé at Paris on July 27, which said, "German ambassador has strongly insisted on the exclusion of all possibility of mediation or conference."

Mediation Again Sought.

Then followed a plea for further mediatory action by England and another plea for a four power conference. France's determination to stand by Russia then was learned. Germany's threat to mobilize if Russia did not cease was received.

The Russian foreign minister then advised the ambassador at Paris that Germany's demand meant war, although before giving the German ambassador his passports he had offered to desist in mobilization if Austria would conciliate.

Returns Home to Confirm Charges of Atrocities by Germans.

FOUGHT IN FOUR BATTLES

New York, Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Paul Vanderveide, who served for thirty-four days as a lieutenant of ordnance in the Belgian army, fought in four battles, and says that he saw the results of German atrocities, was a passenger on the White Star liner Cretic, which arrived here today.

"I am really a citizen of Dallas, Tex.," said Mr. Vanderveide. "But I was born in Belgium and did my military service there before coming to this country. As I was in Antwerp when the war started, I volunteered.

"I served thirty-four days and fought at Liege, Haelen, Haughton, St. Marguerite, and Tirlemont. In the fight at Haelen my ammunition train lost fifty cars and three men were killed when we were supplying artillery located near the small village of Vettyk.

"I can assure you from what I have actually seen myself that the Germans have been guilty of atrocities. Towns were burned with absolutely no excuse. The village of Sempst with only 4,000 inhabitants, for instance, was burned down.

DENEEN FACTION CONTROLS G. O. F. CONVENTION.

WILSON "MAGIC" RULES DEMOCRAT "HARMONY MEET"

Rainey and Dunne Unite in Praising Sullivan Into Senate.

ROGER C. IN KEYNOTE

was reëlected chairman and Isaac B. Craig of Mattoon was elected secretary. Earnest Hoover is treasurer.

The convention witnessed the spectacle of the governor denouncing as a "traitor to the Democratic party" any Democrat in Illinois who does not vote for Roger C. Sullivan in November. It heard Gov. Dunne formally and deliberately place Mr. Sullivan ahead of Raymond Robins and Lawrence Y. Sherman as a more desirable representative of the people at Washington.

It was a day of triumph for the biscuit man, too. When the convention was not cheering President Wilson it was applauding the mention of Sullivan's name, which was not infrequent. His formal speech was well received and moved State Senator Duff Piercy of Mount Vernon, one of the original Wilson-Bryan leaguers, to stand up and tell the convention that "with this address ringing in our ears no Democrat should lack confidence in the result in November."

Congressman Henry T. Rainey of Carrollton, temporary chairman of the convention, fresh from Washington with authoritative messages from the national party leaders, keynoted Mr. Sullivan into the senate.

Sullivan Proud of Choice.

Mr. Sullivan followed Congressman Rainey. He opened with an expression of pride at being the first Democratic candidate nominated by the direct vote of the people.

Having discussed in detail the eighteen months since the election of President Wilson, which he termed "months of accomplishment, of efficiency, of real progress," Mr. Sullivan referred to pending and prospective legislation.

"But the constructive work of the Democratic national administration is only fairly begun," he said. "Our party is pledged further, and the pledges will be fulfilled.

"Laws to stop the criminal practices of 'big business' are on the eve of attainment. If they are not passed before I get to Washington, they will have my vote. They are not laws to interfere with honest business, not laws to hamper it nor disturb it; but laws to drive out rascality and to put the business of the country upon a sound and permanent basis.

The Merchant Marine.

"Another piece of constructive legislation that will engage my earnest personal efforts is that for an American merchant marine. The crops of our Prairie state should be carried to the markets of the world in ships that fly the American flag; our manufactured products should go with the crops.

"There is still another piece of constructive work, nearer home, that I will undertake to further. Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, and other states in our immediate territory are benefited by good roads in Illinois, as Illinois is benefited by good roads in those states. The federal government spends millions of dollars yearly on river and harbor improvement, much of it of doubtful value. A tithe of the amount so spent, if laid out upon our highways, would materially reduce the cost of marketing our products, to the advantage of the worker, the manufacturer, and particularly the farmer."

His Own Candidacy.

Mr. Sullivan closed with a reference to his own race.

"I believe that I can render to the president effective aid," he said. "The Democrats of Illinois have declared that they believe I can. Upon this question of sustaining President Wilson and the Democratic national administration I am going to the people, along with my fellow Democrats who have been nominated for congress. I know there can be but one answer. It will be given—it must be given—by a majority that will mark the high tide of patriotic citizenship in Illinois."

Dunne Mentions Bryan.

Gov. Dunne's was the third keynote speech of the convention. He briefly reviewed the national administration record, declaring it to be one of the most illustrious in the nation's history.

He also was the only man in the convention to mention Mr. Bryan's name, referring to him as the "great peace loving secretary of state," which brought forth applause.

With reference to the recent primary battle and the attitude of himself and his friends on the Sullivan candidacy Gov. Dunne said:

"Every true Democrat is permitted and has the right to express his convictions before the primary election is held and to endeavor to influence his fellow Democrats in the selection of candidates, but every true Democrat is bound to acquiesce in the will of the majority as expressed at the polls.

"At no time in the history of the Democratic party is it more incumbent upon Democrats to be loyal to the party nominees than at the coming election.

"Let us, therefore, pull off our coats and get to work for the success of this whole ticket from Roger C. Sullivan, the candidate for the United States senatorship, down to the last man upon the state and county tickets."

Platform Lauds Wilson.

The platform adopted pays this tribute to the president:

"The Democratic party of Illinois, represented in its state convention, congratulates the nation upon the incomparable record achieved by Democracy under the inspiring leadership of President Wilson.

"Within the brief period of eighteen months the Democratic national administration has taken up and triumphantly dealt with a varied, complex, and portentous series of problems, situations, and conditions without parallel since the nation was born."

Recommendations of Platform.

Further, the platform declares for the following:

That members of congress be elected who will uphold the policies of President Wilson.

That the next state legislature provide for a constitutional convention to deal with woman's suffrage, initiative and referendum, revenue reform, and the short ballot.

Favoring abolition of the state board of equalization.

Favoring reapportionment of the state.

That all interest on public funds be turned into the public treasuries.

That immediate legislation be enacted for the control and regulation of private banks.

That judicial officers be elected at a time when no other offices are to be filled.

That amendments be made to the civil service laws and extension of civil service to the Chicago sanitary district and the employés of Cook county.

The convention's session was held in the armory. Gov. Dunne was permanent chairman.

Lewis and Stringer Wire.

Telegrams were read from Senator Lewis and Congressmen Stringer, Graham, Hill, McAndrews, Stone, Williams, Fowler, Gorman, and Foster, congratulating the party in Illinois on the results of the primary election and exhorting all Democrats to pull their coats and work for the entire ticket, "from Roger C. Sullivan down to the last man."

The convention nominated for state university trustees the following: Robert R. Ward, Benton; Robert F. Carr, Highland Park; Henry Huttman, Chicago.

At the organization meeting of the state committee tonight Arthur W. Charles was reëlected chairman and Isaac B. Craig of Mattoon was elected secretary. Ernest Hoover is treasurer.

DENEEN FORCES ELECT CHAIRMAN AT CONVENTION

Garrett de Forrest Kinney of Peoria Named Head of Republican Committee.

RALLY IS A PEACEFUL ONE

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Illinois Republicans held a peaceable state convention today. It was preceded by a curtain raiser, in which the Deneen and Sherman forces went to a showdown in the meeting of the new state committee.

The candidate for state chairman, Garrett De Forrest Kinney of Peoria, backed by former Gov. Deneen and nine out of the ten Cook county members of the state committee, was elected. Col. Frank L. Smith of Dwight, himself a candidate, cast the decisive vote which elected Kinney. L. L. Emmerson of Mount Vernon was the Sherman candidate.

Meeker Meets Defeat.

The Sherman people retaliated in part later in the day by helping to defeat Arthur Meeker, the Chicago packer, for one of the nominations for trustee of the University of Illinois. Mr. Meeker was defeated on a roll call by 226 votes by Dr. J. T. Montgomery of Charleston, president of the state board of agriculture.

Dr. Montgomery's candidacy was engineered chiefly by former Speaker Charles Adkins of Monticello. It had the personal assistance of former Congressman William B. McKinley of Champaign. Dr. Montgomery is already an ex-officio member of the board of trustees as president of the state fair board. In certain issues which had been raised he has been known as an active opponent of policies advocated by President James of the university.

For University Trustees.

The convention nominated for trustees of the University of Illinois Mrs. Laura B. Evans of Taylorville, A. P. Grout of Winchester, and Dr. J. T. Montgomery of Charleston. Mrs. Evans is a retiring trustee. Mr. Grout is a former trustee, defeated for reëlection in the 1912 landslide.

It listened to the formal western opening of the Republican national campaign by Senator Borah of Idaho, who attacked President Wilson's policies and the record of the present Democratic congress.

It adopted a state platform in which the striking features are the unequivocal declaration for unlimited suffrage, which Mrs. Thomas H. Byrnes of Chicago worked for, and a much-tempered declaration which might be construed as favorable to a constitutional convention. Senator Sherman was for a straightaway pro-convention declaration.

Platform Indicts Democrats.

The platform makes a stinging indictment of the Democratic administration as to all national affairs. It emphasizes the alleged weakness of the Democratic state administration in Illinois, pointing to the increase in the state tax rate from 35 to 70 cents, to the alleged attempt of the Democrats to abolish civil service, and the general breakdown of good government which is charged to Democratic officials of both the state and nation.

As to State Issues.

As to the particular state issues the platform says:

"The Republican party pledges itself, if restored to power, to work for the following reform, which it believes to be of paramount importance in the legislative and administrative work of the state:

"The enactment of a comprehensive corrupt practices act applicable to all public offices.

"The extension of civil service principles to all branches of the state service.

"A comprehensive reform of our state revenue system to the end that the burdens of taxation may be justly and equitably distributed.

"The granting of unlimited suffrage to women voters.

"The amendment or revision of the state constitution to the end that much needed reforms which are prevented, hampered, or delayed by the restrictive provision of the present state constitution may be obtained most easily, most quickly, and most completely.

"We reaffirm the platform adopted by the Republican state convention in 1910 and the platform of the Republican national convention of 1912 in reference to trust and private monopolies.

"The Illinois' Farmers' institute has always been a nonpolitical organization for the advancement of farm life and farming.

"The Republican party views with regret any attempt to hamper its work or lessen its usefulness and pledges to restore it to its former place and to keep it unhampered and free from political domination or control."

Borah Boomed for President.

Senator Borah was seen by the bulk of the delegates as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1916, and his speech received careful attention.

Referring to Col. Roosevelt, Senator Borah suggested that as a river discoverer, "the colonel could help a lot by locating some of the rivers which are named in the pork barrel bill."

"The rivers and harbors bill now pending," Senator Borah said, "is naked, unadorned, impudent, and insolent graft; no more, no less."

Senator Sherman followed Senator Borah. His point was that the Democratic party has violated every pledge of importance made to the people and is unworthy of further confidence.

Borah Denounces Democrats.

"The Democratic party is depending for its salvation from defeat this fall on two things," saidd Senator Borah, "the war in Europe and the division in the Republican ranks. Up to three weeks ago Democratic leaders admitted the outlook was dark and were on the defensive. With the advent of war they took renewed hope."

Senator Borah denounced gag rule, he said, as exemplified in the caucus methods of the Democrats in congress, and declared the machine which dominated legislation there was the most perfect and most relentless Washington ever has seen.

He said the only matters which caused the split at Chicago in 1912, the domination of the national committee and the excessive number of southern delegates, had been remedied by the action of the new national committee and the preferential primary laws, and made an urgent plea for the return of Republicans to the fold.

"If the Republican gains in the remaining states show anything like the percentage of gain in Maine, the next congress will be Republican and practically every Republican candidate for governor in the north will be elected."

Sherman Flails Tariff.

Senator Sherman said:

"The Republican party of Illinois and the country believes in the principle of protection as absolutely essential to the maintenance of living wages for the workingmen of our country and the indispensable foundation of American agricultural and industrial independence and prosperity.

"The Republican party believes in a tariff commission to gather correct information. This will be applied in making tariff rates to meet changing conditions.

It will legislate thereby on the state of production and market.

"It will not emulate the Democratic party in legislating on the lack of knowledge and loose conjecture that guided it in passing the Wilson-Underwood tariff act.

"The river and harbor bill that recently passed the Democratic house and is now pending in the senate is the result of shameless bargaining between local interests in large part having no relation to the public welfare. I condemn it and the practice of log rolling that creates such bills.

Scores Colombia Treaty.

"The Democratic administration has sent to the United States senate, with its approval, a proposed treaty with Colombia. I oppose the ratification of the proposed treaty and condemn the administration at Washington for the betrayal of both the honor and the interests of the American people embodied in that measure.

"The Democratic party declared in 1912 that the constitutional rights of American citizens should protect them on our borders and go with them throughout the world. We compare this campaign promise with the Democratic performance. At no time in the history of our country have the rights of persons and property of American citizens been more insecure or hazardous than now."

After the test of strength in the state committee this morning all belligerency was dissipated. Louis L. Emmerson, the Sherman candidate for state chairman, was the temporary chairman of the convention. Col. Frank L. Smith was the permanent chairman.

Socialists Also Adopt State Platform with Two New Planks at Convention Yesterday.

Three candidates for university trustees were nominated and the state platform was adopted yesterday at the state Socialist convention held in the Socialist headquarters at 184 West Washington street.

Those nominated were Mrs. Winnie Branstetter and Miss Josephine Konger-Kaneko of Chicago and Miss Luella Spargo of Canton.

The regular Socialist platform was adopted with the addition of two new planks. One of these indorsed the proposition to hold a state constitutional convention. The other advocated the passage of a state law limiting inheritances to $100,000 and forbidding the bequeathing of money to others than relatives.

Fathers and Mothers
You Have a Mighty Moral Obligation

DID it ever occur to you that you owe your children the very best opportunity for development at your command? You cannot give your children the full advantages and the opportunites for healthy development they should have when you house them in a crowded flat with the only sunlight coming through a court less than 10 feet square; where there is no chance for them to play except in the street and no opportunity of healthy physical development.

Don't deceive yourself a day longer. You can have a home in the country with beautiful environment where you and your children will have plenty of light and air and all of the things that make life worth living; where the little ones can play and romp in the grass and where you can have beautiful flower gardens, can raise chickens, have fresh milk and where you will have some real neighbors living just as you will live—in short, where the whole family can have all the conveniences of the city and at the same time get away from its many disadvantages.

Half acre lots within 10 minutes' walk of station as low as........... (Easy Terms) $350

$10 DOWN—$5 A MONTH

This beautiful subdivision is but 35 minutes from the Loop with suburban service on the Northwestern Railroad. It contains 285 acres divided into Real City Lots, and right here we wish to draw an analogy:

Did you ever think of what constitutes a city lot? In some cities 20x100 feet is called a lot. In and around Chicago there are more 25x125 foot lots than any other size. Some generous subdividers have made their lots as large as 30x125 feet, and boast about the largeness of their lots and their generousness in making them so large. A few of these so called big lots are offered as low as $50; the greatest portion of them are priced all the way up to $1,000 or more.

The owner of Desplaines Manor cut up this property into 453 pieces and parcels—an average of more than a half acre for each lot.

Stop and think! It costs the subdivider just as much to grade the streets, just as much to plant trees and shrubbery, just as much for sewers, just as much for water mains, just as much for sidewalks where a property like this is cut into 453 lots as though it were cut into 2,706 lots. If we had cut up this property into the average Chicago subdivision lot it would have made just that—2,706 lots. Instead we only have 453. Which is the best buy? A half acre cut into five lots at $199 each or that same half acre in one lot at $350.

This property is not away out in the country. Just think of this: There are at least a million people living within the city limits of Chicago who are compelled to take an hour or more to get to their places of business. From Desplaines Manor the average running time is 35 minutes to the Loop, and you have solid comfort all the way, you always have a seat, and you get there on time without hanging on a strap. The fare is only 10½ cents, but it's worth more than 10 cents an hour for your time alone, isn't it?

This magnificent property is being offered direct to you by the owner, without music, without feasts, without that big commission. Come out Saturday 1:30 or 2:30 P. M., Sunday 9:30 A. M., 1:30 and 2:30 P. M. We'll meet you at the gate Chicago & N. W. Ry. Station, Madison St., with Free Tickets.

PROGRESSIVES CHEER ROOSEVELT FOR PRESIDENT IN 1916.

SMASH SULLIVAN, CONVENTION CRY OF PROGRESSIVES

Robins Excoriates Democratic Candidate in Speech at Champaign.

PLATFORM FOR BIG NAVY

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—The second convention of the Progressives in Illinois was held in the armory at Urbana today. The keynote was a call for the defeat of Roger C. Sullivan and "Sullivanism," which was put on the same footing as "Lorimerism."

The loud recurring note in the speeches was, "Smash the Democratic machine as we smashed the Republican machine two years ago." Whether it was Medill McCormick, the temporary chairman, who delivered the keynote speech, or Raymond Robins, candidate for United States senator, or some down state delegate, the cry wa sthe same. Robins almost overlooked Lawrence Y. Sherman, the Republican nominee, in his forty minute speech, so devoted was he to his task of flaying his Democratic opponent.

"Sullivan is the man we've got to beat," was the decision reached before the call to order and the fervor of preparation for battle against him almost wiped out what anxiety there had been concerning such matters of convention business as the adoption of the platform.

Naval Policy Formed.

That task of the resolutions committee was accomplished without a hitch, save for two slight bits of argument on the floor that resulted in only one change—the addition to a demand for a three battleship policy of a plea for the eventual disarmament of all nations.

Repeatedly the name of Theodore Roosevelt brought prolonged applause, but when it was read out in the platform with no previous warning that it was there, the outburst of applause and the excitement reproduced on a small scale the scenes of the first national convention.

"We look forward to the election of Theodore Roosevelt as president of the United States in 1916," was the declaration that started the uproar.

Mr. Robins received a demonstration when, during his opening remarks, he spoke of Roosevelt as "the foremost constructive statesman of the modern world."

This mention came while he was discussing the "victory of 1912," which he said wrecked the Republican organization.

Urges War on Democrats.

"We did half our great task in 1912," he continued, "and we'll do the other half in 1914. We put the old Republican machine on the junk heap then, and when November arrives the Democratic machine will be there, keeping it company.

"We are through with Lorimerism, and at the end of another six weeks we'll be through with Sullivanism.

"Sullivan now is the head of the dominant party in Illinois, as Lorimer was only a few years ago. He is the corporation boss of Chicago, who has grown rich by the public service holdup route, and he has become powerful by flying the black flag on the political seas.

"He is a multimillionaire through his capacity as an industrial pirate, and he is leader and master of the Democratic machine by virtue of his capacity as a political pirate. He has flown the Democratic flag, but never has he hesitated to send submarines to torpedo the flagship of his own fleet. He torpedoed Bryan in 1896 and Mayor Dunne in 1907.

Assails Sullivan Vigorously.

"He is probably the choice of more big and more little thieves for the United States senate than any other man who ever before aspired to that office in Illinois.

"His policy is 'rule or ruin,' and he now thinks that with a divided party nd unlimited money he can be elected senator from the state of Illinois." There were cries of "Never" to this as there had been cries of "hit him again" a moment before; but the speaker turned his attention to his other opponent, Mr. Sherman.

"On the other hand, we have a revolving standpatter, leading the old guard, trying to bring back the battered hulks of 1912—McKinley on one hand, Cannon on the other, and Rodenberg in the rear

"But we need not waste our time there. The organization or what remains of the organization of the Republican party is divided against itself, fighting simply for control and power without any hope in the present or possible advantage in the future.

McCormick Makes Address.

Medill McCormick was more gentle with Mr. Sullivan, as he devoted most of his address to the Progressive policy demands and the failure of the old parties to meet them.

"In every nook and corner of the state the progressive citizens of whatever party," he said, "knows that this struggle is between Roger Sullivan and the Progressive candidate. The bosses—intrenched privilege, the skill and cunning of political craftsmen—all will be arraigned against us."

"Both the old parties are still in the ands of the bi-partisan machine," was the contribution of Frank H. Funk, the permanent chairman. "The standpatters still are in power. The old methods and practices st prevail."

Robins Aids Naval Policy.

What might almost be called a wrangle ensued until Mr. Robins explained he had been working in the peace movement for fourteen years and argued for a strong navy as the best guarantee of peace.

He suggested a compromise plank, and with Mr. Cooley drew up a declaration in favor of the three battleship policy, "until such time as the great powers of the world can be federated into an international court with international police to preserve the principle of arbitration of disputes between nations, and that our own members of congress aid international disarmament by every means in their power in the interests of the larger brotherhood of mankind."

A plank bordering on the relationship between politics and "big business" also was contained in the platform. This urged all candidates for the legislature to demand an appraisal of the properties of the McKinley traction system and the Insull group of companies in and around Chicago to determine whether the capitalization of the companies exceeds the face value of their holdings.

There followed planks indorsing the Murdock anti-trust bills, demanding the creation of a tariff commission and protesting against the delay in enacting legislation against child labor, for social insurance, for a federal employment bureau, for an eight hour day for women, and for one day's rest in seven.

Recall Omitted from Platform.

Around the chief plank for the constitutional convention were grouped statements of the possibility of full suffrage for women, the short ballot, and the initiative and referendum by this means of legislation. The recall was omitted because of the situation at Springfield.

The convention declared itself in favor of reform rules in the lower house of the assembly and the selection of committees by a committee on committees, the extension of civil service to home rule of public utilities for Chicago, to the reform of legal procedure, to the enactment of a new drainage act, and to nonpartisan elections of county, municipal, and judicial officers. Many of the important planks of the 1912 platform were revoiced

Women were scattered through many of the delegations and one, Mrs. Chandler Starr of Winnebago, received the highest vote for nomination as university trustee, the two men chosen being Alfred S. Cowles of Chicago and S. S. Anderson of Charleston. Miss Marion Drake was nominated, but withdrew her name. Mrs. Robins and Mrs. B. F. Harris of Champaign were guests of honor on the platform.

Roosevelt Off for Kansas.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Col. Theodore Roosevelt spent twenty minutes in St. Louis tonight en route to Wichita, Kas., where he will assist the Progressive party.

Before departing, Col. Roosevelt dispatched two telegrams. One was to Medill McCormick at Chicago and the other to Lorenzo Dow at Tacoma, Wash. In both he expressed hope of Progressive victory. He asked McCormick to tell the Progressives of Illinois he soon will be with them to aid their campaign.

He requested Dow to assure the party members of Washington that he is with them in spirit and expects them to triumph, but expresses his regret that he will be unable to assist them in person. Col. Roosevelt will go to Chicago from Kansas.

SUBSCRIPTIONS MORE THAN WHOLE NEW YORK CITY LOAN.

Foreign Participation Estimated at 20 Per Cent of $100,000,000 Issue.

New York, Sept. 18.—The banking syndicate which undertook to finance New York City's debts in Europe by the flotation of a 100,000,000 6 per cent note issue running from one to three years announced today that subscriptions in excess of the amount required had been received. The offering will not be closed, however, until all prospective subscribers have been heard from.

No figures are yet available, but it is believed the foreign participation is fully 20 per cent of the whole. That is to say, many holders of maturing notes, which are held largely in London and Paris, have agreed to accept the new notes in lieu of cash for the expiring issues.

The syndicate it is understood, undertook the transaction and is to carry it to its conclusion without any profit. Subscribers may, however, make a profit of about 2 per cent, the outcome depending entirely upon the rates of exchange which will rule when payments are being made.

RECOUNT BELIEVED CERTAIN ON THE SANITARY TRUSTEES.

More Votes for Those Offices on Tally Sheets of Some Precincts than Voters, Czarnecki Says.

That a recount of the vote cast for sanitary district trustees is certain was indicated by a statement of Commissioner Czarnecki of the election board last night. He said that in certain precincts more votes had been credited on the tally sheet for sanitary district trustees than there were voters in the precinct. This and the fact that one-half votes were recorded in six precincts are regarded as certain to cause a recount.

WILSON DESIRES PRIMARY QUIZ

Anxious for Light on Illinois and Pennsylvania Expenditures.

WILL AID DEMOCRATS?

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—That President Wilson desires early action by the senate on the Norris resolution to investigate expenditures in the Illinois and Pennsylvania primaries was the statement made today by a senator who is in the inner circle of the president's council.

The president has intimated to Senator Kern of Indiana, chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, which now has the resolution in charge, that he desires immediate consideration.

Senator Kern also is favorable to it and probably will call his committee early next week to hear such evidence as Senator Norris wishes to present in substantiation of his charges.

Penrose Nomination Clouded?

According to the senator who speaks for the White House, there is so much evidence of improper expenditures in Pennsylvania in behalf of Senator Penrose that the president feels certain if it is officially developed the people of that state will elect Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer to the senate in November to succeed Penrose.

The president is vitally interested in Palmer's campaign and is extremely anxious to have him occupy a seat in the senate.

Puts It Up to Sullivan.

President Wilson has given only passing attention to the charges against Roger Sullivan in Illinois. His position is that if the charges are baseless Sullivan can help himself tremendously by proving that immediately, whereas, if it is true that enormous expenditures have been made in Sullivan's behalf, with his connivance, by John P. Hopkins and others, as has been intimated, the president does not care anything about extending protection.

"LOVE ME, LOVE MY DOG," ROOSEVELT TELLS G. O. P.

Writes Former Supporter It Is Useless to Indorse Him Unless His Principles Are Indorsed.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 18.—Edward C. Carrington Jr., Republican nominee for the United States senate, today made public a letter under date of Aug. 27 last from Col. Theodore Roosevelt, which, after saying, "There are certain states where the Republican candidates have declared they are for me in 1916," goes on to say:

"As regards the announcement for myself, I do not regard it as amounting to anything, because in the first place I not only hope, but at the present time believe, that I will not be a candidate in 1916, and also, what is more important, because it is of no earthly consequence to indorse me unless the principles for which I stand are indorsed."

Col. Carrington was an ardent supported of Col. Roosevelt in the last presidential campaign, but afterward returned to the Republican party.

CHURCH SENTENCE OFF; WHERE DO STUERS LIVE?

Couple Judge Ordered to Attend Services as Cure for Family Ills Have Mysterious Domicile.

Churchgoing is no longer compulsory in the Stuer family. Arthur Stuer and his wife, who gave their address as 4948 North Kolin avenue, but could not be found at that number, were sentenced to attend church services every Sunday for a year by Municipal Judge Jarecki, as a surcease to their marital woes.

Yesterday, when their case was called by Judge Fry in the Court of Domestic Relations, Mrs. Stuer was conspicuous by her absence. Mr. Stuer, who had taken up his residence at 310 Halsted street because his home life was uncomfortable last month, announced that he now was living peaceably at home with his wife and two children. Whereupon Judge Fry removed Judge Jarecki's order.

A reporter for THE TRIBUNE afterwards followed the trail to Kolin avenue in search of the Stuer family. The reporter brought up in a vacant tract of land.

LA FOLLETTE CANDIDATE FOR WISCONSIN GOVERNOR?

Declared He Will Run as Independent Against Conservative Republican and Democratic Nominees.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—That Senator Robert M. La Follette will enter the gubernatorial contest in Wisconsin as an independent candidate was the declaration here today of Assemblyman E. J. Kneen, a Wilson Democrat.

La Follette's return to the state will be to defeat Emanuel Philipp, Republican, and John C. Karel, Democrat, both conservative gubernatorial nominees.

Progressives conclude the state is still Progressive and that nominations of ticket heads adverse to La Follettism was due to a multiplicity of Progressive candidates.

The independent campaign by La Follette has the indorsement of men of national prominence and men close to President Wilson. Secretary Bryan has agreed, it is said, to spend four days in the state for La Follette, and his Progressive colleagues in the United States senate have offered assistance.

Quebec, Sept. 18.—The Canadian government steamer Montmagny was sunk in the St. Lawrence river, twenty-six miles from Quebec, at 5 o'clock this morning in collision with the Dominion coal steamer Lingan, in a fog. Twelve of the Montmagny's twenty men are missing.

FRENCH EXPECT TWO YEAR WAR

Confident of Victory After Long Fight, Nathan Lebolt, Home, Says.

RELIEF WORK DETAILED

Nathan Lebolt of Lebolt & Co., jewelers, returned from Paris yesterday with the belief that the French expect the war to last at least two years.

"Over in France they know that Germany will not give up until she is badly beaten," said Mr. Lebolt. "They know, too, that the German army is a marvelous machine that will require a tremendous sacrifice to defeat. They are ready to make the sacrifice. When they have won they will demand Alsace and Lorraine back as well as the indemnity they paid in 1871 with compound interest."

Among other Chicagoans who returned from battle torn Europe yesterday was Oscar J. Vogl, who took a prominent part in the work of the American relief committee in London. Mr. Vogl expressed indignation at the aspersions which have been cast upon the committee by returning travelers.

Help Refused Jewel Adorned.

"When women with fingers covered with diamonds came to us with a request for money and transportation, we did not feel justified in giving it to them," declared Mr. Vogl. "The fact is that they might easily have raised money on their jewels and our funds were limited. As it was, Oscar Strauss, who organized the committee, guaranteed a lot of paper that no doubt is no good at all.

"Then there were stranded theatrical companies that wanted meal tickets at the most fashionable places, and men who came to Europe looking for jobs, who wanted to be sent home in the finest style. Everybody who really needed help and deserved it was given all the assistance at our command."

Other Chicagoans Safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bomer, 902 Oakdale avenue, wired that they had arrived in quarantine and would make all haste in returning to Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Owsley and their daughter of Winnetka have returned home.

It was learned that Thomas F. Brady Jr., whom THE TRIBUNE was asked to locate, is safe. Mrs. T. M. Christianson, 1615 Farwell avenue, has sailed from Norway and will arrive in Chicago within a week. Mrs. George Brown Petty, George Brown Petty Jr., and Miss Bessie Petty returned yesterday.

No confirmation has been received here of the report that George Soualle, American agent of the Michau company, French clothing manufacturers, had been killed

"UNANIMOUS CONSENT."

It is tolerably safe to say that there will be unanimous consent among the sane people of the country as to the egregious folly and ludicrous absurdity of the desperate attempt of the pork barrel senators to silence or wear out their vigorous opponents by an appeal to an ancient and technical ruling as to the conditions under which a speaker in the august chamber may hold the floor. Nothing more obviously reduces the senatorial notions and habits of debate to nonsense than the doctrine that a speaker may not even answer a question, or yield for a two sentence interruption, without obtaining the unanimous consent of the chamber.

It is perfectly well known to the people that the progressive elements in the senate have been endeavoring to reform the rules and do away with the unanimous consent principle even where something may be honestly said in its favor. To hark back and stretch this principle in the interest of gag, plunder, and pork is to make a spectacle for the marines. It is to acknowledge moral defeat and bankruptcy.

CRIME AND JUSTICE IN CHICAGO.

The council committee that is investigating the causes of the growth of crime in Chicago has been provided, in the statistical report and study of Miss Edith Abbott, with an excellent and indispensable basis. Of course, statistics may "prove" anything and nothing in certain hands; they require careful interpretation. But certain conclusions emerge almost at once from the report, and these raise grave issues.

Crime is increasing. The crime waves are realities, not fictions. Yet the mills of law and justice show little improvement in efficiency. The person arrested for a serious offense actually stands only one chance in thirty of going to the penitentiary. The county's costly machinery of justice seems to be maintained almost wholly either for the purpose of freeing the innocent or for the purpose of fining and imprisoning those who are charged with petty and trivial offenses; the criminals who are a menace to the community —as to habitual criminals, by the way, there are no figures or data worthy of the name in the county or city—somehow escape conviction and punishment.

Now, justice is not justice unless it promptly releases the innocent apprehended on suspicion in addition to punishing the guilty. But the "in addition" is vital. If too many of the guilty go free, there is something wrong with the machinery, from the patrolman and detective up to the Appellate courts. And it hardly needs adding that if something is wrong with the machinery that is set up to prevent, deter, and punish crime, that defect itself becomes a potent cause of crime—or of the disproportionate increase in criminality.

THE BATTLEFIELDS OF PEACE.

Two men were picked up dead the other day. One was found in the grass on a prairie; the other in a damp basement in a densely populated section of the city. The ambulance doctor, who looked over the two corpses, analyzed the causes of death as starvation and exposure. The police supplied the sociologic description of the men. Bums they called them.

When men are dying by the thousands each day in the fields and prairies of war-smitten Europe it may seem trivial to call attention to these two deaths in Chicago. Yet it is no trivial matter. The death of these two men with no roof over their heads, without a friend to close their eyes, shows that peace has its battlefields no less than war. While it is true, perhaps, that the confirmed bum often will not take work even when it is offered him, it is also true that in the first stages the tramp or hobo is not infrequently a victim of conditions. No child is a hobo when he is in his mother's arms or when he goes to school. It is when he goes out into the world with poor equipment and with no guiding hand to steer him through the troubled waters of steep competition that he sinks. Science is proving that vagrancy, even where it is "pathologic," also is acquired. Vocational training and guidance would have steered many a hobo into entirely different channels if administered at the proper time.

While the American people have much to be thankful for, especially when we compare our state with that of war-devastated Europe, we still cannot afford to ignore our victims of industrial maladjustment, our battlefields of peace.

FOREIGN STUDENTS OF OUR COLLEGES.

What the Rhodes scholarship and similar foundations have done for British universities the present war is expected to do for the American colleges—and on a much larger scale.

While the conflict lasts, learning, like laws, will be silent in Europe. Most of the students are fighting or marching; the tens of thousands of foreigners who prefer to study in Europe, because of the atmosphere and traditions of very ancient institutions, are not wanted there this year. Even if they were wanted they would hardly enjoy the experience at a time like this, especially if they were honestly neutral.

The opinion, therefore, is growing that this is the great educational opportunity of the United States. Chinese and Japanese students we draw anyway, but what of South America? Even the west coast is remote no longer, thanks to the isthmian canal.

Educators are alive to their chance and duty. The federal commissioner, Mr. Claxton, is preparing special bulletins setting forth our facilities for collegiate and post-graduate as well as professional study. Even our own people are not aware of the advance that our colleges and universities have made in recent years; of foreigners it is unnecessary to speak. Let us advertise education along with material goods.

It is to be hoped and wished that foreign students will come in large numbers. Just now no atmosphere is better for them than the American—the atmosphere of republicanism, democracy, freedom, and personal initiative, of practical idealism and social and moral reform, is the atmosphere the foreign students need and are prepared to appreciate.

WHAT OF THE CONTINUED PEACE TALK?

The barriers and difficulties in the way of peace with honor for all in Europe have been candidly pointed out in THE TRIBUNE. But it may be admitted that the fact that peace talk continues, that even "noncommittal" answers are given to inquiries as to mediation and discussion of possible terms, is not without significance. There is, as the president says, nothing tangible before him or before the neutral world that would rejoice in the first material indication of peace; but intangible and little things are not to be scorned.

Here is the actual situation: Germany has no objection to informal beginnings of mediation. She is ready to discuss peace terms; she is not indulging in talk of war to the bitter end, war of extermination. She did not enter the war for aggressive purposes and has no such purposes now; if, therefore, the allies are ready to consider terms of peace, she is. The neutral United States may sound the allies and obtain their tentative ideas of the irreducible minimum of their peace program. If they are in a reasonable and moderate mood, they will find Germany in a like mood; if they cherish illusions and make inadmissible demands, there will be no opening and no basis of discussion.

Now, if the allies in turn will appeal to reason and moderation, a favorable psychological atmosphere will have been created for peace discussion and for mediation. The advantage and significance of such appeals to reason and moderation lie in the fact that subtly and unconsciously they undermine the wall of truculence and perversity and enable reason to enter the citadel. If it be true that where there is smoke there is some fire, it is also true that when in the midst of war there is persistent talk of peace, no matter how vague and general it may be, there is ground for hope that mediation is getting hold and clearing the way.

A NEW LEADERSHIP.

An important problem before the country today is to secure adequate business and industrial leadership, asserts Prof. Edward D. Jones of the University of Michigan, writing in Popular Science. The great captains of industry of the outgoing generation are passing away. The men who are to fill their places in the economic life of the country have new tasks before them—tasks that are not easy.

Captains of industry in the past were concerned solely with building up business, the writer says. Their problem was to establish industries on a big and firm footing, and they did their task well, even if not always in as ethical a manner as one might desire. The economic leaders of today, the administrators of great industrial concerns in this coming generation, must combine with great business ability a proper moral outlook. While aiming to safeguard the interests of the stockholders in the corporations they head, these administrators must also have not only a proper understanding of the operative classes in these industries but sympathy with their aims and desires.

It is the task of the coming generation to end much of the antagonism that now exists between employers and employés, the professor thinks. In these efforts to further social justice in the United States the administrators of large business will be closely concerned. Upon their equipment, their breadth or narrowness of view, the well being or misery of thousands of workingmen will depend.

The professor's warning to business and industry to look to the character and caliber of their leaders for the sake of the industrial stability and the well being of the country would gain greatly in effectiveness if the same warning had also been issued by him to the working people. Just as it is essential that the men at the head of capitalist enterprise be possessed of high moral character along with their high business ability, it is fully as important that the men who direct great organized armies of workmen be high minded and scrupulous. In the past, unfortunately, labor has suffered from incompetent and corrupt leadership all too frequently. Social justice will be promoted in this country most rapidly when the highest motives of citizenship come into the foreground in both camps.

TRINITY OR SWAG RIVER.

[From the New York Sun.]

Take out the map of Texas and look at the Trinity river. Five hundred miles or so of it from the mighty confluence of East Fork and West Fork to Galveston bay. Said to contain real water at times, though its best friends find its resistless current and unsunned depths in artesian wells yet to be dug. Then navigation on it can proceed. The gazetteer calls it "navigable" for three-fifths of its length at "high stages of water." In default of perpetual rains and freshets the treasury will provide. The treasury does provide.

Gaze on Trinity river with respect. The Amazon is cheaper. The river and harbor bill of 1902 committed the government to giving Trinity a six foot channel from Dallas to the mouth at an estimated cost of $4,550,000. Including the river and harbor bill appropriation of 1913, $1,952,287 has been dumped into Trinity, that carrier of a noble commerce, of which Senator Gallinger tells:

"They are not transporting any freight or anything else on it; they cannot transport anything until they get the entire project completed. I will call attention to that. The money which we have expended on that river up to the present time is dead money; there is no income from it."

This is one of the chief beauties of porcine spending. The government spends twice to thrice the original estimate and then is asked to keep on spending, besides paying the cost of maintenance, all bringing in nothing and all useless. Of course, the original estimate of Trinity improvement was as short as Andrew Carnegie's trousers would be on the endless legs of Ollie James. Trinity now demands $10,465,000. Senator Gallinger guesses $15,000,000. The house made the appropriation this year $205,000 for continuing the work on Trinity. The Texas senators got $50,000 more. So in interminable driblets millions are shoveled into "this apparently worthless river," as the New Hampshire senator calls it.

No inconsiderable part of that deficiency is due to the deficiency of senators and representatives, to their want of honesty toward the whole country and their encouragement of local bunco games.

Mondoo, Sept. 18.—At the suggestion of Capt. In company with Capt. Fracasse we have scoured the country for fifty miles around Mondoo, and while we saw more or less carnage, it was polite carnage, which could give no real offense to anybody. We cannot speak in too high praise of the department of the French army. Noblesse oblige.

FIRST AID IN THE NAVY.

IN a paper before the 1908 international congress on hygiene, Surgeon General Stokes of the United States navy dwelt upon the well nigh impossible first aid conditions on board a man of war during a battle. Offense has so far outstripped defense that a naval battle is a slaughter followed by a drowning.

He said a duel between dreadnoughts could last but five minutes, as in that time one or the other would be annihilated. Two modern, up to date, evenly equipped fleets could last but thirty minutes, for in that time the ammunition would be exhausted and the fleets destroyed. In a close combat 50 per cent of the sailors would be killed or wounded in a thirty minute combat.

As the majority of the ships would sink and there would be no lifeboats unharmed, practically the entire crew would be wiped out. On a surviving battleship at the end of a thirty minute engagement there would be 80 killed and 225 wounded. In a battle lasting twenty minutes between twenty battleships the casualties would be about 5,000.

Surgeon General Stokes quoted some authority as saying that naval gunnery was 1,200 times more effective in 1908 than it was in 1893. A single ship could hurl ten tons of metal per minute against another ship, and modern guns seldom failed to strike their targets.

No armor could withstand this, which statement incidentally carries with it this important fact—in a naval battle there is no place on a ship where first aid can be given in time of battle.

One of the discussions at that congress was as to the arrangements on shipboard for first aid. There did not seem to be any place.

In general it was agreed that when the ship carried several surgeons they should be scattered around the ship, where they were most liable to be of service. The chief surgeon was to remain in the lazaretto or hospital room and direct as best he could.

About the only feasible plan was to teach the sailors first aid and then to distribute the means for first aid in the turrets and other fighting points around the ship. This plan worked fairly well in the Japanese navy in 1904. Before going into that war 6 per cent of the sailors in the Japanese navy had had a course of instruction in first aid.

INFECTION WITH MALARIA.

H. H. N. writes: "I have noted with interest your instructions to keep the nose, tonsils, teeth, and throat clean, and you give instructions about the teeth and partial instructions as to the tonsils. I desire to ask if nasal tablets will be effective in this work? How can the contact be maintained long enough to do it? What length of time should the contact be maintained to insure effectiveness? Am I to understand from your teaching on malaria that the anopheles mosquito must first bite a patient suffering with malaria before it can become host to the malarial parasite, or germ? What diseases are air-borne, if any?"

REPLY.

1. Yes. All that you can do with a solution made from tablets is to gargle and spray. Some persons can further clean the tonsils by pressure with the rim of a spoon handle. Some throat specialists clean tonsils. In time periodic cleansing of the tonsils by specialists will be as much in vogue as periodic cleansing of the teeth by dentists now is.

2. Yes. Further requirements are these:

1. The blood of the person bitten must contain parasites on the way to one particular stage—the sexual stage.

2. Parasites entering the sexual cycle must be taken into the mosquito.

3. The atmospheric temperature must be right for the development of malarial parasites in the mosquito.

4. Enough time must elapse between the infection of the mosquito and the biting of a susceptible person by it to permit of the development of the sexual cycle in the malarial organism.

3. Using air-borne properly, it is held now that no diseases are air-borne.

WHOLE MILK TIME.

REPLY.

1. Yes.
2. To give this in detail would require too much space. Follow Holt.
3. A healthy child 1 year old with good digestion can digest whole milk, as a rule. It is safe for year old children during the cold months.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1914: By the Brentwood Co.]

TO what extent Germany had prepared for the outbreak of the war and had timed the inauguration of the hostilities is strikingly shown by the discovery that already in June and in the beginning of July last the principal ocean liners sailing from Hamburg and from Bremen carried concealed in their holds all the guns and ammunition needed to convert them in the space of a few hours into armed cruisers.

Careful search of the large fleet of German ocean liners held in New York by their owners to avert capture by the English probably would reveal the fact that each of them carries secreted in the nethermost recesses of its hold the same complete outfit of guns and of ammunition as was carried by the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse when it last sailed from New York on July 21 without exciting the suspicion or attracting the attention of the United States custom and port authorities.

The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse landed its mails and specie at Plymouth on Tuesday, July 28 proceeding from thence to Cherbourg.

On July 29 the English fleet took up its vigil in the North sea, and it is now known that the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse did not pass through the Straits of Dover or make any attempt to reach either Bremen or Hamburg after leaving Cherbourg.

There is every evidence, indeed, of the fact that after quitting that French port it made its way around the west coast of Ireland up to the neighborhood of Iceland, converting itself while at sea into a armed cruiser by means of the guns and ammunition in its hold.

On Aug. 7, just ten days later, it captured and sank an English fishing boat off Iceland, taking on board the skipper and crew as prisoners of war.

On Aug. 14 it turned up south of the Canary islands and continued preying on British merchant shipping until sunk by the English cruiser Highflyer, under the command of Capt. Buller, ten days subsequently.

This goes to show that the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse transformed itself into an armed cruiser even before any outbreak of war between England and Germany, which was only declared on Aug. 5, that is to say, nearly a week after the departure of the liner from Cherbourg.

That the German liners in New York harbor are loaded to their utmost capacity with coal, carrying three or four times the amount needed for an ordinary trip across the Atlantic, is well known. That their crews are available for service at a few hours' notice is likewise no secret.

There is nothing to prevent them from leaving the port of New York at their own risk if unarmed. But if they have, like the ill fated Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, hidden away in their holds all the armament and ammunition needed for their conversion at sea into armed cruisers, the United States might become pecuniarily responsible for any damage which they might do to British merchant shipping.

One of the first naval officers to lose his life in the present war was Capt. Nigel Barttelot, commander of the cruiser Liberty, in the fight off Helgoland. He was killed by a German shell. He was but 32 years old.

His father, Sir Walter George Barttelot, lost his life in action at Retief's neck in South Africa during the Boer war, while his uncle, Maj. Edmund Barttelot, met his death by violence in the Congo valley as the result of a mysterious tragedy which has never been laid bare.

He was acting at the time as commander of the rear guard of the Emin Pasha transafrican relief expedition, and there was so great an amount of popular sentiment in England in connection with the affair against Sir Henry M. Stanley, the leader of the expedition, that the crown found itself compelled to defer for nearly ten years the grant to him of his promised reward, namely, the grand cross of the Order of the Bath.

The Barttelots are among the oldest families in England, where the founder was Adam Barttelot, who took part in the battle of Hastings under the flag of William the Conqueror and afterwards settled down at Stopham in Sussex, where he married the heiress of the De Stophams.

The aisles and walls of the little parish church at Stopham are covered with brasses and monuments of the Barttelots, many of them dating from the time of the crusades.

According to an ancient pedigree in the possession of the family John Barttelot, a descendant of Adam, took the castle of Fontenay in France, for which Edward the Black Prince gave him a castle for his crest, while the swan which also surmounts the Barttelot coat of arms originated in the fact that the family possessed the hereditary right of keeping swans on the river Arun in Sussex.

The Barttelots still make their home at Stopham, and they furnish an almost unique instance of a property descending from father to son in an unbroken line for nearly nine centuries.

Frederick E. Smith, one of the foremost of the Conservative leaders, whom his political foe and private chum, Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty induced the government to appoint as unpaid chief of the war news bureau and censor's office, is the only member of the bar and king's counsel who without having figured either as attorney general or as solicitor general has been admitted to membership of the sovereign's privy council.

Although he is one of the most vigorous and vitriolic assailants of the government, he received this unusual distinction three years ago when the present Asquith administration was in office.

Presenting the appearance of a man of ancient lineage, with tall, slim figure, a handsome, boyish face, and excellent manners, he may be said to have sprung from the people. His father was a private soldier who managed to educate himself until late in life he succeeded in securing a call to the bar.

He had a large family, and the Rt. Hon. Frederick Smith, the most promising of his sons, can also be described as having educated himself in the sense that his education cost his father little or nothing.

He was so clever that he won one valuable scholarship after another in such numbers that the amount which they brought him more than paid for his schooling both at Birkenhead and afterwards at the university.

The fellowship which he obtained at Oxford thereupon enabled him to defray the expenses in connection with his call to the bar, where he at once achieved success; and today, though barely 45, he enjoys the reputation of making more money than any lawyer in England, a country where legal fees are notoriously high.

Unlike David Lloyd-George, he never loses either his head or his temper, has the gift of saying the most cutting and insulting things in the most suave and gentlemanly manner and possesses a happy gift of repartee.

This is invaluable to him as a platform orator. He is never at a loss, and on one occasion when he was discoursing on the advantages of tariff reform, and a heckler kept on interrupting him with the cry, "What about our food?" he silenced him with the rejoinder:

"Don't you worry, sir! Your food is quite safe! Neither Mr. Chamberlain nor myself, nor any one else, has ever advocated putting a tax on thistles."

No one meeting him in society and observing his appearance of languor, or listening to his drawl, would dream of the torrential and vitriolic character of his eloquence, which carries away his audience, converting even the most unfriendly into enthusiastic supporters.

PAVING TURNER AVENUE.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly tell me when Turner avenue from Ogden avenue to Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad tracks will be paved and how much it will cost for the owner of a house and lot twenty-five feet wide. J. W. ABRAHAM, 3519 Ogden avenue.

A public hearing was held last spring on the paving of Turner avenue from the C., B. & Q. railroad to Ogden avenue. At that time the street was ordered paved with asphalt, but we cannot state definitely just when the work will be done. We hope to have the assessment confirmed so that the improvement will be made next year. As soon as the assessment is spread the property owners will be notified of the filing of the roll and the amount of the assessment. The assessment is not figured on a frontage basis, but according to benefits, and therefore we cannot state the assessment offhand against a twenty-five foot lot.

ALIEN RIGHTS IN INDIANA.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Before settling here I had occasion to make a trip to Canada and on my return the custom officers claimed that I had no right to vote on my first papers. Can I vote on my first papers, and where can I secure my final naturalization papers? JOHN COLLIE.

In the state of Indiana foreigners who have taken out first papers may, under the constitution of Indiana, vote. This cannot be done in Illinois and in many other states, but it may be done in Indiana, Arkansas, Texas, and a few other states.

This man can finish his naturalization at La Porte, South Bend, or any other place. His difficulty will be in procuring witnesses who have known him consecutively for five years. It may be necessary for him to take the deposition of persons in different places in order to complete the chain of evidence.

The fee for final papers is $4.

Women cannot vote for United States senator or representatives in congress. The offices for which they may vote are clearly set forth in the suffrage act passed in 1913 extending franchise right to women.

To the offices set forth have been added, by County Judge Owens, judges of city courts, park commissioners, judges of the Municipal court of Chicago, state central committeemen, senatorial committeemen, ward committeemen, and precinct committeemen.

The plans of the bridge are well under way. Actual construction of this bridge, however, is contingent upon the acceptance of the ordinance for the new depot by the Pennsylvania railroad, and this has been extended to Dec. 31, 1914. JOHN ERICSON, City Engineer.

CANADA HAS SELF-GOVERNMENT.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me if the British government derives any compensation from the dominion of Canada, direct or indirect. F. V. D.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—My early training was in a German Sunday school, in the German tongue; my type of thought is Teutonic. My practical theology is from Tolstoi and Sabatier—"man incurably religious." My sympathies are with republican tendencies in France and America. But this doesn't mean, as a correspondent implies, that God is always with democracy, or that the survival of the fittest signifies the survival of brotherhood, intelligence, or even mere force, necessarily, in a given century.

Put Socrates and a shark in mid-ocean. The shark will survive. "Fittest" means best adapted to a particular time and environment. Job's accusers were the "fit" in his day. The best imperialism and ecclesiasticism of his time crucified Christ. Not with levity, but in sad irony, the Balkan states might protest to England, France, Germany, Russia and Austria, in the name of that Christianity which means humanity, to stop this destruction on a scale vaster than possible in the "dark" ages or reign of absolute despotism.

As THE TRIBUNE said, civilization may suffer, whichever side wins. But they are fighting for land rather than civilization. Much of war's horror is unprintable, like rape and worse, if possible. My brother, in our civil war, saw a captain massacred holding a flag of truce. "War is hell," worse than death. Nevertheless, the world's leaders are still on the "ape and tiger" stage. England, called the missionary nation, ought, antecedently, to have been prepared for an emergency which she foresaw.
C. D. GREELEY, Pacifist.

ASLEEP AT THE SWITCH.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We must recognize the necessity of preparing now to meet the demand of foreign trade that will result from the European war. Call upon the chamber of commerce, the manufacturers, and the merchants and the bankers' associations, and in like manner upon all business interests to meet in convention at once and conclude ways and means to get hold of this trade and hold it.

The federal government is bound to help, and will when they see the way clearly. It is up to the business and banking interests of the country to show them the right way. I urge you to suggest the advisability of the interests fitting out a commercial ship at once to show the people down there what we have to offer. If such exhibits were in charge of practical men we would soon know just what the people down there want, and then our factories would be benefited, and in like manner all our laborers.
C. A. CARLISLE.

HOW ENGLAND LOVES US.

Waukesha, Wis., Sept. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Lest we forget, I will remind Mr. Wile of a few more acts of England's friendship for this country. In colonial times England tyrannized and exploited us; during the revolution and the war of 1812 she enlisted Indians, who massacred the settlers on our frontier, paying the savages a bounty for the scalps of men, women, and children. She impressed our seamen and thwarted our development wherever possible. During the civil war she allowed to be built, equipped, and manned confederate cruisers, thereby destroying our merchant marine, besides otherwise antagonizing us. When England discredited us and refused our bonds during the crisis of that war Germany bought them.

We needed no help during the Spanish-American war. The Mexican trouble has been traced to the conflict between English and American interests in the oil fields of that country. Diaz and Huerta favored English interests. In 1911 England made a treaty with Japan, a nation unfriendly to us, under which the former must fight us should we become involved in war with the latter. At the call of England, according to the terms of that pact, Japan is now helping the former crush Germany. Are we the next to be crushed by this unholy alliance between "our dear cousin" and the yellow peril?
J. H. A. LACHER.

A WOMAN ON PREPAREDNESS.

La Grange, Ill., Sept. 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—To be prepared is to be efficient, and to be efficient makes for success in any undertaking. By the light of the conflagration now raging in Europe our supposed immunity from attack is questioned by more than one authority. Our armor is found full of gaps and seams which, if not speedily mended, may work us the same woe that now afflicts the other half of the globe.

We have lived so long in the sunshine of peace and prosperity, and are so strong in our resources and national pride, that it may seem useless to even hint at a different régime. But it must be not only hinted at but vigorously pointed out that we are unready if we would reverse our course and be able to compete with other nations in the world's work and conflict as seen today.

We have worn the knickerbockers and short jackets of our youth long enough. It is time now for the toga virilis of manhood, but even so we ought to put ourselves to school again. And who but Germany, the disciplinarian of a thousand years, is so fitted for the schoolmaster's part? The ancients did not disdain to learn of an actual or possible enemy when they found themselves ignorant on a vital point. L. A. M.

FOREIGN DEBTS TO BE MET BY HUGE GOLD POOL

Bankers Plan to Raise Fund of $100,000,000 to Pay Obligations Abroad.

RESERVE BOARD AGREES

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—The formation of a gold pool of $100,000,000 by the banks of the country to meet the foreign obligations of the United States probably will be approved tomorrow by the federal reserve board.

The details of the plan were worked out tonight by a committee of bankers consisting of James B. Forgan of Chicago, chairman; A. H. Wiggin and Benjamin Strong Jr. of New York, and L. L. Rue of Philadelphia.

"We shall be ready to present the complete plan to the federal reserve board tomorrow morning," Mr. Forgan said tonight. "In a general way it provides for the underwriting of a fund of $100,000,000 by the banks in the reserve and central reserve cities.

Sees Sufficiency of Gold.

"In this way we shall have a store of gold which may be drawn on for export in satisfaction of the balance of trade which now exists in favor of foreign countries.

"Individuals and firms with commitments to satisfy will know where they can get the gold.

"It is impossible to estimate now how much gold it will be necessary to send abroad in satisfaction of these obligations. As the export business of the United States increases the balance of trade against us will be reduced and less gold will be required. Grain is now moving abroad freely, with prospects of more rapid movement shortly. That will relieve the situation greatly."

Differ Over Collecting Fund.

The board discussed the plan with members of the bankers' committee today. The only point of difference which developed between the bankers and members of the board at today's meeting has reference to the manner in which the fund is to be collected.

Members of the board have contended since the suggested plan first was considered that the pool ought to be formed voluntarily by the banks themselves by contributions or by other means which the bankers might devise for making collections.

The bankers, on the other hand, have contended that the simplest and most effective plan would be for the board itself to apportion the amounts that ought to be contributed by the banks of various sections.

STOCK BROKERS MUST PAY THEIR SHARE OF WAR TAX.

Plea of Closed Exchanges Fails to Win Exemption from New Revenue Bill Provisions.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Stock brokers who have protested against a proposed special tax of $50 a year will not escape assessment. Democrats of the ways and means committee determined today to include them in the war revenue bill, which is now being perfected.

Arguments that the stock exchanges now are closed were not regarded as sufficient to entitle brokers to exemption, inasmuch as it is probable the exchanges again will be operating before the need for war revenue has passed.

Stamp tax rates will be taken up tomorrow. Few changes are contemplated in the stamp tax rates as levied during the Spanish-American war, though the matter of eliminating checks is still undetermined.

The committee today approved the additional tax of 50 cents a barrel on beer, the tax of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline, and the special taxes on bankers, brokers, and tobacco dealers.

Republican members of the house voted unanimously in open conference tonight a declaration that with proper retrenchment in government expenditures there would be no necessity for war revenue legislation.

Minority Leader Mann advised the Republicans to vote against the whole war revenue tax proposition as unnecessary.

Mrs. Frank Leslie.

New York, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Frank Leslie (the Baroness de Bazus) died tonight in apartments in an uptown hotel here. She was the widow of Frank Leslie, the publisher, who died in 1880, and had herself since been prominent in the publishing world.

NO TIME FOR U. S. TO GET S. A. TRADE

Redfield Tells Senate We Should First Make Finances Easier.

OPPORTUNITY TO STUDY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Secretary Redfield informed the senate today that the time was not opportune for a general trade campaign in South America.

Moreover, replying to the senate's resolution asking for an estimate of the probable cost of sending government vessels carrying American samples and trade envoys to South America's principal ports, the secretary suggested that displays of "individual and corporate products should not be made under the auspices of the federal government."

Buying Power Weakened.

The effect of the European war has not impaired the ultimate purchasing power of South America, Mr. Redfield said, but its present buying strength and resources of current credit are adversely affected.

There is a large opportunity in South America, he added, "but it is an opportunity for study and for the laying down of broad business policies looking to a permanent trade when the current conditions shall have improved. For the moment it seems that the policy called for is that of service to South America by helping her regain her credit rather than to expect her under existing conditions to make large purchases.

Financial Aid Needed.

"It would rather seem that measures should be taken, if practicable, in our own country to assist South America in its urgent financial need and to provide the ready direct course of exchange in dollars which it so much requires. When these things are done, and hardly before then, will be time to look for the placing of considerable orders for American products."

The secretary gave warning that under existing conditions "only those who are prepared to take certain risks or to make actual investment of capital in Latin America can hope for early material advantage from the present situation."

The department of commerce will place commercial attachés in Rio, Buenos Aires, Santiago, and Lima. Department commercial agents already are at work in the field.

GERMANS' TRADE IN RUSSIA OPEN TO AMERICANS

Machinery from U. S. Already Has Superior Reputation There.

BUYS $13,000,000 AUTOS

BY R. C. LIEBRECHT.

[President of the Export Advertising Agency, Chicago.]

Russia as an export market is well worth the consideration of the American manufacturers, as for political reasons Germany will probably lose one of her best customers.

German exports to Russia during the last fiscal year amounted to approximately $170,000,000, while Germany's purchases of raw products totaled about $350,000,000 during the same period.

Germany's Trade Necessity.

All her purchases, however, from Russia are of such nature that she will not be able to look for other markets. Owing to the short freight haul from Russia German manufacturers can lay down these raw products at a lower cost in Germany than if they were supplied from some other country. Among them are barley to a value of $80,000,000; pine, $20,000,000; wheat, $23,000,000; eggs, $16,000,000; flax, $15,000,000; oats, $13,000,000; live poultry, $9,000,000; raw metal, $10,000,000; peas and beans, $8,000,000; butter, $13,000,000, etc.

While some of these articles are food products and must be purchased, others like flax, raw metals, and lumber are essential to Germany's industrial development and are resold in a manufactured state to other countries.

Buys Much Machinery.

Even if Russia would divert part of her purchases in manufactured articles to the United States, her markets in raw products would not suffer. Among the finished products which Germany is selling to Russia are automobiles valued at $13,000,000; cotton, $2,500,000; gasoline and electric motors, $2,500,000; machinery, $2,500,000; sewing machines, $1,750,000; agricultural machinery, $2,000,000; cokes, $2,000,000; hides, $4,000,000; electrical machinery and appliances, $2,250,000; shoe leather, $3,000,000; household articles, $2,500,000; wool, $4,000,000; typewriters, $260,000, etc.

Among the articles enumerated are a great many which are manufactured today in the western part of the United States. There is no question that our manufacturers could successfully compete with the Germans, especially since steamship service from New York directly to Russian ports has been opened some time ago. The Russian market is one comparatively easy to enter, as England and even some of the American banks have close financial connections with Russia. Russian merchants and the Russian public always have shown a strong liking for American made goods, and especially American machinery.

ALIENISTS WARN
Men Who Drink

The recent convention of the world's noted alienists resolved:

"Alcohol when taken into the system acts as a definite poison to the brain and other tissues. The effects of this poison are directly or indirectly responsible for a large proportion of the insane, epileptic, feeble minded, and other forms of mental, moral, and physical degeneracy."

We appeal to the "BETTER SELF" of drinking business, professional, and laboring men, their wives, relatives, and friends to heed the warnings of these noted men, verified by your own observation of the ruin, degeneracy of parents and offspring, wrecks, misery, and untimely deaths among your friends and neighbors caused by using drink or drugs.

THREE DAYS spent in the privacy of your own home, hotel, or club, or at any Neal Institute taking the Neal Treatment will remove the cause, eliminate the poison, and enable you to return to your usual work with a loathing for liquor and soon restore normal health, mental and physical conditions.

For full information call or address the head NEAL INSTITUTE, Dept. T, No. 811 East 49th St., Chicago, phone Oakland 439, or near Country Club, Springfield, Ill., phone Main 6868.

Vacant Apartments Eat Up Owners' Profits

True—but a condition most vacant apartment owners can forestall, even in the few days before October 1st. If you want to protect your apartment building investment for the coming season, give your rent problem a little extra thought right now—today.

This city is not overbuilt with apartments. The increase in new Chicago families every year is greater than the increase in Chicago apartments. In other words, the demand for apartments is as great as or greater than the supply.

If you are the owner of vacant apartments, isn't it because you have relied too much on the antiquated idea that everybody looking for an apartment to rent will pass your building some day during the season?

Or, isn't it because you have not consistently advertised your apartments to rent in the best newspaper in Chicago—The Tribune—where thousands and thousands of Chicago people read the offerings daily and Sunday every renting season until they have found the apartment they want?

The Chicago Tribune has the enormous task of renting the vast majority of Chicago's vacant apartments every year, because the vast majority of apartment owners advertise their apartments in The Tribune.

Advertisements for The Sunday Tribune are accepted as late as four o'clock this afternoon. Are you going to advertise your vacant apartments in The Tribune this Sunday? You are, if you give your rent problem a little extra thought today.

JURY JUDGES 'IDLE CLUB' HEAD

Sealed Verdict Returned in Case of Omar C. Harris, Labor Agent.

RUNS WITHOUT LICENSE

Omar C. Harris, an employment agent who has had considerable difficulty with Richard J. Knight, chief inspector of employment agencies, was tried before Judge Ryan yesterday on the charge of operating an agency without a license. The jury returned a sealed verdict which will be read in court this morning.

Wolf Elsen appeared in the rôle of complaining witness, but it is understood Mr. Knight is the real complainant. Two similar cases will be called on Oct. 7, and, regardless of the outcome of the sealed verdict, the state will try to send Harris to jail because of his failure to pay $50 in an old case, which he failed to appeal after arresting the judgment of the court.

License Revoked; Keeps On.

Harris' license was revoked some time ago. He continued business and was fined by Judge Newcomer. He then started proceedings before Judge Windes and Judge Gibbons in a vain effort to have his license restored. The case before Judge Newcomer was one out of nine, the remaining eight being continued after Harris declared his intention of appealing.

Harris then conceived the idea of evading the law by organizing the Illinois Employés' association with Michael H. Madden, a former state labor commissioner as president and Harris as treasurer and general manager. The firm charged its members $5 initiation fees and 50 cents a week dues and installed a reading room and billiard hall for the entertainment of members while waiting for jobs.

Mr. Knight told all these things to the jury. He also testified Harris had enrolled about 2,000 members, that complaints had been received from approximately 100 of them, and that when the more ignorant demanded the return of their money Harris gave them accident insurance policies.

"Wild Goose Chases."

Knight also testified many of the members "spent their last nickel on wild goose chases." Mr. Knight told the jury he started the prosecution on the advice of Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey, who held that Illinois Employés' agency needs a license "the same as any other employment agency."

Harris practically admitted the arrangement as outlined by Mr. Knight, but denied he intended to defraud any one and swore he didn't believe he came within the scope of employment agency, as defined by law, and that he didn't think a license was necessary for the association. He said business was so dull he has had to content himself with a salary of $10 per week and admitted the lease for the premises occupied at 27 West Washington street was still in his name.

Then President Madden spoiled it all by testifying that Harris draws $35 a week and expressing the belief that the leases had been transferred to the new company.

CITY MARKET OPEN SEPT. 24 WITH LADYLIKE PROGRAM.

Rules Forbid Profanity, Smoking, and Boisterous Conduct—Women Invited to Come.

Chicago's new municipal market which is to be opened at the Goldsmith school at Maxwell and Union streets on Thursday morning will be conducted in a perfectly ladylike manner if the tentative rules prepared yesterday by Secretary Frederick Rex are put into effect.

There is to be no boisterous conduct, no profane language, and no smoking. Venders may call attention to their wares only in the gentlest of tones.

The object of the rules, Mr. Rex explained, is to make the market attractive to women purchasers. In addition to prescribing personal conduct the regulations prohibit the sale of unwholesome food and provide for the ejection of any vender who is guilty of fraud.

No one is to be allowed to occupy space in the market if more than 20 per cent of his produce is procured from any source not his own production.

The market is to be open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening every day in the year with the exception of legal holidays.

The municipal markets commission will hold a meeting at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon with a view to putting the finishing touches on the project. John F. Wallace, chairman of the railway terminals commission, informed the markets board he would be present at Monday's meeting, when the proposed wholesale terminal market will be discussed.

GIRL IN LOAN AGENT'S MESH

Borrows to Pay Funeral Debt; Falls Behind in Payment.

LEGAL OFFER IS REFUSED.

Dentist for Whom She Worked Sued on Wage Assignment.

A tinge of tragedy cropped out in the suit of the Assets Adjustment company against Dr. Crosby W. Davis, a dentist, with offices at 29 East Madison street, wherein Municipal Judge Stewart gave the plaintiff judgment by default for $18 yesterday. The court, however, was not made conversant with the facts in the case.

Miss Florence I. Johnston, an attendant employed by the dentist at $6 per week, is the real sufferer. She became enmeshed with West & Co., a loan concern, frequently exposed by THE TRIBUNE. Then the Assets Adjustment company, closely affiliated with the loan agent, and Attorney Julian C. Ryer, by no means new in the defense of loan concerns, did the rest.

Borrows to Pay Funeral Expenses.

Some months ago Miss Johnston lost her father. The family lacked part of the money for funeral expenses, and the young woman borrowed $27, giving notes aggregating $36, to make up the shortage. There was more hard luck in the family, and the young woman became delinquent after paying $18.

She told her story to a friend, who gave her $13—the legal amount still due—and she tendered it to the loan concern. But it spurned the proffer, and asserted that the main note—then overdue—had been assigned to the Assets Adjustment company.

Dentist Is Sued for Balance.

Then Attorney Ryer, on behalf of the adjustment company, filed suit against the dentist for the supposed $18 balance and $10 attorney's commission. Dr. Davis avers that no assignment of wages was ever filed with him, and he knew nothing whatever about the transaction until he was notified to defend himself in court.

The case was set for yesterday morning, but Dr. Davis had a pressing engagement and reached the court ten minutes late. It was his intention to stop the proceedings by swearing he didn't owe the girl a cent. He will lay the matter before City Prosecutor McInerney in the hope of having the defaulted judgment set aside.

POLICE BOOKING CRITICISED.

Judge Scully Says Carelessness of Bluecoats in Charging Prisoners Hurts City.

"A large part of Chicago's bad showing in the way of criminal offenses, as it appeared in the report of the crime committee recently, as compared with other big cities, is due to the carelessness of policemen in booking prisoners," observed Judge Scully in the Municipal court yesterday when he dismissed charges of burglary against ten boys and paroled them on charges of disorderly conduct. "These boys should never have been booked for burglary." The judge held the boys were merely mischievous when they disarranged the furniture in a real estate office.

KING PUTS END TO PARLIAMENT

Speech of British Ruler Asserts War Will Continue Until Cause Is Won.

ENTHUSIASM PREVAILS.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Enthusiasm unusual in the staid legislative chambers of Westminster palace was displayed today when the two houses of parliament were prorogued. Parliament will sit again Oct. 27.

While King George was absent inspecting the troops, his speech was read in the house of lords by Viscount Haldane, the lord high chancellor, and in the house of commons by John H. Whitley, the deputy speaker.

When the announcement was made in the house of lords that the royal assent had been given to the Irish home rule and the Welsh church disestablishment suspensory bill, and to a number of emergency measures, cheers were given for the passing of the Irish and the Welsh bills.

Cheer Passing of Home Rule.

On the announcement of the passing of the Irish home rule bill in the house of commons the Nationalists and Liberals broke into loud cheers, which were repeated again and again.

Will Crooks, the Labor leader, asked if it was in order to sing "God Save the King." Without waiting for permission he started the first verse himself and then broke down with emotion. The anthem was taken up by the spectators in the gallery as well as by the members, and the singing was heard in the palace yard.

As the members filed out of the chamber Mr. Crooks cried out, "God save Ireland." John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, replied, "God save England."

Address of King George.

King George's address proroguing parliament follows:

"My Lords and Gentlemen: I address you in circumstances that call for action rather than for speech. After every endeavor had been made by my government to preserve the peace of the world, I was compelled, in the assertion of treaty obligations deliberately set at nought and for the protection of the public law of Europe and the vital interests of my empire, to go to war.

"My navy and my army with unceasing vigilance, courage, and skill have sustained, in association with our gallant and faithful allies, a just and righteous cause.

Praises Nation's Loyalty.

"From every part of my empire there has been a spontaneous and enthusiastic rally to our common flag.

"Gentlemen of the house of commons, I thank you for the liberality with which you have met a great emergency. My lords and gentlemen, we are fighting for a worthy purpose and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved.

"I rely with confidence upon the loyal and united efforts of all my subjects and I pray that Almighty God may give us His blessing."

Mr. Redmond, who was the recipient of many warm congratulations in the lobbies of the house after adjournment, left later in the day for Ireland, where he will take part in the recruiting campaign.

KING GEORGE SIGNS BILL FOR HOME RULE IN IRELAND.

Measure Thus Becomes a Law, Having Gained Signature of British Ruler.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—King George's signature today was attached to the home rule bill, which thus gains the statute book.

There was a remarkable scene today in the house of commons after the signing of the bill by King George.

For the first time, as far as can be recalled, the members of the house sang "God Save the King," and the nationalists, who previously had refrained from singing the national anthem, joined in.

PRINCE DENIES GERMAN AID.

Engalitcheff Wires He Is Not Signer of "Round Robin" Containing Name Similar to His.

A letter appeared in THE TRIBUNE of Sept. 17 mailed from Ouchy, Lousanne, testifying to the courteous treatment received by American tourists at the hands of the German people. Appended were signatures of a number of Chicagoans, New Yorkers, and others, including that of "Prince and Princess Englecheff." THE TRIBUNE is in receipt of a telegram from New York, signed by Prince Engalitcheff, declaring that he is not the Prince Englecheff named in the communication from Ouchy; that he was not in Germany at the time war was declared, and that he at no time has received any monetary or other assistance from people in Germany.

PONDERS RAIL RATE PLEA.

Commerce Commission Continues Consideration of Petition for Increase in Freight Rates.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Members of the interstate commerce commission today continued consideration of the eastern railways' petition for the reopening of the advance rate case, with the expectation of announcing their decision tomorrow at noon. The extent of opposition by shippers against the reopening of the case was not made known tonight.

BOOKS AND THE PEOPLE WHO WRITE THEM

Mr. McClure Tells All About Himself.

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

NOW and then some American has come forward with a clear, frank, vital story of his own life, and these autobiographies, so different in quality from European autobiography, have been among the most prized books produced in this country. Grant's story of his life, Booker T. Washington's simple record, Jacob Riis' vigorous tale, Mary Antin's eager confession, and Roosevelt's chronicle, all are valued. Life in America is always more or less of an adventure, because here individualism is the religion, and a man or woman has play for personality.

To these vital records is now added "MY AUTOBIOGRAHY," by S. S. McClure, a story so typically American, so guiltless of literary pose, so vigorous and simple in the telling, that in reading it one is transported beyond the room in which he sits and the page he peruses, and sees young Sam McClure's life, with its bitter hardships, its keen adventures, and its valorous little triumphs as if it were a living thing enacted before the eyes. The first half of the book is classic in its directness, its simplicity, its complete actuality. Later on, when life grew more complicated, and Mr. McClure began to dominate the destiny that had at first proved so obdurate, the interest is not so poignant, partly because there is so much to tell that Mr. McClure could not possibly tell it. He lets it blur into a general prosperous confusion, made up of successful struggle, foreign travel, many friends, and a continual output of energy and its logical return of good fortune and good fame.

That Mr. McClure's life has contained other sorrows than those he depicts is well known. Old and trusted friends separated themselves from him, and he was forced to go on alone with work in which he had expected their continued coöperation. But concerning these sometime friends, he has only words or praise and affection. He records with tender pride the influence they had upon his life, and he concludes his narrative before he reaches the rather tragic parting of their ways. He is generous in the tribute he pays to his men friends, but he refers with even greater emphasis of the debt he owes to women—to his stanch, self-denying mother, to his wife, long sought for and deeply prized, to Miss Ida Tarbell, long the brilliant expositor of his ideas, and to Miss Willa Cather, whose talents remain under his direction, and without whom, he says, his autobiography would not have been written.

The story has humor, strength, and its own sort of poetry. It contains rich reminiscence of writers still—or but recently—our contemporaries. Naturally, his acquaintance has been wide. What he has failed to record is his uniform courtesy to young writers, his kind encouragement in hours of doubt, and his careful and skillful nursing of talent. But hundreds of his readers will be able to supply this missing chapter. The volume is supplied with interesting portraits. (Frederick A. Stokes, New York, publisher.)

In "MYTHS AND LEGENDS OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY AND THE GREAT LAKES," Katharine B. Judson has made an effort to preserve to the folk lore of America those wild and charming fancies of the various Indian tribes which once inhabited the land we now occupy. Miss Judson has written much upon the subject of Indian legends, having "Myths and Legends of California and the Old Southwest" and "Myths and Legends of the Pacific Northwest," and other similar volumes to her credit. In the present book she has drawn upon the lore of the Winnebagos, the Chitimachas, the Wyandots, the Biloxis, the Ojibwas, the Mandans, the Cherokees, the Menominis, the Nacthez, and the Sioux for her material, and has retold in simple language these curiously wistful and youthful tales.

"It is a loss to American literature," says Miss Judson, "that so much of the legendary history of these Indian tribes has gone, beyond hope of recovery. Exquisite in color, poetical in feeling, these legends of the sun, moon, and stars, of snow, ice, lightning, thunders, the winds the life of the forest birds and animals about them, and the longing to understand the why and how of life—all which we have only in fragments.

"No effort has been made to ornament or amplify these legends in the effort to make them 'literary,' or give them 'literary charm.' They must speak for themselves. What editing has been done has been in simplifying them, and freeing them from the verbose setting in which many were found."

The numerous illustrations are very interesting. Physically, the book is attractive, the cover design being decidedly inviting. (A. C. McClurg & Co.)

Stories by Gouverneur Morris.

Fancy Writing 20,000 Love Letters!

BY JEANNETTE L. GILDER.

LOVE letters to the number of 20,000 were written by Juliette Drouat to Victor Hugo. As far as history relates, Mme. Drouet wrote no other love letters than those to the French poet. How many other ladies wrote him love letters who shall say. A great many we know and if each one of the ladies in whom he was particularly interested wrote him twenty thousand love letters his time must have been busily employed in reading them. How he ever got time to answer them all and to write volumes and volumes of books is beyond my wildest imagination. Hugo not only wrote Mme. Drouet love letters but he wrote her fifty-eight poems.

Mme. Drouet played so conspicuous a part in Hugo's life that twelve books were written concerning her relations with him and eight paintings and statues were made of her by famous painters and sculptors. The author or compiler of the volume before me, "LOVE LETTERS OF JULIETTE DROUET TO VICTOR HUGO" (McBride, Nast & Co.) has made selections from these twenty thousand letters and filled a book of four hundred and odd pages.

◆

Mme. Drouet was a popular actress, but Hugo forced her to abandon the stage, to relinquish the hollow flattery of society, and cloistered her with one servant, two or three of his portraits and a five foot shelf of books. That exciting life in the theater was almost too great a contrast and she complains of having nothing to do. "Write to me," commanded Hugo. "Write me everything that comes into your head, everything that causes your heart to beat," and she did. That explains the twenty thousand letters. These letters were delivered to M. Louis Kock the executor of Mme. Drouet from whom they passed into the hands of Blaizot, the Parisian publisher, from whom the compiler of this book obtained them, Louis Gimbaud.

◆

Mme. Drouet was a child of the people, her father was a humble tailor and her mother was of the same walk in life. Her mother died while she was still a baby and her father died a year later. She was brought up until she was old enough to go to a convent by a man, who claimed to be her uncle and who spoiled her because of her charming manners and beauty. After she left the convent she fells into the hands of a sculptor whose model she was. He thought of marrying her (she was then only 16), but feared it would never do for so great a man to marry his model so he made her his mistress. He wanted to take care of her so he put her on the stage. There she made more or less of a success and it was while she was in the theater that Hugo discovered her. She was leading the gay life of a Parisian actress, but he "brought her back into port" and kept her there "forever, the slave of one master, the woman of one love." From the day that Juliette Drouet first loved Victor Hugo and that was virtually the day they met, she devoted her life to him. When in the country she lived in a peasant's cottage near where he lived in a fine house, and she spent her time in writing him letters or working for him, mending his clothes or cooking his food. When his son came to visit the poet she prepared meals for two. When his wife came to see him she cooked the dinner that celebrated their reunion. I doubt if any woman but a French woman could so give up her life to a man not her husband or that any actress but a French actress would be so enamored by a man of intellect.

Mme. Hugo accepted the situation, perhaps not at first, but later, with all the complacency of a French woman.

"Juliette was able to maintain the simply dignity to which she attached so much importance, and from which she departed only in favor of her poet, in the most delicate circumstance of her life; namely, when Mme. Victor Hugo offered her her friendship. She did not decline it, but where many might have erred by an excess of satisfaction and familiarity, she showed a discreet reserve greatly to her credit. Since their exile the relations of the two women had undergone a great change.

Mr. Wellington Wack published "The Story of Juliette and Victor Hugo," which was brought out in this country, if I remember rightly, by Messrs. Putnam. In that we were given letters written by Hugo to Juliette as well as Juliette to Hugo, but in this book all the letters are from the actress to her lover.

France from Within.

Count Paul Vassili, judging from his writings, evidently an eminently respectable and patriarchal individual, has written his reminiscences of men, women, and events in France during the last half century. There is in his book, "FRANCE FROM BEHIND THE VEIL," some new and startling information about the Panama canal scandal, some none the less startling stories of intrigue connected with the Dreyfus affair and certain politicians of the day, and some genuinely interesting gossip about Parisian society, the old families of the Foubourg St. Germain, and men of affairs, literati, and dilettantes. Count Vassili is a fatherly sort of a writer and he reads well. [Funk & Wagnalls company.]

Mr. Wright Attempts the Salamanderic.

BY AUDRIE ALSPAUGH.

EVERYONE has heard of the small boy who exclaimed, "O, mamma, Bobby Jones said a nawful word—somethin' I daresn't say, an' wouldn't want to; I hate to tell you, but he said 'd-a-r-n'!" This epitomizes the moralistic Harold Bell Wright in his most recent fictional achievement, "THE EYES OF THE WORLD." The gentleman with his "best selling" reputation to maintain on his conventional basis of "wholesomeness," and his shrewd business recognition of the present salamanderic taint in "best selling" taste, in his effort to meet the contradictory requirements aims at an imitation of the Rhodesian Colossus that is far from ranking as one of the wonders of the world.

In order to meet the general "best selling" demands Mr. Wright outfits his story with a clear-eyed, idealistic, ambitious young painter and companions him with a balefully cynical writer of the worst and most popular books of the day, who is continually Cassandraing in regard to society and success. Some of the society, in the person of a beautiful, rich, and unprincipled woman who appears to carry all the art critics in her pocket, is stirred in for a tang, and in contrast is introduced a simple mountain maid, sweet and innocent, who is jealously maligned by society when the artist succumbs to her charms rather than to those of the social leader.

In the end, when the woman scorned is about to tear down the castle of success for the good and talented young man, the cynical writer saves the day by drawing from the stores of his journalistic past the unsavory tale of her origin, and assuring her that if she permits the art critics to damn the youth he will turn on a little tornado that will sweep her quite off the social horizon. Thus Mr. Wright, after delving around sufficiently in evil to get mud stains on the hem of most any garment, however high it might be held, arranged that good shall triumph, and probably shut up his typewriter with the virtuous feeling that he got off the horns of that dilemma rather neatly. However, whatever the book may do to Mr. Wright's bank balance, it doesn't strike the casual bystander as any landmark of literary unity. (Book Supply company.)

Cynthia Stockley, that clear and vivid visioner of Africa, disappoints in her last book, "WILD HONEY" (Putnam). It is a collection of short stories embodying her leading idea of the clutching force of Africa, but related without the glow and the picturesque word painting that have given her other books life.

◆

In strikingly happy contrast to these books is Francis Lynde's "THE CITY OF NUMBERED DAYS" (Scribner's), which comes quietly, with no special heralding, and tells a brisk and gallant tale, full of life and live folks, about a boom city built by conspiring capital in the projected lake bed of the dam under erection by the government reclamation service. It is a stirringly alert story, told in clever swinging fashion. Nothing better can be said than that while reading it one forgets the mere process of reading and simply absorbs the atmosphere and the action that fill it from cover to cover.

Is There to be a Kantian Revival?

BY VICTOR S. YARROS.

THAT remarkable thinker and scholar, Houston Stewart Chamberlain, who, though an Englishman by birth and early training, has completely Germanized himself and writes his solid and profound works in the language of the Teutons, has once more laid the educated and wisdom loving public under profound obligation by the publication in permanent form of a series of lectures delivered to a circle of friends and students on "IMMANUEL KANT." Here are two volumes that when the war is over will challenge the attention of the international brotherhood of conscious, unconscious, and potential disciples of the greatest of all metaphysicians and philosophers.

Mr. Chamberlain's admiration for Kant is boundless, and he believes that we are on the eve of a Kantian revival, a movement "back to Kant." His lectures were intended to reintroduce Kant to the world. He does not attempt to do what others have done; he does not epitomize or summarize Kant's teachings; nor does he give us another biography or critical study of the life of the Koenigsberg master. His task is to provide an introduction to Kant by "familiarizing us with his way of thinking," by diving into the depths of his personality, by interpreting him as a man and thinker, and by showing us how he arrived at his conclusions. It occurred to Mr. Chamberlain that the best possible way of presenting Kant was to compare him with other great seers and philosophers. He selected Goethe, Da Vinci, Bruno, Plato, and Descartes for such a comparative study.

"If I compare great thinkers," says the author, "inquiring less as to what they saw than as to how they saw it, I soon discover how exactly the organic quality of their mental machinery and of their intellectual aptitude conditions their philosophy; at the same time the comparison teaches me to form a sharp and living estimate of the peculiarities of each."

Mr. Chamberlain rightly insists that philosophers, like poets, are born, in the sense that the manner in which they look on the problems of life is born with them. He is alive to Kant's limitations as a man and sets them forth candidly. Yet the philosopher was not a mere thinking machine; his concern was the welfare of humanity; his creed was that "the greatest business of man is to know what a man must be in order to be a man," and to the answering of this question he devoted his whole life—eighty years of toil, study, and reflection.

Mr. Chamberlain has adopted a successful method and readers who will master his work will know a great deal not only about Kant but about the thinkers with which Kant is compared. One envies, however, the circle of friends who were privileged to attend the lectures and obtain the benefit of the direct personal equation.

The work was translated by Lord Redesdale and is published by the John Lane company.

PERCH OF THE DEVIL
By GERTRUDE ATHERTON
A novel that gives the romance and business of mining in Montana and introduces a remarkable new heroine (Ida Compton) to American fiction.
"For other novels written by a woman and having the scope and power of Mrs. Atherton's we must hark back to George Eliot, George Sand, and Madame de Stael. It is hard to discover American men equaling Mrs. Atherton in width of vision, depth of sympathy, and sense of consecration."
—AMERICAN REVIEW OF REVIEWS.
"Mrs. Atherton is, in our judgment, the ablest woman writer of fiction now living."
—Sir Roberston Nicoll in BRITISH WEEKLY.
"There are a good many people in England who regard Gertrude Atherton as having the best brain among the American women novelists."

THE SUNFLOWER BOOK

Winning the Wilderness is a story that no American can read without a stirring of the pulse and a glow of patriotic emotion.
It is mainly a tale of one of the grandest fights ever fought—the fight to conquer the wilderness. It faithfully depicts the old heroic pioneer spirit; the spirit that was ever extending and pushing forward the boundary of civilization, and that made America the great nation it is.
A GREAT HUMAN STORY it has been called, and it is this and more. In the fullest sense of the word it is a worth-while book, a tale that appeals to old and young alike.

Hinsdale Plans New Peace Movement.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

A PEACE proposal exceeding in scope any that has come from the federated churches or the federal government will be made tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at a public meeting at the Hinsdale clubhouse at Hinsdale, Ill.

The scriptural statement, "Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth," may find fulfillment in this move, for if the example of Hinsdale is followed the outcome will be a mighty uprising of the people of the United States and a revolution in world policies.

The idea originated with Harry S. Mecartney of Hinsdale, whose business office is in the Home Insurance building, Chicago. He gained the coöperation of his neighbors and the call for the public meeting is signed by Mr. Mecartney, Herbert W. Holcomb, E. H. Bingham, Joseph B. Mitchell, George L. McCurdy, and T. R. Weddell.

The heart of the matter is expressed in a pamphlet sent in the mail last night by Mr. Mecartney addressed to the people of Hinsdale and vicinity, which contains among other questions this one:

"Are the ideals of our country and its pretenses to be satisfied in this world crisis by a mere formal tender of the friendly offices of our worthy president, the services of a few hundred American Red Cross nurses, and prayer?"

The answer which Hinsdale intends to make and call upon all the country to make is contained in the following series of pledges:

"We earnestly appeal to each and all nations in arms: First, to cease at once the shedding of blood and to recall each nation its own armies within its own borders. Second, to at once appoint ministers or agents of abitration and of peace.

"As expressing our belief in this appeal and of our interest in the welfare of the people so cruelly oppressed, we pledge our money and our means as herein below subscribed and to the extent that the same may be accepted:

"Towards payment of the cost of an arbitration of the issues between the warring nations or of such issues as they or any of them may submit to arbitration.

"Towards relieving the suffering and distress entailed by the war.

"Towards the purchase of any territory, land, or object in dispute, or the satisfaction of any demand by any of the nations that may aid the cost of arbitration, peace, or remove any obstacle in the way of its consummation.

"Towards the erection of permanent peace monuments on or along the boundary lines of the striving nations, as well as the boundaries of the United States, after the pattern of 'The Christ of the Andes,' or other acceptable form or model.

"Any unused balance to be paid into the treasury of The Hague peace tribunal.

"We furthermore pledge the services of any and all who may be appointed from our ranks:

"To visit the lands whose people are now contending in arms, minister to those in want or distress, and help to repair the desolation of homes, gardens, and fields;

"To give their best efforts in aiding the cause of an early peace."

That the men back of the movement in Hinsdale do not expect to see the effort cease with their demonstration is seen in the provisions outlined for the distribution of the funds to be gathered.

The plan authorizes the governor of the state to appoint officers to see to the distribution of the funds and provides for a nation-wide canvass for funds in every village and city. It provides that the chief officer in any municipality be authorized to appoint collectors. It calls upon the congress of the United States for coöperation and urges upon congress the making of an appeal in addition to that by the president to the nations to arbitrate their differences.

It calls upon congress to change the name of the department of war to the "department of peace."

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets

By Lillian Russell

Eat Fat.

[Copyright: 1914: By Lillian Russell.]

IT may be an alarming assertion to the person who desires to "reduce" to say that we should eat fat, but there is something more important than reducing weight, that is, to look after the tissue health of the body.

Of course, where there is a disposition to take on weight regardless of how little fatty substances are contained in the diet there is no necessity to eat fat or oils in any quantity. But nevertheless the body occasionally requires creams, butter, oils, greases, yolks of eggs, meat, and vegetable fats, for they aid in keeping the tissues from breaking down and in restoring them to health.

Thin people especially should eat as much fats and oils as their digestion will comfortably stand. The digestive process should not be overtaxed, and this is something that should be carefully guarded against, for fatty substances make heavy demand upon the juices of the stomach. For the wan or emaciated person, the fatty or yolk part of the egg, scrambled or fried in pork or bacon fat, will do much. Olive oil is another good tissue builder.

Ordinarily there is sufficient fat in the ordinary dinner dishes to suffice, but those who have repugnance for fat and exclude every trace of it from meals while preparing them should realize that fat plays an important part in nourishment.

Where fats and oils are distasteful, it is easy to find some method of preparation to overcome this objection. With a little inquiry, the ordinary housewife cook can so hide fat in prepared dishes that it can not be detected by either taste or smell.

Research shows that among the Jewish people the grease from fowls has been used from time running beyond history, and that its use has much to do with the absence of wasting distempers among the people of this ancient nation.

Fatty foods are of particular benefit in the winter months, but at all seasons some fat should be eaten, for the sake of the bodily tissues which demand it. And a little fat at times should not interfere with the adipose person who takes the proper means of keeping down the weight.

Remember: That a wasted tissue is difficult to rebuild; so it is better to prevent the wasting.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

C. M. S.: Massage the bust with cocoa butter once a day. It will take some time, perhaps a month, before results are noticed, but if you wish to succeed you must be patient and persist in the treatment.

D. D.: The blackheads may not be caused from your blood. They are sometimes due to internal troubles, but are more often caused from lack of care of the face. In warm weather the pores are open, which causes them to clog more quickly. I am sure you can get rid of the blackheads if you cleanse your face thoroughly each night. Before retiring, dab the face with cold cream, allow it to remain several minutes, then take off surplus cream with a soft cloth. Wash the face with warm water and a good soap. Rinse thoroughly first in warm and then cold water, using the cold last. The cold water closes the pores. I shall be glad to send you a formula for an excellent cleansing cream if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope. I am sure this treatment will help you.

MISS A. B.: I am sure you can break yourself of the habit of stooping shoulders. Think when you sit down to hold your back and shoulders straight. When walking hold your shoulders back and your chin up. There is no excuse for round shoulders and nothing looks worse than to see a young girl with stoop shoulders. If you cannot break yourself of the habit, get a good pair of shoulder braces and wear them for a while. This will help you to hold your shoulders straight. I shall be glad to send you directions for deep breathing and formula for shampoo for blonde hair if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

MISS F. M.: I shall be glad to send you instructions for deep breathing, formula for removing freckles, and instructions for facial massage, if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope. I am unable to print them all, as they are much too long.

JENNIE B.: Massage your cheeks with a good skin food daily and each night allow a portion of the skin food to remain on the face. This will feed the tissues and will gradually fill out the hollow cheeks. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you a formula for an excellent skin food with instructions for facial massage.

Bright Sayings of Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The stories may be sent in either by children or their parents. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

Little Johnny's mamma told him to go upstairs and get a pair of shoes under the foot or head of the bed, she had forgotten which. In a few minutes he returned with beaming eyes and shoes in hand and said: "Mamma, they weren't under the foot or head of the bed; they were under the stomach." MRS. E. T. L.

Ruth, who is 2, was visiting her grandmother, who had some summer boarders with whom there was a little boy whom Ruth disliked very much, but who was fond of her. One day when Ruth was seated on a porch bench the little boy came up and sat down close beside her. She tried every method to remove him and finally called in desperation to her grandmother: "O, grandma, please do come and help me; I'se too squeezeded." F. P.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand

By Marion Harland

Home for an Orphan.

"WE would like to adopt a child, a boy or girl, about 4 or 5 years of age. It must be an orphan, and would have to be examined by a child specialist, as I have children of my own and must protect them. For such a child there is a good home with loving care, lots of love both from my husband and myself and our two children. We are passionately fond of children, and those placed unfortunately go to our hearts like a knife. We can furnish any kind of references required. I pray our quest may not be in vain, and he will lead us to the one that needs us, and we to him or her, whichever it will be. I have the following articles of clothing to offer the Corner: Four silk and wool shirts for a baby, size 2; several pairs of silk and wool stockings, also for a baby; two pairs of soft white kid shoes (without a break), slightly soiled, size 3, for a baby; a white baby coat of fine French serge, a 2 year old size; several pairs of shoes for a child about 1½ years old, for play shoes; several little white and a few gingham dresses for a 2 year old girl, and a black plush coat for a 3 year old for play this winter. I also have some leading magazines for one fond of reading but who cannot afford to pay for them, a good wire cot for some mother, and some cotton pieces—these for a shut-in. I should like some worthy mother who is expecting a little one this winter or late fall to have the baby things. I will see that she gets other things which I cannot offer the Corner at this writing. MRS. G. T. L."

We will do our best to fit the right child into your loving arms. May heaven direct the quest! Your list of gifts makes the brain reel and the heart swell with gratitude. I call attention particularly to the last clause of your lovely letter. It would be a sin were any one who can easily afford to buy a layette to presume upon your bounty.

Received an Ear Trumpet.

"I received the ear trumpet from Mrs. M., also three silk ties. I am acknowledging her kindness in a letter. I think I shall be enabled to hear now. "CHARLES F."

The man benefited by the gift of the ear trumpet is in one of the saddest of earthly dwellings—a home for incurables. We will find a ray of light in the thought that his deafness is not among the afflictions that condemn him to residence there. One thinks involuntarily of Dante's "Who enters here leaves hope behind."

Good Use for an Auto.

"Imagine the most delightful old lady, 80 years young, who spends her every waking thought in the service of others, bringing everywhere to young and old and helpless cheer and wholesome energy—so that after she has gone you start blessing the world for being in it. Well, this woman is weak in one point only of her strong and lovable self—her feet. So she crawls where she would fly—as a bird flies to a dozen or so of her remote 'wards,' who clamor for her presence, and will not let her go when once they have her at their homes. What I want, since I cannot do it myself, is that some woman [or more] give what even the little delivery boy claims for himself, a lift, and motor this dearest of old bodies every now and then to one of her many missions of mercy. I envy the fun they will have! I leave it to them. They will willingly do it again and again and often. G. E. K."

Read the letter to the end, and if you do not send for the address for yourself get it for the friend who has a motor car and loves to do unto others as she would be treated were the positions reversed. The admiring friend who paints the picture of the octogenarian will be overjoyed to give her address and to add a "Godspeed" to it.

May Be Had for Postage.

"I have a lot of old magazines with good reading in them. If any one wants them they may be had by paying postage. I have a silk quilt commenced and I cannot get enough patches to finish it. If any one has silk scraps I will gladly pay postage on them. MARY M. F."

Quilt pieces cost nothing—the odds and ends we hoard aimlessly with the idea that they may possibly be of use to somebody some time. We offer the "somebody" and the "use and the time." Send to me for the address that will clear your piece drawers.

Bran Muffins.

"In inclose a recipe for bran muffins: Two eggs, well beaten; three tablespoons molasses, one teaspoon salt, two cups sweet milk, one cup whole wheat flour, two cups bran, two teaspoons baking powder. Yours in truth and love. "J. M."

I thank you for the contribution to our store of recipes for bran breads, likewise—and emphatically—for adding, "in truth and love." The muffins needed no further sweetening.

Doris Blake Says

"I'd rather be laughed at for being a spinster than to be unable to laugh because I was married."

The Modern Girl.

IN comparison with the girl of thirty years ago, the girl of today has a very long string to stretch before Dame Grundy puts on her specs and says, "Um! Um!" There was no question a quarter of a century ago of how far a girl might go. She was bound by the conventions, hedged in with propriety, and flanked by "thou shalt nots" and kept constantly under the vigilant eye of Mrs. Grundy.

But today Mrs. Grundy's eyes are somewhat dim. In fact, the modern girl generally doesn't know Dame Grundy has her eyes on her at all.

The average modern girl knows just about how far her string does extend, and the average modern girl doesn't put too great a strain upon it. She has a fair amount of that sixth sense called common, and she uses her freedom in the right way. She knows just how far she can go, and if she has had the right home training she doesn't need any one outside of her home circle to teach her.

I love the modern girl because she is so bright and jolly, sensible and aboveboard. She doesn't look at every man who approaches her with that "what-are-your-intentions-sir!" gaze of the girl of the past.

Yesterday's girl was shadowed by a chaperon wherever she went. When the chaperon's back was turned she thought she had to make the most of those rare moments. For this reason she thought more of flirting than does the modern maid.

Some one has described flirtation as "attention without intention." The modern girl understands, and she likes attention.

Of course she flirts. She uses man as the grindstone on which to sharpen her wits, and, like the grindstone, man is rarely injured by her feminine attacks.

Given an attractive girl and a man that is human, flirtation is almost inevitable. But Miss Modern Girl must draw the line and toe it. Her high spirits and joie-de-vivre must not carry her past the danger board. Danger boards, however, are always placed well in advance of the top of the hill. And one can always see them from a certain distance. And the average modern girl is nothing if not long sighted!

He's Deeply in Love.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 19 and am deeply in love with a girl in a nearby town. I have met her at different times. We have conversed with each other over the phone off and on for over four months. Sometimes she calls me up, but of late she has been giving more attention to a young man whom I introduced to her. I then wrote her a letter telling that I would not bother with her any more. Upon receiving the letter she called me up and said that she would like to see and hear from me again. She said I always treated her as a ady. This other young gentleman is a very dear friend of mine, so I do not like to stand between them. G. R."

You should not have written a letter of that sort to a girl. I cannot understand how she would be willing to have anything to do with you after you said to her that you would not bother with her any more. If you really do not wish to see her at all merely stay away and do not write letters to her. She will realize that your indifference means that you do not care to renew the friendship.

Didn't Stop to Talk.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of [illegible] and am going with a fellow of 19. One thing I do not care for him to do is when he goes to the show with me he puts his arm around the seat and hugs me. What time do you think I should go home at night? What time from parties? "ANXIOUS."

If you tell the young man that you would rather he did not put his arm on the back of the seat in the theater, he will undoubtedly stop doing it. I think that you are rather young to be going to theaters alone with men. Half past nine is late enough to be out, and you should be home and in bed at 11 o'clock when you have attended a party.

They Want to Marry.

"Dear Miss Blake: We are two girls of 19 and are considered very pretty. We have been going with two handsome boys of 21 for about a year. These boys love us dearly and we feel the same towards them. Should we marry them now or wait until we get older? We girls are the best of chums, as are the boys. The boys want to be married next month. Shall we marry them? "M. AND I."

You are too young to think of marriage. Wait a few years

The Banana Omelet.

SOMETHING for a pretty luncheon for a guest or two is always in demand. One of the staple luncheon dishes among the conventional eaters of the world is the omelet, which is not only a handsome thing, when well made, but also capable of a great number of variations. Besides, there is no other dish so light of texture and general effect which is so solidly nourishing.

Taking into consideration all these things, its correctness in a formal or social sense, its attractiveness to the eye, its palatableness, and its perfect quality as nutriment, the omelet stands out as one of the most worthwhile dishes in the repertoire of any cook, and one of the great dependencies of the resourceful housekeeper. It is also one of the most economical of all of the fine foods.

The omelet is also serviceable because it is so easy to get up a fine and quick meal with it with almost no planning ahead.

A recipe for a banana omelet, adapted from the French a good many months back, found favor in various places. It is a most delicious first dish for the midday meal. In one home where it became a favorite the red banana was thought preferable to the yellow and the dish was especially liked by the boy in his early teens. There are reasons why almost any child would like it, and for that reason it is an excellent medium for giving them solid nutriment. Everything in it is a rather concentrated food.

THREE EGG BANANA OMELET—Separate the yolks and whites of three eggs and beat each separately. It is easier to manage if one of the whites is left out. Beat the whites to a stiff froth and season with a pinch of salt and a pinch of sugar. In the meantime have in the frying pan over a gas burner, turned down almost to its lowest place, two tablespoons of sugar spread over the bottom, except round the outer inch, and on top of this one banana cut in very thin slices. As the sugar commences to boil and the banana to brown, lift from fire and turn each slice of banana. After this has cooked a little on the turned side, pour in the beaten yolks, and prick them while they set, as in the case of any omelet. Then spread the whites over them, and let cook about three minutes longer before folding and serving. Just before the yolk is put to cook, some butter may be added, about a teaspoonful, but, if carefully handled, this will not be needed. The difficulty is in keeping the sugar from burning. If just caramelized, it is delicious.

An expert eater splits this in eating, so as always to have some white on top and some of the caramelized and banana flavored cooked yolk on his tongue.

Can Find No One to Oppose Mrs. Trout.

So far Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout is the only candidate for the position of president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association. It is said that a number of factions of suffragists are looking around for a promising candidate to run against her. Several women who have been requested to run have refused to do it.

The state convention will be held in Chicago Oct. 29, 30, and 31, with meetings at the Congress hotel. Bitter feeling against Mrs. Trout was shown by some of the suffragists of the state at the convention last year, but no one was placed in the field against her.

It is figured that she will be stronger with the convention in Chicago than if it were downstate. She has the backing of Mrs. Harriette Taylor Treadwell, it is said, and Mrs. Treadwell is president of the largest suffrage club in the state, the Chicago Political Equality league.

The factions which may oppose her in the election are those led by Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch, Mrs. Ella S. Stewart, Dr. Anna Blount, and others formerly on the state board; the "national faction, led by Mrs. Medill McCormick; and the "philanthropy" trust, led by officers of the Woman's City club. Mrs. Medill McCormick has refused to be a candidate.

Young People's Societies Meet.

Christian Endeavor and Epworth league rallies were held last evening.

The Chicago Christian Endeavor union met in the Northwestern University building, West Lake and North Dearborn streets. There were 700 registrations. Further sessions will be held today, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Speakers will include Maj. M. L. C. Funkhouser, Miss Mary Bartelme, Harry Monroe, and the Rev. Henry Hepburn.

The Epworth league of the western district met in the Western Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. There were 1,000 present. Olivet church chapter won the silver loving cup by having 150 present. The Rev. M. C. Rice of Detroit made the address.

Will Tell War Experiences.

A joint meeting of the Chicago Peace society and the Forum will be held at the Hotel La Salle Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27, at 3 p. m. The program will be turned over to Chicagoans who were marooned abroad by the outbreak of the war, who will narrate their observations of conditions in the warring countries, and of the points of view of the peoples involved.

This joint meeting marks the opening of the season's activities of both organizations. The Forum will devote one program a month to the discussion of international peace, while the Chicago Peace society will continue its usual program of lectures and campaign of education.

"Trouville Trot Pantaloons"—Newest Dance Costume

"Trouville trot pantaloons," the latest and most practical dancing garment for the fair sex, caused a sensation at the Chicago style review in the annex of the Coliseum last night. Home exposition visitors gasped at the novelty, particularly its rainbow colors, when it was revealed on the figure of Miss Elsie Goldberg. The new pantaloons reach to the ankles, where they are bound tight in a lacy termination.

Chicago Gets Noval Exhibit.

The United States marine corps recruiting station at 628 South State street is in receipt of a naval and military exhibit which is now on display by direction of the secretary of the navy.

Among the articles displayed are the following: Government model of flagship Wyoming; latest models of armor piercing projectiles, three inch to thirteen inch; Colt automatic gun; latest model Springfield rifle, caliber 30; latest model Colt automatic pistols; heliograph signal outfits; acetylene gas signal outfits for night signaling; intrenching tools; forty large photographs of American occupation of Vera Cruz, Mex. Also numerous other interesting features depicting the life of marines on shore and on board men of war.

It is the intention of the secretary of the navy and commandant of the marine corps to maintain this naval and marine exhibit to educate and make plain to the people of the middle west what the United States marine corps is and does.

BUSHMAN BEWHISKERED

This is the first release of the interesting Essanay-Ladies' World coup which puts a new kink in the mystery contest proposition. The story, complete in itself in one number of the magazine, except for one omitted paragraph, is shown in its entirety in the pictured version. Thus the observer, having read the magazine, can go straight home from viewing the picture and write off his contribution to the collection of missing paragraphs, winning thereby, perhaps, a prize.

The picture, which has a Mexican revolution for its climactic height, is a three reeler of elaborate photographic effect. A lot of this effect was obtained down at Miller's Station, Ind., in the neighborhood of Labor day, where the picture company was at home to several hundred members of the Illinois National Guard, who set up a little war game for the day's amusement. A section of the "war" was engineered by Maj. John V. Clinnin, while the real hero of the occasion was Francis X. Bushman, whose life history provided the dash of romance around which this particular spot of warfare revolved.

It happened once in the long ago that Francis, known for film purposes as Craig Ewell, loved a lady, the same being loved by another person, who arranged a dastardly plan by which Ewell was accused of having robbed the limited. The accusation held, and Ewell, as Mawruss would put it, began to deal in stripes for a space of ten years. In that interval his sweetheart, shocked by his apparent criminal tendencies, went ahead and married Griggs, whom she soon discovered to be what she had feared the other man was.

The Grigges lived sufficiently in the neighborhood of Mexico for Norris to indulge his piratical instincts through the medium of the ever ready revolutions, and when Ewell departed from prison he wandered coastward—a coast cast remarkably like the Lake Michigan shore line—and got mixed into things, too, on the federal side. Griggs, receiving his due via a steel bullet, before his death confessed his connection with the early train robbery which had sent the innocent Ewell to prison. Thereupon the heroic and renovated Ewell sought the Widow Griggs and, introducing the reason for the picture's title, found her under a flowering plum tree, where they sponged out the past and made plans for a non-Griggs future.

A distinct feature of the picture is Bushman's beard, a makeup that doesn't seem particularly enhancing.

Loop Locals.

On Sunday Miss Mary Pickford makes her Studebaker bow in the filmatization of Channing Pollock's comedy, "Such a Little Queen." Carlyle Blackwell plays with her.

"Cabiria," at the Ziegfeld, continues to purvey some of the biggest legitimate thrills in filmdom.

"Traffic in Souls" is still showing at the Comedy theater.

The invitation exhibition at the La Salle opera house yesterday afternoon of the filmatization of Baroness Bertha von Suttner's peace novel, "Lay Down Your Arms," provided for the many guests plenty of concrete evidence of war horrors. The picture, which is magnificently staged and very well acted, will probably, it is announced, have a public showing in some loop playhouse.

WE ask the patience for a few days longer of those who submitted descriptions of OVENGOLD in our recent Contest.

The disturbances to our business caused by the European war, as explained in our announcement of September 2nd, have taken longer to adjust than we expected.

And so it has been impossible to give thorough consideration to all of the more than four thousand letters received.

We shall make final announcement within a few days of the exact date for publication of the names of the winners.

Betrothals Mark the Autumn Season

Whatever the autumn season lacks in activity, it is to be given its full quota of interesting betrothal announcements. Today Dr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer Williamson of 1351 North Dearborn street announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Josephine, to Carl Henry Zeiss, son of the late Henry C. F. Zeiss and Mrs. Zeiss of Chicago. Miss Williamson, who was graduated from Vassar in '13, was one of the debutantes of last winter, and, if memory serves aright, is the first of this group to announce her betrothal.

Miss Williamson and Mr. Zeiss met for the first time at the initial appearance of Miss Williamson at a debutante dance given in her honor. Since that time they have been such close friends that the announcement of their coming marriage will not be a surprise to their circle of acquaintances.

Mr. Zeiss, whose family for many years lived on the south side, is the grandnephew and namesake of Carl Zeiss, the German scientist of fame. He is a graduate of Princeton of '07 and of the Harvard law school. The wedding is to take place in the Easter season.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Marcia Brackenridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brackenridge of Richmond Hill, L. I., to Frederick Hampden Winston, son of Mrs. Frederick S. Winston of 1508 North State street. The wedding will take place during the fall. Mr. Winston was graduated from Yale in 1907, and is a member of the University and Saddle and Cycle clubs. He is a grandson of the late Gen. Winston. Miss Brackenridge was one of the bridesmaids at the Broome-Spoor wedding last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Almy announce the engagement of their granddaughter, Miss Mildred Almy Parker, to Lieut. Barton Kyle Yount of the Twenty-seventh infantry, U. S. A. The wedding is to take place on Sept. 29 at Buda, Ill. Miss Parker is a niece of Winthrop Parker of New York, who married Miss Mabel Kelsey of Philadelphia a year ago. She has been Mr. and Mrs. Parker's guest at their summer home, Spruce Camp, Christmas Cove, Me., during the summer, and many entertainments were given for her by the Philadelphia group. Lieut. Yount has been ordered to the Philippines for a three years' commission, and with his bride he will sail on Oct. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Tyler of La Grange announce the engagement of their oldest daughter, Louise Brooks, to Ralph Corson Llewellyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Llewellyn, also of La Grange.

At a dinner given last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magnus of 420 Barry avenue announced the engagement of their daughter, Marie, to Harry W. Henes, formerly of New York but now of Chicago. Mr. Henes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henes of New York and brother of Mrs. Edward Bolter of 443 Barry avenue, who gave a dinner in their honor Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carlson of North Edgewater announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Karl Gerhard Sandell.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert G. Spring of Aurora announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriet, to Arthur Lintott. Miss Spring is a niece of Frank T. Baird of Chicago.

The engagement is announced of Miss Anna Katherine Witt, daughter of Mrs. Anna K. Witt of Wilmette to Kenneth Shields Witt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Witt of Evanston.

Tells of Work Done by Englewood League

A REPORT of the work accomplished by the Englewood Law and Order league was issued yesterday by John H. Lyle, attorney for the organization. The report covers the five and a half years during which Attorney Lyle has been connected with the league.

After referring to the wineroom ordinance which he drafted, Mr. Lyle says:

"The Englewood Law and Order league brought into court the first '26' dice games; secured convictions and was directly responsible, with the valuable assistance of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, in stamping out, as we believe, at least 11,000 of these games. The league investigated the sale of liquors in chop suey restaurants and other restaurants without licenses, made a report which was published, and which resulted in the suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquors in restaurants not having a $1,000 license, all over the city."

The following cases were prosecuted by the league:

Pollroom keepers operating gambling games	16
Houses and flats of prostitution	48
Blind pigs	16
Saloons open after 1 o'clock a. m.	17
Saloons operating gambling games	31
Wine rooms and palm gardens	36
Dance halls harboring girls under age and permitting drinking	8
Poolrooms harboring minors	29
Fraudulent saloon petitions	7
Wife beaters and nonsupporters	19
Indecent liberties with children	9
Saloons open on election day	5
Saloons selling liquor to minors	19
Saloons selling liquor to habitual drunkards	14
Inmates of houses of prostitution and gambling joints caught in raids	56
Assaults by drunken husbands, saloonkeepers, and bartenders	10
Hotels run as assignation houses	7
Street walkers	17
Miscellaneous cases	21

Twenty-seven cases are still pending in court and forty-three complaints are awaiting investigation. This list does not include the charitable work carried on by the league.

The Negro in America.

The total negro population of the United States—latest figures—is 9,828,294, according to a pamphlet issued yesterday by the Illinois commission appointed by Gov. Dunne to arrange a half century anniversary of negro freedom.

The negroes own $1,000,000,000 worth of property and worship in $65,000,000 worth of churches. Their land covers 31,000 square miles, or 20,000,000 acres. There are 1,119,653 negro female breadwinners, 16 years of age and over. Of these, the largest figure, 634,104, are domestics, 434,041 are engaged in agricultural pursuits, 361,804 are agricultural laborers, and 313,091 are servants and waitresses.

QUERY ENGLAND ON CARDEN TALK

Washington Finds Alleged Disorders in Mexico Unfounded.

CATHOLICS ASK GUARD.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—The United States government has sent a formal note to Great Britain inquiring if the recent interview attributed to Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, criticising President Wilson for withdrawing American forces from Vera Cruz was accurate in any part.

An indication of the displeasure of the American government over the incident is understood to have been conveyed in the note. It is considered possible among diplomatists that Sir Lionel may not be accredited to Brazil, his new post, because of the incident.

The American government has had occasion more than once to intimate to the British foreign office that Sir Lionel Carden was thwarting the Mexican policy of the American government. He was practically forced to leave Mexico by Gen. Carranza, the diplomatic intervention of the United States alone preventing the Constitutionalist chief from abruptly handing passports to the British envoy.

Contradict Carden Account.

President Wilson is constantly receiving reports of the rapid reconstruction of affairs in Mexico, contradicting the statements of disorder alleged to have been made by Sir Lionel Carden. Gen. Villa telegraphed the president today his thanks for the withdrawal of the troops and spoke of his coöperation with the other chiefs for peace. Furthermore, Gen. Zapata has replied to Gen. Carranza's invitation to attend the national convention on Oct. 1 for the purpose of choosing a provisional president.

It is generally understood here that Gen. Carranza will resign as first chief and that Fernando Iglesias Calderon will be named provisional president. The latter will conduct a general election, in which Carranza expects to be a candidate.

Ask Protection by U. S.

Members of the Roman Catholic clergy today appealed to the president and to the state department on behalf of about 400 Catholic priests and nuns who have taken refuge in Vera Cruz. The refugees are greatly alarmed for their own safety if they remain in Vera Cruz after the evacuation of that port by the United States forces and are understood to desire the United States either to provide them with transportation out of Mexico or guarantee their safety if they remain.

It is asserted on behalf of the priests and nuns that they were driven to take refuge under the American flag at Vera Cruz as a result of the outrages committed upon them and the properties of their orders during the fighting of the last six months.

May Warn Mexico City.

This appeal brings again before the Washington government the question of the attitude of the Constitutionalist forces toward the Catholic clergy in Mexico.

In the light of this latest appeal, it is expected that fresh representations will be made to the Mexico City government on behalf of any of the church refugees who may remain at Vera Cruz, and it is not seen here how this government can do anything beyond that on behalf of any remaining in Mexican territory.

GEN. VILLA DENIES FRICTION.

Sends Message to Wilson—Other Reports Say Order Is Being Restored in Mexico.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Gen. Villa sent a message to President Wilson today denying there was any friction between him and other Constitutionalist leaders. From other sources came reports that Villa was loyal to Carranza. The other reports said that in some cases properties had been taken over for protection, but there had been no confiscation. The general tenor of today's reports was to assure the president that order is being restored.

Fisherman's Body Found.

Joseph Decks of 1888 Allport street had been going fishing at the foot of Twelfth street every day this summer. Yesterday his body was found in the lake near his favorite spot.

U. S. EYE ON PORTER & CO.

Landis Orders Searching Grand Jury Inquiry.

FIRM HAS MANY NAMES.

Assets Vanish in Proceedings in Bankruptcy.

Judge Landis yesterday ordered a searching grand jury investigation of the operations of Porter & Co. and Myron Goldsohl, president of the company. The judge came to the conclusion that only the grand jury could successfully unravel the mysteries of "Porter & Co." as a trade name and "Porter & Co." as a corporate title and the rather unusual ramifications revealed through bankruptcy proceedings against the company.

The company formerly operated a department store at State street and Jackson boulevard. It went into bankruptcy several months ago, but Goldsohl continued to do business "at the old stand," and is now operating a merchandise store in the same building under the style of M. G. Budd & Co.

The order sending the case to the grand jury came after five hours of questioning by Judge Landis. The judge wanted to know something about the various firms, corporations, individuals, and trade names that operated apparently under the protecting wing of Goldsohl.

Various Names of Store.

The cross fire of questions brought out that the following names are used by the store: Porter & Co., the Central Leader, the Porter company, I. Lipoowitz, Jacob Fligeltaub, George Bolt, Porter M. Farrell, Budd & Co., Nathan Getz, and M. G. Budd & Co. Porter M. Farrell, a former partner of "Meet Me Face to Face" Tom Murray, withdrew from the company several months ago.

The case came up on complaint of Fligeltaub that Goldsohl had taken possession of the fixtures Fligeltaub used in the clothing department. Three bankruptcies have occurred in the store in less than a year. Fligeltaub's was the latest of the series. It was charged, also, that a large quantity of his clothing stock had disappeared.

"Now, listen, judge; wait a minute," said Lee Corey, trying to explain the mystery. "There were about 300 or 400 suits gone. The cream was all taken."

Worsteds, Woolens—Cream.

"The cream? What cream?" Judge Landis asked.

"Worsteds, woolens—the best of the stock," Corey said.

"All right," Judge Landis said. "I have tried to learn something about this case, but I find it is a subject for the grand jury to investigate. I don't imply that any one has done anything wrong. In all the time I have heard bankruptcy cases—and bankruptcy cases are eye-openers—this one has all others beaten. Yes, this case is full of romance.

"I hope the court will cease to be pestered further with transactions which have taken place under that one roof on State street. There has been a painful shrinkage in the assets everywhere, and I want the grand jury to look into it."

Samuel Levy, a government auctioneer, told the judge that two days before Fligeltaub went into bankruptcy there were three truck loads of clothing taken away. He said Fligeltaub also had a store at 642 South State street.

"How is that?" the judge asked.

"Judge, I don't know anything about it, upon my word," Fligeltaub said. "Believe me, judge, I am innocent of everything."

$9 A WEEK BOY ROBS TO SUPPORT 16 YEAR OLD BRIDE

Gayly Holds Up Loop Offices and Gets $45 from One.

PLANS CRIMES BY BOOK

"A Loving Kiss."

Three A. M., Aug. 29, Chicago—Dearest Lula: A few words before I go on this ungodly errand, although knightly in purpose. If I am caught, which will only be at my death, as that is much preferable, learn to forgive and forget, as my sincere love for you prompted this action.

I wanted to give you comfort and happiness, but alas, "the best laid plans of mice and men gang aft agiee. Unworthy,

HENRY J. FERNEKES.

A loving kiss.

Two days after he wrote that letter Fernekes married Miss Lula Mae Woodard, 16 years old, in Valparaiso, Ind. Fernekes is 18 years old.

Holds Up Loop Office.

About 10 o'clock yesterday morning a rosy cheeked boy rushed panting through the doorway into room 1035 First National Bank building. There was a revolver in each hand.

"Close that door," he ordered, "and keep still."

Charles S. Norton, his brother, Irving, and the two stenographers, Miss Florence Mayer and Esther E. Penikoff, sprang toward the door and closed it.

The boy put down his pistols and took off his coat, slipping one of the weapons into a pocket. Then he hung the coat on the wall.

All Begin Joking.

It was almost incredible. The big, black pistol in his hand was almost as big as the youth himself, it seemed to the girls. They began to giggle. The Nortons grinned. The bandit himself gave way to laughter.

"Say," he said, "I'd like to take your pictures."

The boy grouped them as he wished, and then took from his vest pocket a small kodak. He snapped them in all sorts of poses until his film gave out.

The youthful desperado was pleasant and entertaining. Norton vowed he ought to charge him for floor space and made similar remarks. Then they tried to coax from the child burglar the story of his life.

After an hour of bantering, Norton, saying he was about to wash his hands, left the room. He went to the office of the building. The mysterious youth followed him part way.

From the office Norton got Miss Mayer on the telephone.

"Take the revolver from his coat," Norton said. But the girl would not handle it. Irving Norton took it.

Then the elder Norton learned the police were searching all over the building for a young man who had just committed a holdup in room 1017.

Hears of Robbery.

The youth had pointed a revolver at Miss Ella L. Jones. The girl had given him $45.50 in a tin box in the vault. The robber had insisted on more. He had grabbed the girl by the shoulders. She had pushed him into the vault. She had tried to close the door on him, but had not been strong enough. He had attacked her. She had screamed. He had run from the office, down the corridor. A porter with a pail of water had tried to intercept the fugitive and had been sent spinning. Then, the runner had disappeared behind a corner in the corridor.

So Policeman Harold Fogarty came back with Norton and found the stranger sitting at a desk sorting mail. He submitted gracefully to arrest and gave the name of Henry J. Fernekes, 18 years old, 2232 Fremont street. He had been rooming since Sunday, he said, at 1349 North La Salle street.

Couldn't Marry on $9 a Week.

The police went there. Among the boy's effects they found the letter printed at the beginning of this story and a marriage certificate dated Aug. 31.

Then the boy robber talked. He was getting $9 a week, he said, as a clerk in the office of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company. He couldn't get married on that and he must have money. So he bought a magazine pistol and a long black barreled revolver, some cotton batting for gags, some leather thongs for binding wrists or arms, a jimmy, a book called "Stop Thief," and other implements of the burglar trade. Then he bought a package of cigarets and took the Turkish rug it contained, cut holes in it, fastened a rubber band to the top corners, and made a fancy mask of it.

Holds Up L Agent.

The youth procured several maps of the elevated railroad system, and on Sept. 2, he says, he began his career of crime by holding up Edward J. Kane, ticket agent at the Sheridan road station on the Northwestern L. He shot a cuff button from Kane's sleeve, but got no money.

The youth came back on Sept. 15, poked his gun through the window, and took $3.95.

"Have you got a grudge against me?" asked Kane.

"Not particularly," answered the boy, "but I'm coming back and get you again."

Fernekes admits also holding up William McCrea at the Schiller street station Sept. 17 and taking $7.60, but denies he had any part in the robbery on Sept. 15 of William Luetge at the Sheridan road station, where $84.90 was taken.

Sergt. John Anderson of Central station questioned the prisoner as to recent saloon robberies, but he would admit nothing further.

Miss Jones and the two agents identified Fernekes. He joked with them and told Kane it was lucky the police got him so soon.

"I don't know why I let them get me," the youth said. "Miss Jones almost had me. If she had screamed when she had me in the vault, instead of later, I wouldn't have had any chance to escape.

"But I was just overconfident, I guess. I didn't think Norton would turn me over to the police after we had had such a nice time."

Son of Notorious "Innkeeper"?

On the marriage certificate Fernekes is said to be the son of Peter E. Fernekes, a summer resort keeper of Valparaiso. When asked if his father was not the Peter E. Fernekes who formerly owned the notorious "Village Inn," which was known in the district as "Pete and Lizzie's," the young man would say nothing.

"The kid has been fed too much on crook literature," was Sergt. Anderson's diganosis. "He found out too late that easy money is not profit. There was a bank book in his room with $36 in it—and that's hardly enough to retain a lawyer, much less support a wife."

Brought Into Spotlight by Loop Bandit.

SHUNNING THE CAMERA.

Henry J. Fernekes, boy robber, possessed one of the best and most modern collections of burglars' tools which the police have seen in some time. He carried them in the small valise in which he used to pack his school books just a few months ago. Henry had the newest of shooting irons, a novelty mask, made out of a Turkish "atrocity" rug—the kind that come with cigarets—and the best of leather thongs and gags. The kit also contained his camera, with which he snapped pictures of Miss Mayer and Miss Penikoff while he was hiding from the police. Fernekes has a terror of cameras trained on himself, however, and a horror of seeing his picture in the papers. He refused to pose and hid his face before "snapshotters."

BANGETY BANG STREET CARS ANGER OAK PARK WOMAN.

Mrs. W. F. Scott Says Rumbling Traction Has Made Her "Practically a Widow."

Mrs. W. F. Scott of 217 Maple avenue, Oak Park, is accustomed to shocks, but nevertheless dislikes them. She made this clear Thursday evening before the village board when she complained that street cars of the Chicago and West Towns railway company had shaken her house so that for two years she hadn't enjoyed a good night's sleep; that her nerves were wrecked and she was "practically a widow."

Aside from these things Oak Park is a nice quiet place with excellent transportation facilities.

But yesterday Mrs. Scott asserted she incurred a shock greater than any in the recent two years. The shock was occasioned by reading newspaper accounts of her protest, which stated her husband had been driven away from home because of the street cars' racket. She says her husband is in western Canada on a business trip and will return some day. She says she only meant to be sarcastic when she said she was "practically a widow."

"I nearly fainted when I read that my husband had left me," she said in a telephone conversation, frequently interrupted by street cars passing Mrs. Scott's residence.

WOMAN SUICIDE ON TRAIN; DESPONDENT OVER HOME.

Mrs. Ida Meek Pulls Revolver from Handbag and Shoots Herself in Temple.

Despondent at leaving her old home in Meriden, Conn., to join her husband in Chicago, Mrs. Ida Meek, wife of J. B. Meek, 3238 North Halsted street, ended her life last night on a Grand Trunk passenger train by shooting herself in the right temple. Fellow passengers saw her take a revolver from her handbag just as the train crossed the Illinois state line. Before they could reach her she fired.

She was identified by letters from her husband, who had written that he hoped she would like her "new home in Chicago."

Meek is employed by the Buckley-Dement company, 605 South Clark street.

WOMAN IN MYSTERY CASE.

Louise Beach Sues Giles P. Corey for Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, but Why?

Who is Louise Beach, and how did Giles P. Cory injure her to the extent of $25,000? Her lawyer, H. A. Barnhardt, refuses to discuss the case until the statement has been filed. He merely says, "My client has a good case."

Yesterday Mr. Cory admitted he "knew a woman named Louise Beach."

Last night, a woman who said she was Mrs. Cory, talked to a reporter behind the closed door of her apartment at 4535 Clifton avenue. She said her husband was not at home and that he refused to see reporters. She denied all knowledge of Miss Beach.

MIND TEST CASE TO JUDGE

Moron Slayer Admits Guilt; Asks Court's Mercy.

WILL SET A PRECEDENT.

Ruling of Magistrate Is Awaited with Interest.

William Rahn, the youthful slayer, who was found to be mentally deficient by Dr. William J. Hickson, director of the municipal psychopathic laboratory, yesterday withdrew his plea of not guilty, confessed the murder, and threw himself upon the mercy of the court.

It therefore devolves upon Judge William E. Dever to establish a precedent on the value of psychopathy in capital cases instead of a jury.

Immediately preceding William's confession, the judge ruled that the evidence did not implicate Edward Rahn, a brother, and Philip Krajecki, and took their cases from the consideration of the jury. That means that these two boys are cleared. It leaves Anton Piatrowski alone on trial. The latter's lawyer, Fred S. Weinman, would not permit his examination by Prof. Hickson. Weinman contends the state does not have sufficient evidence to convict.

Dr. Hickson will take the stand this morning. The fate of William will depend largely upon what the expert can get into the record. Assistant State's Attorney Witty will attempt to show that such evidence is not competent.

SELF-ACCUSER NOT WANTED.

Man Who Has Police Lock Him Up on Embezzlement Charge Thought to Be Unbalanced Mentally.

William Severding is held at the South Clark street station until the police receive transportation expenses from his home in Cincinnati, O., with which to send him back. Severding walked into the station Thursday night and told the desk sergeant to lock him up as he was wanted in Cincinnati for embezzling $19 from his employers. The police here conferred with the police at Cincinnati, who wired back that they will send transportation and expenses, although he is not wanted for any crime. He is believed by the police to be mentally unbalanced.

Seek Poison in Body.

Information reaching the state's attorney's office regarding an insurance policy yesterday resulted in the exhumation at Mount Glenwood of the body of J. H. Brown, a negro, for the purposes of a chemical test for poison. Brown, a porter, died on Aug. 31 in his home at 3036 Prairie avenue, supposedly of heart disease.

KILLS WIDOW; THEN HIMSELF

Tragedy Ends Jilted Jeweler's Effort to Renew Romance.

PISTOL FAILS; POISON.

For two years Mrs. Rose Gosselin's neighbors in the Belmont apartments at 4220 Berkeley avenue had been watching the progress of her love affair with John Jakubka.

So yesterday afternoon, when Jakubka called, a half dozen interested pairs of eyes folowed him up the stairs to the widow's third flat. Mrs. Gosselin, it was understood, had forbidden him to call again and exciting developments were to be expected.

The developments started no sooner than the door of Mrs. Gosselin's flat had closed behind the unwelcome suitor.

"Marry Me, Rosie."

"Marry me, Rosie! You must!" Jakubka's words carried through the silent halls.

Mrs. Gosselin's answer was not so distinct, but the neighbors were able to guess what it was. Mrs. Gosselin had made no secret of her intention of dismissing Jakubka. She was 40 and he was two years younger—there was the barrier.

The conversation in the widow's flat was carried on for several minutes in high pitched tones. Then a revolver shot punctuated it. As the neighbors rushed into the halls there were two more reports.

Miss Elizabeth Boring and Mrs. C. E. Kemph, who occupy the apartment opposite that of Mrs. Gosselin, opened their hall door. At the same time the door across the corridor opened and Mrs. Gosselin rushed out.

"My God—he's done it!" she cried. Then she fell, unconscious.

See Him Try to End His Life.

Miss Boring looked up the long private hall of the widow's apartment. Jakubka was lying on the floor of the front room. He held a revolver to his head and pulled the trigger twice. The hammer clicked, but no report followed.

When the police arrived, however, Jakubka was dead. When the revolver failed him he had taken poison—a mixture of arsenic and morphine. Mrs. Gosselin died on the way to the Lake Shore hospital.

Jakubka, a jeweler living at 1536 Kedvale avenue, had been paying attention to Mrs. Gosselin since a few months after the death of her husband. The widow, who derived a comfortable income from the rent of several rooms, said she had decided not to marry again. Jakubka, the police believe, thought he had a rival.

Italian Consul Attacked.

New York, Sept. 18.—Giacoma Fara Forni, the Italian consul general in New York, was struck with a blackjack by an Italian who accosted him at a downtown street corner this afternoon and who escaped after the assault. The consul was painfully hurt.

CHICAGO HELPS MANY PAUPERS OF OTHER CITIES

Dependents Come Here, Stay Year and Must Be Supported.

OUTSIDERS SEND MONEY

Eugene T. Lies, superintendent of the United Charities, disclosed yesterday that Chicago is caring for many of the paupers of neighboring communities.

"I don't believe these nearby cities purposely send paupers and dependents of other sorts into Chicago," Mr. Lies said, "but they come here nevertheless. And after they have resided here a year we must support them, as it is then too late to send them back.

"Our friends in the neighboring communities are beginning to recognize we have greater poverty problems than they, and consequently are beginning to contribute to our work. Within a week we have received sums from bankers in other cities and states, as acknowledgements of the burden of poverty which the United Charities of Chicago is carrying for the whole middle west.

Agreement with Other Cities.

"The United Charities transportation department and the county agent, however, have signed an agreement with hundreds of similar departments and organizations in this country and Canada to abide by the rules of the committee on transportation of the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

"There are many rules covering the transportation of dependents, and a violation by the authorities of other cities makes it obligatory for us to return the applicant to the town that sent him and charge the cost to their charity department.

"A poor family was sent to a western city from Pennsylvania without the necessary precautions. The husband sold his ticket, and his wife made the trip alone. Upon her arrival she told a pitiful story of her husband dying in Philadelphia. The local charity refused to send her back to Philadelphia without making proper inquiry and observing the transportation agreement. Later the husband was found and compelled to care for his family.

Woman from Texas.

"There is a woman in Chicago today whose legal residence is in San Antonio, Tex., whose relatives here cannot support her, and who was sent here by a charitable agency in direct violation of the agreement. We are demanding that San Antonio send money for her fare back there, as she is a dependent, and it is not right to expect Cook county and the United Charities to support her with local funds. It would be the same as cutting down the rations of our own people.

"Many persons are sent away by means of transportation secured through the United Charities. These have relatives or others definitely agreeing to assume all responsibility for their care in the city to which they are going."

"$40,000 JEWEL" ROBBERY DWINDLES TO SMALL SUM.

Automobile Highwaymen Steal Car from Chicago Garage and Hold Up Resort of Kankakee Woman.

Five auto highwaymen, who took an automobile from the garage of Wallin & Jerome at 2913 Cottage Grove avenue, held up the inmates of a resort conducted by Mrs. Nellie Clark in Kankakee, Ill., early yesterday and escaped with about $200 in cash and some jewelry. Mrs. Clark claimed to have lost diamonds valued at $40,000 and several posses were formed to search for the thieves.

The automobile was found abandoned near Momence and the men are believed to have ridden into Chicago on a freight train. The car, which contained a kit of burglars' tools, bore license number 92113. This was found to belong to Julius J. Strehlow of 2350 South Clifton avenue. The latter went to the garage and found his car still there, but discovered that his license number had been removed and 64361 left in its place. This number was issued to Edmund Krumfuss of Bartlett, Ill., whose machine was missing from the garage.

Mr. Jerome said the machine was taken while he was out at lunch. Detectives brought in two employés of the garage and examined them. Mrs. Clark expressed the opinion that the robbery was planned by Belle Hastings of Chicago, a former inmate of the resort with whom she had quarreled. A search is being made for the woman.

"BLIND PIG" EXPOSE STIRS OLD RESIDENTS OF BERWYN.

Publication of List of Alleged Illegal Liquor Sellers First Many Knew of Saloons in the Village.

"The animals are raging," said Attorney Gideon Thompson of Berwyn yesterday.

By animals, Mr. Thompson meant blind pigs. They were raging because of the story printed yesterday in THE TRIBUNE, which was the first intimation many of the residents of Berwyn had of the existence of the saloons.

Mr. Thompson has sworn out warrants against ten alleged illegal saloons, but deputies could find none on whom to serve them, it is declared.

"These places are all quiet now," Thompson declared, "and most of the owners are 'laying low.' We expect to round them all up, however, sooner or later."

Mayor H. S. Rich, who said he would prosecute any blind pig that dared show its snout in his city, could not be reached by phone.

PLUMBER JOE DAZZLES RIALTO

Hires Thespians by Score for Supposedly Mighty Production of "Winsome Widows."

COLLECTS CASH; DUCKS.

But Later Aspiring Producer Is Found and Suffers Ignominy of the Booby Hatch.

Persons anxious to learn why "The Winsome Widows of the Wild and Woolly West" didn't go on the road may find out by applying at detective headquarters, which is just four doors, an iron railing, and an areaway north of the hall where most of the first act was rehearsed.

The detectives have Joe Byers, creator, business manager, and erstwhile stage director of the Winsome Widows, locked up in their cellar, in the realm colloquially referred to as "down the booby hatch."

Joe came to town three weeks ago with a Broadway suit, a walking stick, and an idea. He used the want ad columns to advertise for a stock of actors and actresses, "some experience desirable—but not necessary."

Joe Gets Into Action.

Joe had rented a hall at La Salle and Randolph streets and there he received hundreds of applicants. He accepted so many of them that word spread he was organizing two companies, one for a New York Hippodrome spectacle and the other for a war movie with four complete army corps shown in action.

Right at the start, when only half a hundred had been taken on, Joe began the rehearsal of the Winsome Widows. It was real rehearsing, too. The prospective chorus girls found that out when he fined a few of them $1 apiece for being late.

Find the Boss Gone.

One morning last week it was Mr. Byers who was late. The "company" found the hall door locked and waited in vain for the "boss" to show up. They began to compare notes and learned that Byers had collected from $5 to $20 from each.

Harry Berkeley of 425 East Forty-second place, who pawned a $65 cornet and gave the proceeds to Byers, complained to the police. Joe was picked up yesterday by Detectives Kelly and McGurk while lounging in Randolph street.

Joe told the police that he was a plumber.

NEGRO CHURCH MEETING BROKEN UP BY MURDER.

Members of African Methodist Conference Rush to Scene of Crime When Woman Is Slain.

The evening session of the African Methodist Episcopal conference in St. Stephen's A. M. E. church at 2444 West Austin avenue broke up last night when one of the delegates rushed in and informed Mrs. Aramipta Thomas, widow of the late Rev. J. F. Thomas, that her sister had been murdered a short distance from the church. Most of those in attendance hurried into North Lincoln street, where they found the body of Mrs. Ada Lowe Young lying on the sidewalk. The police were carrying David Young of 3444 South Wabash avenue away in an ambulance.

The couple had left the church but a few moments before. Young shot the woman three times and then turned the weapon on himself, but inflicted only a flesh wound in the abdomen. He attempted to snap the trigger a second time, but it refused to work. He told the police he had been married to the woman a number of years and had upbraided her for allowing other men to pay her attentions.

THOMAS L. REEVES HELD; ECHOES OF PAST, HE SAYS.

Builders' Exchange Secretary Is Charged with Obtaining Money by Fraudulent Pretenses.

Thomas L. Reeves, who gained notoriety several years ago when he shot Dr. P. E. Kelly, whom he accused of alienating his wife's affections, and who was later tried and acquitted, was arrested by detectives last night on three charges of obtaining money by false pretenses.

The complainants against Reeves are Otto Johnson, Werner Fors, and Otto Enroth, all of whom live at 1503 Wieland avenue. They assert that Reeves, who is secretary of the Chicago Builders' exchange, obtained $130 from them, for which he was to get them jobs.

"It is the aftermath of my former troubles," Reeves said last night in his cell. "The warrants were taken out by friends of my former enemy."

SONSTEBY ASKS SCHOOL INQUIRY IN BOOK PRICES

Asserts Chicago Is Discriminated Against Among Cities.

HE NAMES FIVE FIRMS

A complete investigation of the prices paid for text books will be asked of the school management committee by Trustee John J. Sonsteby next Thursday. Mr. Sonsteby visited the board rooms yesterday in search of information as to book company contracts.

Mr. Sonsteby will call for all the contracts between all book firms and the board of education. He will ask to see all bids on all contracts and check up to see if they correspond. He will ask to have the bonds of all the companies looked into, and in case the committee finds there has been any violation of the contracts, he will call for the forfeiture of the bonds.

Easy to Figure Board Loss.

"If it is learned that some of the companies have violated their contracts, as it now appears," said Mr. Sonsteby, "it will be easy to figure how much the board has lost. It will be impossible, however, to tell how much the pupils have lost."

Mr. Sonsteby has accused the following firms of selling books cheaper in other states than in Chicago: Ginn & Co., the American Book company, D. C. Heath & Co., Allyn & Bacon, and Rand, McNally & Co.

Representatives of several of these firms visited Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, in regard to the subject.

It is said the excuse of the book companies is that lower prices have been made in other states because the books have been put on the "closed list," assuring them of a sale. In Chicago the books are on the "open list," with a choice of several from which the teacher may choose.

Sees No Reason for Big Price.

Mr. Sonsteby maintains there is nothing in the contracts with the Chicago board which allows them to make a higher price because of this distinction. He suggested in case any of the bonds have been forfeited the money be used to buy books for the schools.

HURRYING AUTOIST HITS BOY, MAN, AND A HOUSE.

Three Injured When Harold Boden's Machine Goes Amuck as He Tries to Avert Crash.

Harold Boden, sales manager for the Northwestern Cut Stone company, living at the Congress hotel, called in a motor car last night for Miss Elma Jansen and Miss Ruth Kimmel at 1417 North La Salle street and started to a loop theater.

They were proceeding southward at what eyewitnesses called a "smart clip" approaching Division street, where the corner was left dark by a crippled light, when two small boys, Joseph Wynn of 1040 Franklin street and Oliver Harris of 1032 Franklin street stepped into the path of the machine.

Mr. Boden at the wheel swung the machine sharply to the west to dodge the boys.

Harris was sideswiped by the car and sent rolling with a broken right leg as the car trundled over the curb and brought up against a building at 1166 North La Salle, smashing into John Thompson, the janitor there. Thompson suffered a double fracture of the right leg and bruises. Miss Kimmel, while not thrown from the car, suffered injuries to the left elbow.

Mr. Boden was booked at Chicago avenue station on a charge of assault.

GIRL WRITES NOTE TO MAN; TAKES POISON; MAY LIVE.

Myrtle Santry of Detroit Says She Is Sick of Life She Has Lived with Him.

Myrtle Santry of Detroit swallowed poison at her room at 81 East Oak street last night. She blamed a man and a quarrel. She was taken to Passavant hospital.

In the girl's room the police found a note addressed to the man the girl accused. She wrote:

"I am sick of the life I have lived with you and I have made up my mind I can stand it no longer. You have hid behind the cloak of religion, but some day you will be found out. I want you to tell your wife I am sorry for what I have done. I have found that what you do to others will some day come back to you. I have had my experiences in this world. You have taken all I had from me, my name and all.

MYRTLE."

MRS. BRYAN A SUFFRAGIST.

Wife of Secretary of State States Position in Signed Statement to Association.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—In a signed statement made public here today through the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association Mrs. W. J. Bryan, wife of the secretary of state, declares herself in favor of women suffrage.

The statement was made public to set at rest rumors that Mrs. Bryan was opposed to the movement. It is as follows:

"I have never been an anti-suffragist nor attended any anti meetings. I have been a firm believer in suffrage without a sex qualification for twenty-five years and wish success to the equal suffrage movement. Our older daughter has been an interested voter in Colorado, our younger a member of the College league at the Nebraska State university."

JABS BY MANDOT DEFEAT WOLGAST IN FURIOUS BOUT

Tantalizing Pokes Backed by Clever Defense Win for Southener.

LEADS IN EIGHT ROUNDS

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—Clever attack and an equally clever performance at defensive fighting enabled Joe Mandot of New Orleans to beat Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, so far tonight that if a decision had been permitted it would have gone to the southern champion.

Mandot won with left stabs, right swings, and uppercuts. He met the "Michigan Bearcat" every time the latter advanced, leading a left stab, which straightened Ad out of his shell for the right swing that followed. Many of Mandot's blows failed to reach the spot for which they were intended because Wolgast covered his jaw with his left glove.

Draw Rounds Ad's Best.

There were only a few times that Wolgast landed on Mandot's head with any great force. Once in the third round and again in the fifth he reached the southerner's head with left swings, and he followed up these punches in good style which enabled him to earn an even break on these rounds.

All of the other rounds, the first, second, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth, were Mandot's by indisputable margins.

In the last three rounds Wolgast showed the effects of the gruelling by slowing up, and when the final gong sounded he was a tired boy, while Mandot left the ring with all kinds of spring in his step. There was nothing resembling a knockdown and little blood flowed. In the fifth round Wolgast spit gore from his talker, but that was all.

Crowd of 3,000 Sees Bouts.

That fight fans are experiencing the effect of "tight money" was apparent when a count of noses in the house was taken. An estimate of 3,000 fans would be liberal, and Dreamland's capacity is few over 4,000. In the crowd were many women fans who did not hesitate to root for their favorites.

Before Wolgast and Mandot crawled through the ropes a challenge to the winner was read from Champion Lightweight Freddie Welsh. Charley White, a ringsider, immediately stated that Welsh was overlooking him.

Wolgast and Mandot weighed in at 3 o'clock, the notch being 133 pounds. Mandot was first to enter the ring, at 9:40 o'clock. He soon was followed by Wolgast. The "Bearcat" was cheered wildly, as he is popular in Milwaukee.

Among the prominent members of the boxing fraternity at the ringside were Joe Rivers of California, Bat Nelson, Knockout Brown, and lesser celebrities.

FIRST ROUND—They wasted no time going into action. Mandot stabbed three lefts to head. Wolgast crouched and tried with two left swings, but missed. Wolgast landed left to jaw. Mandot put light left to face. Wolgast sent hard right to stomach. In a mixup Wolgast landed twice to body while Mandot put right and left to jaw. There was no damage, but Mandot landed a greater number of blows.

SECOND ROUND—Wolgast crouched and took things easy while Mandot opened up, jabbing two lefts to face. Mandot landed two hard lefts to jaw. Wolgast put hard right to body. Wolgast landed a right to head. Mandot placed right and left to body at close quarters. Wolgast landed to head and rushed Mandot with hard right to body. Mandot landed punch to body making Wolgast wince. Mandot's round by good margin.

THIRD ROUND—Wolgast crowded Mandot, but the latter stabbed him with a left and followed with an uppercut to the jaw and right to body. At close quarters Wolgast put a right to body. Mandot sent a right to ribs. Wolgast put a left to stomach and then swung a left to the jaw and a left to the stomach. There wasn't much to choose in this round.

FOURTH ROUND—Wolgast went after Mandot's body, landing rights and lefts. Joe sent a right to stomach and a right to head. Wolgast seemed to do his most effective work at close quarters. In a furious mixup Wolgast landed rights and lefts and rushed Mandot to the ropes. Both nearly fell out of the ring. The referee pulled them back in the arena. The gong found them in a clinch with honors to Mandot.

FIFTH ROUND—They dashed into a mixup, Wolgast sending right and left to body, while Mandot put right to head. Wolgast sent a hard left to the body. Wolgast put rights and lefts to Joe's body, but Mandot came back with two rights to head at gong. Round was even.

SIXTH ROUND—Mandot stabbed a left to face and then opened up a notch. They swapped wallops on two sides of the ring, the southerner having the better of the changes. They exchanged a series of wallops. Mandot landed a right to jaw and they were in a terrific mixup in the center of the ring when the gong sounded. Mandot's round.

SEVENTH ROUND—Wolgast sent a left to body. Mandot swung a light right to head and then put a "one-two" to the head, rushing a left to the head and a hard right to body. Wolgast uppercutted to jaw and swung right to body, Mandot covering up. Joe uppercutted to the chin and swung right to head. Wolgast planted a hard right to stomach. It was Mandot's round.

EIGHTH ROUND—Mandot landed left to body and in a mixup which followed both landed punches which did no damage. Mandot sent right to jaw and Wolgast returned right to body. A right to mouth made Wolgast spit blood. This round was all Mandot's and Wolgast was worried when he walked to his corner.

TENTH ROUND—Mandot opened with his usual left jab to face. Joe swung a right to head and Ad put a right to body. Mandot landed a right to head and Wolgast a right to body. Wolgast sent a hard left to head. Mandot uppercutted with left. When the gong sounded they were in a clinch. It was Mandot's round and fight.

Andrews Victor on Points.

The semi-windup between Freddie Andrews and Jimmy Travers was a rattler and did not finish with the final gong. Andrews had the better of the ten rounds of milling because of his aggressiveness. He did all the leading. When the gong clanged after the end of the tenth they were in a mixup in Andrews' corner. They kept right on swapping punches regardless of the bell and the referee finally pried them apart, ending the fracas. The pair weighed in at 3 o'clock at 133.

The first bout resulted in a quick finish. "Young" Krause of Milwaukee winning from Teddy Fallon of Muskegon in the second round, when the latter's seconds hurled the sponge into the ring. Fallon was substituted for Gene Gannon, who failed to appear. Krause and Fallon weighed in at 118 pounds at 3 o'clock.

In the Wake of the News.

There is a man at Michigan
On whom the boys rely
To trim the men of dear old Penn
And Harvard bye and bye.
I'd like to write of him all night,
But I must feed the goldfish,
And haven't time to seek a rhyme
For such a name as Maulbetsch.

On the other hand, Dorais' promising young successor at Notre Dame is a cinch:

There is a young quarter named Cofall,

The conference practice season legally opens day after tomorrow. The drills at the Midway this week don't count and the candidates, if they're upright, will not take advantage of what they've learned so far.

The man who signed a check and sent it to Mr. Gaffney with the request that he fill in the proper amount evidently never heard a ball player express an opinion of a magnate.

Cobb fell down badly Thursday and compiled only one hit. As for his nearest rivals Hoblitzel gathered one blow and Jackson and Collins went without. Very evidently the gods of baseball are, as usual pulling for Tyrus.

One might suppose that Cleveland's latest shortstop, Barbare, came from a dry town which New Orleans certainly is not.

"I have nothing whatever to say at present," said August Herrmann, when asked if he intended to answer President Gilmore's letter. "I have received Mr. Gilmore's letter, but have nothing whatever to say in regard to it at present," continued Mr. Herrmann. Chances are that if he had continued much longer, he would have had nothing whatever to say in the future.

"Do you figure," we said to Frank Farrell, "on appointing Jack Dunn, a minor leaguer, manager of the Yanks?"

"No," Frank replied. "A Peckinpaugh is worth two in the bush."

Now that the Browns have signed Pitcher Southern, it is up to Huggins to get hold of a Planters.

We know not whether Southern is right or left handed, but the scribes will frolic with him just the same.

Some experts even go so far as to claim that whether Bill builds up a back field or plays with only seven men, at least two of the teams mentioned will have to exhibit some exceptional football to get through the season with a clear record.

It 's said that 50,000 people swarmed to the ball yard to see two amateur teams play in Cleveland. "Nothing to that story," remarks C. Somers. "Our biggest crowd this year was less than 20,000."

FOOTBALL HEADS DIFFER ON DATE

Northwestern Coaches Plan to Begin Formal Practice Today.

RULE CHANGE WANTED.

BY JACK PROCTOR.

Complications may follow the attempt, fathered by Minnesota, to have the official opening of the conference football practice season moved up from Sept. 20, which means Monday, as no teams would practice on Sunday, to this afternoon, because of the divergent views held by several coaches as to whether the proposed legislation became effective.

Northwestern university has planned to open its season of preparation formally this afternoon, unless notice to the contrary is received before time for the gridiron warriors to don their togs. At the University of Chicago the understanding is that no change in the rule has been authorized.

Prof. Paige Sends Letters.

In letters dated last Monday Prof. James Paige, faculty representative of the University of Minnesota, urged the faculty delegates at each of the conference universities to wire him consent for the opening of the practice season today. The time limit for answers to the proposal was set for Wednesday. The move was suggested by Coach Williams of the athletic department.

Minnesota officials pointed out that the loss of Sept. 20 would mean one day less for the training of conference elevens in a short practice season, and stated that by holding the first practice on Saturday the men would be given a day to rest up from the stiffness, sprains, and exhaustion of the first day of training.

The move was supposed to have collapsed because some of the universities considered the notice too short for the assembling of their candidates and because of the tardiness of the faculty delegates in responding to the petition, due to their absence from the universities. Northwestern officials, however, understood that final notice would be given if unanimous consent was not obtained.

Ttwn Turns Down Plea.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 18.—Iowa university today refused to second Minnesota's proposal to initiate football practice tomorrow instead of Monday, declaring the call came too late to change the plans here.

JOHNSON CITIZEN OF U. S., SO HE INFORMS EMBASSY.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Giving the lie to stories that he has taken out French naturalization papers, Jack Johnson visited the American embassy today to make it known that he is a citizen of the United States, after which he received a passport to travel in Russia.

Johnson was severely cross-examined, but persisted he had never even dreamed of expatriating himself and denounced as a newspaper invention the statement he was a Frenchman. He showed a passport obtained from the American ambassador in Paris six months ago. He was in Russia a few weeks ago, then in Berlin and Paris, whence he came to London.

Johnson drove up to the embassy in a big limousine, accompanied by his white wife, her maid, manager, and trainers. The only other negro in the party was Jack's sparring partner. He is going to Russia to fill theatrical engagements which were entered upon long ago.

JOE MANDOT ASKS DIVORCE.

Joe Mandot, the lightweight pugilist, who met Ad Wolgast in Milwaukee last night, filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against Mrs. Sarah Mandot, charging statutory offenses. The bill sets forth that the complainant married the defendant Sept. 21, 1912. James Coldin is named in the bill.

KETCHEL WINS OVER LARSON

Steve Ketchel handed Chuck Larson a beating in a ten round bout at East Chicago last night. Ketchel led throughout and once scored a knockdown in the fifth round, when Larson remained on his knee for the nine count. The scrappers fought at 133 pounds, ringside. A crowd of 800 saw the contest.

Hayes Leaves for Battle.

Grover Hayes left last night for Torreon, Mex., where he is slated to battle twenty-five rounds with Louie Alberts, a Mexican lightweight, on Sept. 27. The weight is 133 pounds ringside.

Soccer Leaders to Meet.

Managers and captains of the Chicago High School Soccer league will meet on the sixth floor of the Tribune building on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to arrange the schedule of championship matches and other details. Hyde Park High and Austin High schools will enter teams this year, bringing the total to nine.

ARRANGE CHART FOR "MIDGETS"

Ten Teams to Compete in Minor Division of "Prep" League.

FIVE IN EACH SECTION.

BY PREP.

Ten football teams will battle for the Chicago High School league lightweight championship, according to a schedule drafted by Chairman Hugh L. Ray and C. C. Willard of the faculty football committee and the managers at a meeting in the board of education rooms yesterday.

Because of the large number of schools represented the minors were divided into two sections, five in each classification. The divisions will be known as the northern and southern groups. Lake, Wendell Phillips, Parker, Harrison, and Bowen will make up the southern section, and Lake View, Senn, Austin, Crane, and Lane the northern division.

Weight Limit 135 Pounds.

No team will be allowed to weigh over a 155 pound average, with the heaviest player at the same mark. Under these limitations the highest average probably will be no more than 130 pounds. The season will open on Oct. 17 and close on Nov. 14. The winners in each section will meet on Nov. 21 in the championship struggle. Following are the schedules:

SOUTHERN SECTION.

Oct. 17—Bowen at Harrison, Wendell Phillips at Parker; Lake bye.
Oct. 24—Harrison at Wendell Phillips, Lake at Bowen, Parker bye.
Oct. 31—Parker at Bowen, Harrison at Lake. Wendell Phillips bye.
Nov. 7—Bowen at Wendell Phillips, Lake at Parker, Harrison bye.
Nov. 14—Parker at Harrison, Wendell Phillips at Lake, Bowen bye.

NORTHERN SECTION.

Oct. 17—Austin at Lake View, Senn at Crane, Lane bye.
Oct. 24—Lake View at Senn, Lane at Austin, Crane bye.
Oct. 31—Crane at Austin, Lake View at Lane, Senn bye.
Nov. 7—Austin at Senn, Lane at Crane, Lake View bye.
Nov. 14—Crane at Lake View, Senn at Lane, Austin bye.

Eight "Prep" Games Today.

Chicago, suburban, and Catholic high school football teams will get into action this afternoon in eight contests to be played on local and foreign grounds. All contests are in the nature of practice matches, and as a result most of the coaches will get a line on their material. Because of the uncertainty of the makeup of nearly all elevens, the battles for position will be keener than ever before in the last five years.

Following is the list of games:

Ottawa, Ill., at Oak Park.
Crane majors at Rockford.
Englewood at Rockford.
Lane majors at Harvey.
Crane minors at Loyola academy.
Alumni at Senn.
Alumni at Lake View.
Alumni at Evanston H. S.

At a meeting of the Oak Park High School Athletic association Lawrence Blackmer was chosen president. The vice president, secretary-treasurer, and managers of the soccer and swimming teams will be chosen at a meeting on Monday.

POGUE JOINS ILLINI SQUAD.

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Harold Pogue, star quarter back of last year's Illini eleven, brought joy to the football rooters today when he appeared on the field in uniform. Pogue was supposed to be out of the game on account of an injury to his eyes sustained during the summer. Thirty-five candidates appeared this afternoon. "Cully" Real, candidate for the back field, who was out of school last year, has returned and will be out for practice. The season opens officially on Monday.

'BIG NINE' MEETING TONIGHT.

Basketball coaches and managers of the western conference universities will hold their annual meeting to draw up schedules, select officials, and take care of other routine business tonight at the Auditorium hotel. The coaches will meet on call of Dr. Cooke of the University of Minnesota, chairman of the basketball committee of the conference.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Jake Schaefer defeated Marcus Catton, 400 to 337, in the fifth of their series of matches at 14-1 at Leffingwell's rooms, averaging 13 23-29, with high runs of 49 and 53. Catton averaged 12⅝, with high runs of 99 and 49.

Fred Conklin defeated Al Taylor of Milwaukee, 300 to 291, in the second half of their home and home matches played last night at Conklin and Burdick's rooms. Conklin averaged 9 12-32, with high run of 40. Taylor had high run of 46. At Milwaukee on the Thursday night Taylor defeated Conklin, 300 to 127, averaging 17.

MISS ROSENTHAL NEAR GOLF TITLE

Chicago Player Defeats Mrs. Barlow, 1 Up, in Semi-Final Round at Nassau.

TO MEET MRS. JACKSON.

New York, Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Displaying a surprising amount of nerve and showing great skill, Miss Elaine V. Rosenthal, the young player from the Ravisloe Country club, won her way into the final round of the women's national golf championship at the Nassau Country club at Glen Cove today, and tomorrow will meet Mrs. H. Arnold Jackson of Boston for the title.

Miss Rosenthal won her place after a hard fight with Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, the Philadelphia champion losing on the last green by missing a three foot putt. Mrs. Jackson, who as Miss Kate Harley won the national title at Chevy Chase in 1908, defeated Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck of the Philadelphia Cricket club, 2 and 1.

Miss Rosenthal a Surprise.

The success of Miss Rosenthal has been the surprise of the tournament, as it is only her second appearance in the national event, and outside of this she has had practically no tournament experience. Mrs. Barlow has competed in nearly every national event since 1903, having been a semi-finalist in 1906 and a finalist in 1909 and 1912.

It was a great feat for the young Chicago girl to win from such an experienced campaigner, especially as the pace was fast, Mrs. Barlow having a medal card of 83 and Miss Rosenthal taking one stroke more. The record for the course is 82.

Square Match Six Times.

Few matches have been more keenly fought than the one between Miss Rosenthal and Mrs. Barlow. There never was a time when either of them had a greater advantage than 1 up, and on six occasions the match was made square by one or the other. All the while fine golf was the rule. To win a hole it was necessary to get par figures, for there were few instances where par was exceeded by more than one stroke.

Mrs. Barlow won the first and a long putt on the third by her opponent brought the match level. Miss Rosenthal performed similarly on the fifth and became 1 up, but on the eighth Mrs. Barlow got a 3 to the other's 4 because of a missed putt, and leveled the match once more.

Toss Coin for First Putt.

An unusual incident happened on the eighth green. The hole is 140 yards, over a pond. Both women reached the green's edge on their tee shots and then ran up to a distance of about six feet. Robert C. Watson, president of the United States Golf association, who refereed the match, measured to see who was away and the distances were exactly the same. A coin was tossed and Miss Rosenthal had first putt. She missed the try and lost the hole, making the match even again. A halve in four at the ninth left the contest level at the turn, each going out in 41.

Mrs. Barlow Misses Yard Putt.

Playing the tenth the Chicago girl sent her tee shot into a sand pit. She gave up the hole after taking three shots to get out of the trouble. On the next Mrs. Barlow pulled out of bounds from the tee and the match was all square. They see-sawed for the lead up to the seventeenth, where they were all even again. Each took three to get to the edge of the home green and Miss Rosenthal laid her approach putt dead, while Mrs. Barlow's fourth overran the cup by nearly three feet. She missed the short putt for a half in five and lost the hole, 6 to 5, and the match, 1 down. Cards:

Miss Rosenthal—

Mrs. Barlow—

Mrs. Jackson Has Easy Win.

Mrs. Jackson outplayed Mrs. C. H. Vanderbeck of Philadelphia and won rather easily by 2 and 1 in the other semi-final.

The eastern champion was 3 up at the turn. She played indifferently coming back, but her opponent was unable to make up all the deficit she incurred going out.

Miss Rosenthal is expected to give the Oakley champion a good fight tomorrow. She is the first western player to reach the final since 1903, when the late Miss Bessie Anthony won the title and Miss J. A. Carpenter was runner up.

STUART WINS GOLF TOURNEY OF ANNUAL TIGER OUTING.

John Stuart, former Tiger champion and captain of the golf team in 1899, won the golf handicap held at Onwentsia yesterday in connection with the annual Princeton outing. His card of 75—7—68 was best for both gross and net, but he could not take two prizes and the low gross award went to Rollin W. Keyes of the class of 1905, who had a card of 79—4—75. L. R. Adams had second low net with 82—10—72; Walter Stockton, 99—25—74; and J. P. Balmer, 89—15—74; tying for third and fourth places. Two of the old guard, Thomas D. Jones of the class of 1876 and W. B. McIlvaine, '85, tied with three others at 76 for sixth place in the next column.

The leading scores in the eighteen hole handicap golf event follow:

John Stuart, 75—7—68; L. R. Adams, 82—10—72; Walter Stockton, 99—25—74; J. P. Balmer, 89—15—74; R. W. Keyes, 79—4—75; George Owsley, 95—19—76; Thomas D. Jones, 92—16—76; W. B. McIlvaine, 92—16—76; W. W. Ross, 92—16—76; Douglas Stuart, 80—4—76; D. S. Harding, 107—30—77; Edward D. Payne, 102—25—77; Donald Scott, 108—30—78; J. C. Harding, 96—18—78; C. H. Walcott, 99—20—79; S. D. Rowe, 99—20—79; Thomas Longcop, 106—26—80; George Rose, 110—30—80; R. C. McNamara, 110—30—80.

"SPIKE" SHULL, TACKLE, JOINS MAROON SQUAD.

The appearance on the field of Laurens (Spike) Shull after a summer in the Iowa harvest fields and the husky looks of nineteen other Maroon candidates brought joy to the hearts of University of Chicago football rooters on Stagg field yesterday. The ambitious Maroon hopes practiced on the field both morning and afternoon.

Shull, who made a name for himself at tackle last year, his first year of eligibility, weighed more than he did at any time in 1913. He was brown and hard from pitching hay in the country towns about his home in Sioux City. He gave his weight as 198 pounds.

Another athlete who showed up for his first workout of the season was Philbrick (Red) Jackson, a guard, who played on the Evanston academy team two years ago and earned his freshman numerals last year. Jackson weighed 182 pounds.

Buell Patterson, a tall end of last year's green team, appeared, weighing 172 pounds. Patterson makes the sixth aspirant for the places at the outside position. Roy Knipschild, a quarterback on last fall's freshman team, also was on hand for a workout. Knipschild is a former Lane Tech player. Arthur Foster, a candidate for end with a year's experience on the freshman squad, also made his debut.

Announcement of the coaches for the season was made yesterday, following the return of Pat Page from a vacation at Paw Paw lake. John Canning, one of the lightest men to earn a place on one of Stagg's teams, will be assistant coach for the line men. Canning played in 1910, 1911, and 1912. He is also an instructor in political economy. Norman Paine, quarterback on the elevens of 1911 and 1912, will be second assistant coach.

The previous best mark at the angle game was 15 and these figures were made by George Moore of New York, Charles Otis of Brooklyn, and Charles Warren of Boston.

SEVEN RUN RALLY ENDS SOX SLUMP; BEAT YANKS, 7-5

Fiece Attack in Fifth Saves Cals from Their Eighth Straight Defeat.

GICOTTE RESCUES "TEX"

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

The struggling White Sox broke their long losing streak yesterday with a tremendous fifth inning crash that netted seven runs. This onslaught gave the south siders a victory over the New York orphans by a count of 7 to 5 and kept alive the spark of hope for a first division berth at the finish of the race.

Seven base hits in an inning was the unusual feat accomplished by the Callahans in that crushing fifth. The fellows batted clear around and once over. "Red" Kuhn began the assault with a base hit and finished it with one, the latter blow driving in the last two tallies. "Red" attempted to scoot to second on the peg to the plate and was nipped, or there's no telling how many more guys would have knocked the ball to vacant spots.

Record "Cleanup" for Sox.

It was the greatest "clean up" inning the Sox have turned out this season. Not a man was left on the bases. There were smashing drives, a couple of bunts, and one long sacrifice fly. The base runners all looked like Ty Cobbs and the batters all resembled Frank Bakers. Connie Mack's war tribe would have been appalled at the sight. The spectators were so astounded they screamed with joy and Owner Comiskey invited all his friends into his private office to celebrate the occasion.

But even with all that rumpus the Sox had to call for help to make sure of winning. The score was 2 to 0 against them when the big fuss took place, so they came out of it five runs to the good. "Reb" Russell was on the slab for the south siders, and immediately after the big round the New Yorks landed on him as if they would drive him clear back to Texas. Before it was too late Eddie Cicotte was summoned from the warming corner and he put a stop to the enemies' vengeful attack with his best and most gallant brand of hurling.

Fierce Attack Routs Cole.

King Cole began the slabbing for the visitors and was facing the Sox when the big tirade started. Up to that round the tall hurler had been setting the Chicagoans down with his accustomed ease and grace. But after dodging four successive blows in that fifth round rampage the King was removed from the field while he still lived. Young McHale took up his burden while only half warmed up, and before he could quell the riot the Sox had driven seven men home and completely routed the enemy.

A single by Cree, Mullen's sacrifice, Peckinpaugh's triple, and a fumble by Fournier in the first half of the fifth had given the visitors two tallies, and it looked as if the Sox were in for their eighth straight licking. But Kuhn began the last half with a smash over second. Roth followed with a poke to right. Baker laid down a swell bunt and beat it, filling the bases. Blackburne lined safely over second, sending Kuhn and Roth home, and that finished the hurling of Cole.

McHale trudged to the slab and Russell bounced a high one in front of the plate, beating it for a hit and filling the bags again. Demmitt pulled a ripping single to right, sending Baker and Blackburne home. Weaver laid down a bunt and McHale made a shot to third too late for a force play and the bags were filled again.

Fournier Sends In Run.

Collins then made the first out with a pop fly to Peckinpaugh. Fournier lifted a long fly to Cook, and Russell dashed home while Demmitt took third and Weaver second after the catch. Kuhn came up for the second time and belted another single to center, scoring Demmitt and Weaver. Kuhn was nailed trying to make second on the peg home.

Maisel opened the seventh with a triple and scored when Hartzell singled. Russell got the next two hitters, then Mullen singled and Peckinpaugh tripled, sending Hartzell and Mullen home. Russell was sent to the cooling room and Cicotte went to his rescue. Eddie fanned Sweeney, ending that round, and he wasn't in any more danger to the finish. Score:

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

The series with New York will close with today's game.

Maisel attempted to score from third after Collins nabbed Cook's rather short fly in the first inning, but Collins' peg was a beaut and nailed the speedy New Yorker easily.

Russell seemed to have his old time speed for the first four rounds and he did some nifty fielding, too, but it all seemed gone in the fifth and sixth.

Dan Boone displays unusual skill in slapping the ball on base runners. His agility in that line beat the Sox out of a couple of stolen bases during the combat.

The fine weather helped the attendance. There were about 5,000 present and about 1,000 of the number were women, who took advantage of "Ladies' day."

Maisel's fleetness of foot enabled him to get a triple on his drive to the right field corner in the sixth, when it looked like suicide for him to go farther than second.

"Red" Kuhn did some swell backstopping besides playing an important part in the batting rally. His injured hand has recovered and he'll probably help Schalk considerable from now to the finish.

'DRYS' BEST BASEBALL FANS.

Keokuk, Ia., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Attendance statistics for the Central association during the season just closed indicate that baseball in dry towns is a better paying proposition than in other cities. The per capita attendance in dry towns was 2.14, while in wet towns it was only 1.42. Marshalltown, said to be the "driest" town in the league, led in per capita attendance, with 3.36. Burlington, the "wettest" place on the C. A. map, had only 0.9.

CUBS DROP FINAL TO DODGERS, 2-0

Aitchison Blanks O'Days While Errors Give Brooklyn Both Runs.

TWO RECRUITS REPORT.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—By submitting to a shutout at the hands of "Kid" Aitchison today in their final game of the year on Brooklyn soil, the Cubs lost a chance to gain a little ground on the leaders and their closer rivals for third place. Brooklyn won, 2 to 0, and both runs were gifts.

That extra inning victory of yesterday proved costly in a way, for Fisher was injured so severely in the tenth inning rally that he was unable to play today, and it fell to the lot of the unfortunate "Red" Corriden to share with Bill Sweeny the loss of the game. Their crime was excusable, however, in the face of the fact the Cubs couldn't score a run.

"Red's" Heave Costs Run.

Corriden made a wild throw in a pinch in the fifth and let in the first tally. One of Sweeney's pair of boots kicked open the door through which slipped the second run in the sixth. The Dodgers gave Aitchison perfect and steadfast support and that is why the Cubs couldn't count against him, although they outbatted the Robins and had men on bases in every inning except two.

The injury of Fisher also balked the plans of Manager O'Day to try a new system on the infield in the hope of improvement. Arthur Bues, who was purchased from the Jersey City club, reported for duty early and the Cub pilot was meditating using him on third base and switching Zimmerman to second, in Sweeney's shoes, but after discovering that Fisher would be out of it today, thought best to leave as much of the infield alone as possible.

Bues Once with Giants.

Bues was with the Giants for a tryout, but did not come up to the specifications at the time. He looked good enough to President Thomas and the Cub scouts to take a chance on. Another recruit reported today in the person of Peter Allison, the outfielder who was planted in Memphis last spring when the Cubs came north on their training trip. Allison blew in with his keister and individual bat bag this forenoon.

Cheney pitched an airtight game against the Robins as far as he was concerned. He held them to six hits, of which two came together only in the first inning, and both of those were rank scratches. Cheney had his spitter working finely and struck out five men in the first three innings. Larry gave only one base on balls, to McCarthy in the fatal fifth, but it cut no figure because McCarty was immediately doubled up with Aitchison on the latter's bunt to Zimmerman. Myers then beat out a hit to Corriden back on the grass and stole second. Daubert also hit to Corriden, who had the ball in time, but made a wild throw, which got away from Saier and let Myers register. Jake was pinched stealing.

Fumble Lets In Tally.

In the next spasm Sweeney fumbled a bounder from Stengel, who was sacrificed to second by Wheat, and scored on Cutshaw's single to center. Leach fumbled the hit out there, giving the battler an extra base, but it cost nothing. Corriden made two swell plays on the next two Robins, retiring the side.

The Cubs ought to have scored in the second, when Schulte and Corriden opened with singles and were sacrificed ahead by Sweeney. Archer struck out and Egan pegged out Cheney. In the next round a pass to Good and a single by Saier put two on with one down, and Zimmerman hit into a double play.

In every other round except the seventh and eighth some Cub got on and never got around. Schulte walloped a triple through left center with one down in the ninth, but never scored, because Corriden whiffed and Sweeney rolled out. Score:

The Break of the Game

WHITE SOX.

Beating New York out of a force play at third base in the midst of a fifth inning rally allowed the Sox to continue the attack until seven runs had been scored. If New York had turned the force play, the rally would have been stopped with only four getting home. Russell was on second and Demmitt on first, with no one out at the time, and Weaver bunted to McHale. The latter was a bit slow in coming in after the bunt, then tried a shot to third, but he was too late to force Russell. Four runs had already counted. A pop fly and a long fly followed, which would have retired the side if McHale had nailed any one on Weaver's bunt. However, the long fly let in one more run and another single sent two more home. Had the rally been stopped with only four runs, it is not likely the Sox would have won the game, as the final count was 7 to 5.

CUBS.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Myers was on second in the fifth with two out and the score 0 to 0. Daubert hit a slow bounder to Corriden, who handled it cleanly, but pulled Saier off his base with the throw. In trying to save the error Vic lost the ball, and, while chasing it, Myers scored the only run Brooklyn needed.

TINX.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Mike Prendergast had a bad third inning. Savage started with a double and Oakes beat out a bunt toward third. Prenny appeared to be disconcerted over the two swats and walked the next two batters, forcing home one run. A sacrifice fly added another. Runs had been counted in the first and second sessions on misplays, which gave the Rebels four, which would have been sufficient. The final count was 5 to 3.

Cub Sydelights.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—New York tomorrow.

The Cubs are glad they don't have to go to Brooklyn again till next year, anyway.

The Cubs won the season's series with Brooklyn which finished today, taking twelve games to ten for the Robins.

Egan made two circumspect plays in the first and second innings, stealing hits from Zimmerman and Sweeney respectively.

The draw in Boston and today's defeat tied the Cubs and Cardinals for third place and cost both a chance to keep pace with New York.

Fisher's wrist was too stiff, as a result of the spiking yesterday, to permit him to throw, and it is uncertain when he will be able to get back into harness, although the cut itself is not dangerous.

Wheat's single in the first inning was due to the fact that Sweeney lost it in the sun; otherwise, it would have been an easy third out. The Robins made only one clean hit to the outfield off Cheney.

Notes of the Tinx.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Hendrix will open against Baltimore tomorrow.

Wickland kept up his batting streak with a double and single. Zwilling got the same.

Rankin Johnson has about recovered from his severe cold and will be ready for work on Monday.

Rebel Oakes promised Tinker that his team would take care of Indianapolis when it visited Pittsburgh.

President Weeghman says he will remain with the team during the remainder of the eastern trip unless he proves to be a jinx.

Howard Camnitz, a weak batter, got two lucky hits, one a double. Flack had a hard run for one and just missed it. Farrell stopped the other, but could not field it.

Schang to Join Pirates.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 18.—Catcher Schang of St. Joseph, recently purchased by Pittsburgh, has been ordered to report to the Pirates at Boston. At the time of the purchase it was announced Schang would finish the season with St. Joseph. He is a brother of Wallie Schang of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Darkness Stops Hurlers' Battle After Twelve Tight Innings.

EVERS SLAMS IN TALLY.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—St. Louis and Boston battled for twelve innings in their final game of the season, darkness necessitating a suspension of hostilities with the score 1 to 1.

Doak pitched great ball and James also worked well, but the visitors bunched three of their hits in the eighth inning for their lone run. In the first inning St. Louis had the bases filled with one out, but Wilson struck out and Wingo forced a runner.

Boston's run in the sixth was the result of a pass to Moran, followed by Evers' double to right field. Score:

GIANTS BEAT REDLEGS BY RALLY IN NINTH, 3-2.

New York, Sept. 18.—New York made a clean sweep of the series with Cincinnati by taking the last game, 3 to 2. It was a pitchers' battle between Fromme, who replaced O'Toole in the second inning, and Schneider, with the local pitcher having the better of it.

The Giants won in the ninth, which Fromme opened with an infield single. Snodgrass struck out and Doyle tapped to Schneider. Herzog lost an easy force by neglecting to touch the bag, and a pass to Burns filled the bases. Bescher ran for Fromme and scored on Fletcher's single. Score:

BRAVES TO HAVE LARGER BALL PARK NEXT SEASON.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—A much larger park for the Braves is being planned for next year. President Gaffney has had three New York architects look over the grounds, and a horseshoe pavilion is to be constructed. The grand stand will be moved back twenty-five feet to the place where automobiles are parked and the left field will be lengthened. Gaffney wanted a new park in the Back bay, but decided against a change because of the cost and the greater distance from the center of the city. Since the Braves started their winning streak their grounds have been far too small and they have used Fenway park, the home of the Red Sox.

TINX LOSE GAME; ALSO TOP PLACE

Hoofeds Go to Front When Locals Drop Clash to Pittfeds, 5 to 3.

PASSES ALSO COSTLY.

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Chicago lost the final game of the series with the Pittsburgh Feds, 5 to 3, through loose fielding and inability to hit Howard Camnitz at opportune moments. With defeat went the tie for first place with Indianapolis, which defeated Brooklyn.

Switching from the original plan to work Hendrix in the final combat proved disastrous. Ervin Lange, the young Chicago semi-pro, was not equal to the occasion and was taken out in the second inning after two hits and his own wild throw had given the Rebels a run and a lead of two, for Ervin's wildness and Tinker's error allowed one in the first.

Passes Turned Into Runs.

Mike Prendergast made a poor start in the third session, when two hits and two passes scored two more. The total of four would have been sufficient, but another was added in the fourth on a double, wild pitch, and a sacrifice fly.

President Weeghman watched the game from the grand stand and from his expression was not pleased with the performances of his athletes.

Lange walked Delahanty at the start and he moved up a base on the out of Savage. Oakes walked and then Tinker had a double play set for him when Lennox forced Oakes. Joe, however, threw wild to Beck and Delahanty counted.

Lange's Error Costs Tally.

Rheam singled to center in the second. Lewis flied out and Berry laid down a bunt which he beat out, but Lange made a wild peg to first and the ball cleared Beck's head, allowing Rheam to count. Prendergast relieved Lange, fanned Camnitz and Tinker, and threw out Delahanty.

Prendergast wabbled badly in the third where the game was lost. Savage doubled and Oakes beat out a hit. Prenny then walked Lennox and Yerkes, forcing Savage home and Oakes scored on a high bounder by Lewis which Tinker got in time to catch the runner, but too late to keep Oakes from counting.

The Rebels got their final run on a two base hit by Camnitz, who went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Delahanty's sacrifice fly.

Tinx Score Two in Fourth.

The Chifeds started something in the fourth when Wilson walked and Zwilling beat out an infield hit. Wickland doubled, scoring Wilson and Tinker counted Zwilling on a sacrifice fly. Wickland tried to reach third and was doubled. Beck rolled a fast one to Lewis for the final out.

Tinker broke open the seventh with a double, moved forward on Beck's out, and scored on Farrell's slow grounder to Rheam. Prendergast walked but Flack hit an easy fly to Delahanty.

Wickland gave the Chifeds hopes in the ninth through a single to center. Tinker flied to Delahanty and Beck fanned. Walsh hit for Farrell and walked. Block hit for Prendergast and drove a long fly to center which Oakes camped under. Score:

FOSTER ANXIOUS TO TACKLE TINX

American Giants' Manager Issues Challenge to Chicago Feds.

POINTS TO 1914 RECORD.

BY HANDY ANDY.

Rube Foster, manager of the American Giants, has a solution for the desire of the Chicago Federal league baseball team to engage in a post-season struggle.

Anticipating the refusal of the White Sox and Cub managements to admit the Tinx to their annual argument for the city championship, and of the American and National league champions to admit a mysterious stranger to the world's series, Rube Foster suggests a series between his negro champions and Tinker's team for the championship of the north and south sides.

Manager Foster's Challenge.

Manager Foster's challenge is embodied in the following communication addressed to the sporting editor of The Tribune:

"On behalf of the American Giants baseball club, and through the solicitation of hundreds of fans and letters requesting a series of games between the Chicago Federal league baseball club and the American Giants, we challenge them for a series of seven games to decide the championship between the north and south sides. We will play them on any reasonable winner and loser basis.

"We read in The Tribune the challenge of the Federal league to organized ball, and they cited the great American sport, that the national game of baseball belonged to the people and that a series of games between the winners of organized ball and the Federal league winners would only be fair to the baseball public who support the game.

Anxious to Show Skill.

"Granting this argument to be true, if the Federal league believes in true sportsmanship, as they would have the public believe, we would welcome a chance to show to the thousands of baseball fans and the public our ability in contesting with them for the championship.

"In playing the American Giants the Federal league will not establish a precedent, for such managers as Frank Chance, John McGraw, and Connie Mack have played colored ball clubs.

"The record of American Giants with thirteen men is 108 winning games out of 124, from champions of Pacific Coast league clubs, champions of Northwestern league, champions of Union Association league, involving traveling over 15,000 miles during the seasons. Such an achievement is worthy of consideration, and having defeated all comers for championship honors, we do hereby challenge the Chicago Federal league for a series of games for the championship.

"A. RUBE FOSTER,
"Manager American Giants Baseball Club."

MORE PIN MEN TO THE FRONT

Many of the leading local bowling stars got into action for the first time this year when the Randolph Bowling league inaugurated its championship series at Bensinger's Randolph street alleys last night.

Scores were not of mid-season caliber, but some good totals were recorded. The Mineralites, with totals of 861, 937, and 957, took three straight from the Berghoffs, who totaled 839, 795, and 919.

The Howard Majors with three fair totals blanked the Suburbans; the Tom Palmers took two from the Taylor Trunks; the Old Styles twice defeated the Ursus five, and the Ham Rackers won the odd from the Columbian Knights.

TIGER CAPTAIN WINS NET TITLE

Church Springs Surprise by Beating Williams in College Final.

MATCH GOES FOUR SETS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 18.—George M. Church, captain of the Princeton tennis team and state champion of Delaware, surprised the tennis world today by wresting the intercollegiate championship from R. Norris Williams II., former title holder and present national champion.

Church defeated Williams three sets out of four in the final match of the thirty-fourth annual tournament of the intercollegiate association, played on the courts of the Merion Cricket club at Haverford. One of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a tennis struggle in the vicinity of Philadelphia saw the Davis cup player go down to defeat, 8—6, 9—7, 4—6, and 7—5.

Hard Battle Throughout.

It was a thrilling battle from start to finish, and, except in the third set, when he was obviously tired, Church outplayed and outwitted Williams. He met the national champion's swift cross court returns with lob after lob, all perfectly executed, the ball landing always within an inch or so of the back line, giving the Princeton captain a chance to get up to the net and "kill" Williams' belated returns.

Williams appeared stale, was wild, and lacked entirely the fire and dashing speed that won him the national title from Maurice McLoughlin at Newport last month. Church's service was deadly in its effectiveness, and he seemed to divine Williams' next move with unerring accuracy.

Wins "Leg" on Cup.

Church only won two games last year in his match with Williams and lost the intercollegiate crown he had captured in 1912.

Church's victory gives Princeton a "leg" on the new challenge cup, first put up for competition last year, when Harvard won both the singles and the doubles events. Princeton gained permanent possession of the former challenge trophy, the Isaac H. Clothier cup, through the fine playing of Church in 1912.

With only ten minutes of rest, Church returned to the courts and, paired with A. M. Kidder of Princeton, won a semi-final round doubles match from Rowland and Disston of the University of Pennsylvania. Tired as he was, Church played brilliant tennis and, ably supported by Kidder, defeated the Pennsylvania team, 6—0, 6—3, 6—3. This victory entitles Church and Kidder to meet Williams and Robert Harte of Harvard in the final match for the doubles championship tomorrow.

ORGANIZE SECOND LEAGUE OF AMATEUR BALL CHAMPS.

The second Chicago league of amateur baseball champions was formed last night at a meeting in the Windsor-Clifton hotel. This organization was created in opposition to the first one, which did not include a number of title holding nines. Several clubs also were denied admission to the original association, according to the officials of the newly formed body.

The following leagues are among the charter members: National Electric Light association [meter department], Elevated Railroad league [Metropolitan "L"], Jewelers' league [International Silver Co.], Chicago Manufacturers' league [Anderson & Lind], Manufacturing and Fire Prevention league [Underwriters' laboratory], City Hall league [health department].

The officers are: President, Henry M. Tufo; secretary-treasurer, Frederick E. Babe. The next meeting will be Wednesday in the Windsor-Clifton hotel, when other leagues will be admitted and games planned for the following Saturday.

WAR ROBBED U. S. OF CHANCE TO WIN TROPHY, SAYS PUGH.

The Sportsmen's Club of America last night celebrated the return of its president, James A. Pugh, from Cowes, England, where he took his boat, Disturber IV., to compete in the international power boat races, which were called off because of the war.

The club presented Pugh with a shield emblematic of the endeavor, and in the acceptance of it he told of his trip to the scene of the races and how, when success and the championship seemed within his grasp, everything was called off. After much maneuvering, in which he was assisted by Sir Thomas Lipton, he got his boat on the Minnetonka and sailed for home.

The results of the three wrestling bouts were: Mouat, Armour Square, defeated Wieson, Seward Park, in 7:33. Wissart, North Side A. C., won from Clark, Seward Park, on points in 10:00. Vorres, Hercules A. C., won from Gardner, Joliet, on points in 15:00.

STRONGER TONE IN WHEAT MART

Cash Demand Improves with Large Export Sales; Offerings Light.

CORN HAS GOOD RALLY.

Reports of an excellent demand for wheat for export with a stronger tone in the northwest markets in spite of the large receipts checked selling of wheat yesterday. There was but little pressure to sell and on all the reactions there was continued buying of an important kind. As a result there was a firm tone throughout the greater part of the session, and at the close prices were 1½@1⅝c higher.

Armour was credited with being the big buyer, but there was a quite general commission house buying demand in a small way on all the reactions, the market responding quickly to any heavy buying orders. On the early bulge commission houses sold freely, but during the latter part of the session there was not much pressure. Hedging sales from the northwest were not much in evidence.

Foreign Reports Mixed.

Only meager reports were received from abroad, and Liverpool prices were unchanged to ½d lower, reflecting a steady tone. The demand from France has quieted down to some extent, but Broomhall cabled from some quarters the demand was increasing, while the United States was about the only country offering wheat freely. The short Canadian crop is a factor in the export situation, and there continues to be a good demand for our wheat.

Sales here yesterday were placed at 500,000 bu, and firms having any wheat to offer have no difficulty in selling it. Kansas City reported heavy buying of December wheat there by exporters and elevator concerns, and Winnipeg said there had been a good cash business for the last three days. The seaboard reported 560,000 bu wheat taken for export, with a good demand for rye also.

Farmers Stop Selling.

A message from the southwest said farmers had not sold one-quarter as much wheat the last week as they did the previous week, and this report was about the same tenor as other messages. Receipts northwest continue heavy, but the big demand for flour is counted upon to lighten the pressure of the spring wheat movement. However, Minneapolis stocks increased 2,150,000 bu for the week, making the total 3,433,000 bu, or less than half as much as a year ago. Duluth stocks increased 1,770,000 bu for five days.

Primary receipts were 2,537,000 bu, against 1,815,000 bu a year ago. Northwest cars were 1,099, compared to 1,075 a year ago, and Winnipeg had 1,164, against 1,148 cars a year ago. Clearance for the day were 1,291,000 bu.

More Interest in Corn.

More interest was taken in the corn market and local traders were good buyers. Offerings became light after a rush to sell early, and last prices for the day showed net gains of ⅝@1⅝c. The demand for shipment was moderate, but the export inquiry was better and some corn was sold from here for export, and confirmation was received of the loading of a cargo of 240,000 bu mixed corn at New York for export. The fact the foreigners are taking more interest in corn was a factor in stimulating buying.

Cash sales here were 290,000 bu, industries being the chief buyers. Receipts were 68 cars, with 122 cars inspected yesterday. Primary arrivals were 322,000 bu, compared to 943,000 bu a year ago. Cables were 1d up from Liverpool and bullish advices were received from Argentina, where the markets were strong.

Oats Score Small Gains.

Oats gained in strength near the close, reports of a good export trade and the firmness in other markets being the main influences. Prices at the windup were ⅛@¼c higher. Profit taking was on quite a heavy scale, and some of the traders were inclined to shift their operations to corn. Cash sales from here were reported at 650,000 bu, mostly to exporters, the eastern demand being poor. Receipts were 143 cars, with 261 cars inspected yesterday, and primary receipts were 928,000 bu, compared to 893,000 bu a year ago.

Provisions Mart Is Dull.

Trade in provisions was about at a standstill early, but later there was some buying of October stuff credited to packers, which stimulated the trade a little, and the close was firm. The trade in lard is reported fair, but the demand for meats generally continues slow, although somewhat more encouraging reports from the south were received in some quarters. Receipts of hogs were 13,000, with 8,000 expected today, and western receipts were 46,500, compared to 47,000 a year ago. Prices at the yards were 5@10c off.

Rye Market Steady.

Rye market held on a steady basis, with sales of No. 2 at 91c; No. 3, 89@90c; No. 4, 89c, and sample grade at 88c. Receipts, 8 cars.

Barley was quiet and steady, with malting at 65@74c, and feed at 63@65c for spot and 62½c for 100,000 bu to arrive. Receipts, 62 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet at $4.50@5.75 for cash. Clover seed was easy at $12.00@15.50 for country lots.

Duluth flax closed ¼@1c lower, with cash on track $1.50¼; September, $1.50½; October, $1.51⅝; November, $1.53⅝, and December, $1.54. Receipts, 5 cars. Minneapolis was ½c lower at $1.47⅝@1.52% for cash on track. Receipts, 42 cars. Winnipeg closed ¼@⅜c lower, with October $1.29⅝; November, $1.32¼, and December, $1.34. Receipts, 14 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

W. H. Perrine & Co. yesterday sent out the following: "Lord Milner of England, a lifelong student and world authority on universal food supplies, has issued a warning letter to the farmers of the British isles calling attention to the world shortage in wheat and rye to be experienced in 1915, and calling on them to plant all the small grain possible to avert European famine. The United States and Canada, with their immense acreage, have the greatest opportunity in their history, not only in wheat and rye, but in oats as well, as of a total world's crop of 4,857,000,000 bu there are 2,750,000,000, or 57 per cent, grown in the territory directly affected by this war. High prices are assured and a large profit possible to those who take advantage of this situation. The north should seed a record acreage to winter wheat and should plow every available acre this fall for other grain."

There was some export business in corn done here yesterday and a cargo of 240,000 bu was reported loading at New York for export. Exporters have been working on corn business for some time, and it is believed there will be a good business if prices are not advanced radically. Export business was also good in wheat yesterday, sales here being placed at 500,000 bu, and the seaboard reported 560,000 bu wheat taken for export. The demand for oats was fair and local sales were 650,000 bu. The demand for rye and barley for export also was reported good and it is understood there is a continued good inquiry for flour from the other side. Some of the trade leaders believe there will be a big export trade the next few months in all grains as well as in flour.

The Modern Miller said: "In the northwest a heavy movement of wheat from the Dakotas was stimulated by a good demand in Minneapolis and Duluth. There is a sharp recession in the movement of the best grades of wheat from North Dakota, and farmers show a tendency to hold. Much thin light wheat from South Dakota is being marketed direct from thrashers, but rains have retarded this movement, indicating a lighter movement of northwest supplies and the possibility of some damage to wheat in shock."

A New York wire to Thomson-McKinnon said: "The situation in cotton continues to look better here, and every effort is bent to open the exchange. Reports were many yesterday that cotton was advancing in price, and people who sold early shipments on the war news are now having a hard time to secure the cotton. This is said to be caused by the holding of farmers for investments from all over America. Think first of October will see the cotton markets opened."

Argentine shipments of wheat this week were 24,000 bu, decreasing 104,000 bu. Corn exports were 2,202,000 bu, a decrease of 918,000 bu; oats, 10,000 bu, decreasing 370,000 bu; and flax, 8,000 bu, decreasing 90,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This week.	Last week.	Last year.
Oats	10,000	380,000	60,000
Flax	8,000	98,000	......

Bradstreet's reported exports of wheat and flour from both coasts this week at 7,318,000 bu, an increase of 270,000 bu. Corn exports were placed at 97,000 bu, increasing 52,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	Wheat and flour.	Corn.
This week	7,318,000	97,000
Last week	7,048,000	45,000
Last year	4,146,000	18,000
Since July 1	79,163,000	635,000
Year ago	61,108,000	865,000

Visible supply of wheat in Argentine this week was 420,000 bu, the same as a week ago, while corn visible decreased 100,000 bu to 8,100,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This week.	Last week.	Last year.
Corn	8,100,000	8,000,000	3,570,000

The domestic cash trade in oats is disappointing to shippers, who say the sales to the east are much smaller than normal for this time of the year, this being due mainly to financial conditions. The corn demand from the east continues poor, according to shippers, the best call coming from industries.

A Rosario cable reported wheat 1c higher. Argentine markets for all grains have shown more strength the last few days, corn futures at both Buenos Aires and Rosario being higher as the result of the better foreign demand. Weather conditions in Argentina were reported unfavorable.

Liverpool cabled: "It is expected here that shipments from America this week will be smaller. Heavy rain continues throughout Europe. Paris market is lower with ample supplies for the present and native offers are larger."

Bennett had a wire from a Cincinnati grain house saying: "Our market holds firm, No. 2 red selling at $1.10 regardless of the decline at Chicago and other markets."

Kansas City wired that exporters were buying a lot of December wheat in that market. Elevator concerns also were credited with buying the December.

Winnipeg wired Ware-Leland: "There has been a good cash demand here for last two days and again this morning. Exporters are buying October."

New York wired there was no inquiry from France for flour for October shipments as yet, the demand having all been for prompt shipment.

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 320 cars; corn, 122 cars; oats, 261 cars; rye, 8 cars; barley, 62 cars; hogs, 8,000 head.

Indian shipments of wheat this week were 328,000 bu, against 728,000 bu last week and 1,088,000 bu a year ago.

Minneapolis wheat stocks increased 2,150,000 bu for the week and Duluth gained 1,770,000 bu for five days.

A local commission house had an Argentine cable saying locusts were damaging the wheat.

Cash sales of corn here were 290,000 bu and oats sales were 650,000 bu.

COFFEE AND SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The coffee market was unsettled and a shade easier today, particularly on Santos grades. Not much change was reported in the cost and freight situation, but there were continued rumors that Brazilian shippers would accept bids at slight concessions from the quoted prices, while further arrivals here and the continued slack demand were probably responsible for the declining tendency of the local spot market. Rio 7s were quoted at 6⅝c and Santos 4s at 11⅝c. Hamburg statisticians estimate a decrease of 900,000 bags in the world's visible supply for August, against an increase of 966,000 last year. SUGAR—Raw weak; molasses, 5.00@5.12c; centrifugal, 5.65@5.77c; refined steady.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—SUGAR—The following prices were quoted by wholesale dealers per 100 lbs.: Cut loaf, H. & E., $8.78; powdered, standard, $8.08; eastern granulated, $7.58; beet granulated, $7.88; extra C, $7.83; canary, $7.08.

NEW YORK BONDS OFFERED AT PAR

Price of Six Per Cent Notes Affords a Basis for Other Securities.

LOW PRICES DEMANDED

The one, two, and three year 6 per cent notes of New York City are being offered at par in a 7 per cent money market. This being a high grade security, offers a price basis under present money conditions.

Local bond houses are finding that investors will not pay the same price for bonds now that they did at the time the stock exchange was closed. Some scattering sales may be made, but those who make purchases in considerable amounts are refusing to pay par for 5 per cent issues. In consequence their bids are 97 and 98 for quantities of bonds ordinarily quoted around 101 and 102.

Interest Rates Govern Bonds.

This situation does not promise to change, and before any considerable bond market may be expected bond offerings must be made at quotations in harmony with rates of interest. It is apparent the bond buyer is not intending to pay in a close money market what he would pay in a cheap money market.

The present local situation has created a rather fine market for municipal issues, but, of course, at a reduction from the prices obtaining before July 30.

Bank Amendment Joker.

According to Washington dispatches the following amendment to the federal reserve act has been introduced in congress:

"The federal reserve board shall have power to permit member banks to carry in the federal reserve banks of their respective districts any portion of their reserves now required by section 19 of this act to be carried in their own vaults."

The joker in the foregoing is that the reserve carried in the federal reserve banks may, according to law, be checked down, that is, cease to be a full reserve. The amendment points toward relieving the banks of the reserve requirements.

It would accomplish in a different way the same result sought to be accomplished by making national bank notes eligible for reserves or by making federal reserve bank notes eligible for reserves. Both these propositions have already been voted down. The present effort is a little more ingenious in that on its face it appears to shift reserves rather than to lower them.

Short Interest Reduced.

According to New York advices the borrowing demand for stocks on July 30 indicated the existence of a short interest amounting to more than 1,000,000 shares. That interest, it is estimated, has since been reduced 50 per cent. It is declared it would be a practical impossibility to ascertain accurately the present extent of the bear account in the market, but brokers as a rule have endeavored to induce customers who were short to cover commitments, though they have not been entirely successful. Those who have not covered are determined to maintain their position until business is resumed on the exchange.

According to the Wall Street Journal, there will be no rush of shorts to cover when the exchange reopens, and the market will be largely governed by the absorptive demand, fortified possibly by supporting orders placed by large banking institutions.

Garfield State Bank.

The deposit figures of the Garfield Avenue State Savings bank, which appeared in a statement of the banks last Thursday was incorrect. The amount of deposits since beginning business July 1 should have been $572,898, instead of $344,958.

Financial News Notes.

It is announced that during the last ten days $750,000 gold bars have been withdrawn from the assay office at New York for shipment to Canada.

It is reported that the American Woolen company has had a fair season. Several of the largest plants are said to have all their looms in operation.

The directors of the United States Rubber company will meet the first Thursday in October, the usual time for acting on dividends. Earnings of the company for the first six months are reported to have been good, though no prediction is ventured as to the probable dividend action of the board.

Canadian Pacific was quoted on the London exchange at 160½. The price was up on showing of earnings made. American railway shares other than Canadian Pacific shares attracted but little interest.

BUTTER MART WEAKENS.

Fresh Fruits Plentiful and Less Costly; Vegetables Unchanged.

Eggs, live chickens, and white potatoes sold at reduced prices at Chicago yesterday, while the butter market had a weak undertone at former prices. The supply of fresh fruits was excessive and lower prices had to be accepted before offerings could be cleared. Green vegetables showed little change.

Fresh and cold storage eggs sold at a reduction of ½c a dozen. Receipts were small, 5,751 cases, but the trade was dull and there were liberal offerings of cold storage eggs by owners in need of ready cash. Butter receipts were 8,857 tubs, which sufficed for all needs, although the lightest of the week.

Live hens, spring chickens, and roosters sold at a reduction of 1c a pound. Receipts were liberal, 7 cars and 1,500 coops, while the demand was moderate, most of the Jewish holiday requirements having been supplied.

Potato buyers restricted their purchases, holding back orders in anticipation of larger receipts and lower prices at the beginning of next week. Receipts were 25 cars.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—That the New York cotton exchange is preparing to trade under the terms of the new cotton futures law when it is found possible to resume business, was indicated by today's announcement that a special committee had been sent to Washington for the purpose of consulting the secretary of agriculture and, if possible, obtaining rulings on certain of the law's provisions. Yesterday's operations in Liverpool resulted in the liquidation of 400 bales of the old straddle interest here, according to a statement from the conference committee, and it was reported that another 600 bales would be put to ballot today, although the results might not be published until Monday. Southern spot advices indicated continued firmness in the interior with the markets officially reported firm to a shade higher, and reports of rains in the eastern and central belts caused no apprehensions of danger other than a possible lowering of grade.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 18.—COTTON—Spot in better demand; the better grades were scarce, with a hardening tendency. Sales, 6,600 bales, including 5,800 American, on the basis of 5.80d for middling. Imports, 100 bales, all American.

Packers at Chicago yesterday regained control of the hog market and wiped out the 10@20c advance made on Thursday. Shippers, speculators, and a few independent packers made purchases at the outset at prices that did not show more than 5c decline, but leading killers filled scarcely any orders before midsession. Then they bought all the hogs they wanted at 10@25c lower than on Thursday. Receipts of 13,000 head found a good outlet at the reduced prices, but the market closed at the bottom.

Native sheep and lambs had a drop of 25@50c a hundred pounds, while rangers sold largely 25c cheaper than on the preceding day. Packers were about the only buyers and they appeared to be filled up. Receipts of 18,000 head did not clear until late in the day and final prices were at the lowest level of the week for most classes. A few native lambs reached $8.75, while most prime offerings cleared at $8.25@8.50. Rangers topped at $8.60. Best yearlings sold at $6.50 and sheep at $6.00.

Cattle trade was stagnant. Fresh receipts were posted at only 2,000 head, but there was no reliable outlet for any class and holders had to make concessions to effect sales. Native cattle were mostly 25@40c lower than a week ago, while rangers showed little change.

MARSHALL FIELD REVIEW.

Marshall Field & Co., in their weekly review of the dry goods trade, say:

"Immediate filling-in business is about normal, with a good number of buyers visiting the market. Retail selling has been somewhat retarded by warm weather. Orders on some lines are being taken subject to the ability of manufacturers to fulfill their contracts in view of the scarcity of dye stuffs, which still remains a serious problem.

"There promises to be a scarcity of fiber silk hosiery, as a large proportion of the yarns for this purpose have been imported from Belgium and Germany. There is a heavy fall demand for wool dress goods of all kinds. Stocks of broadcloths and all French goods in this country are about exhausted. Opening prices on wool goods for spring have advanced from 2½ to 10 per cent.

"Imported merchandise is being received in limited quantities from Great Britain and parts of the continent, but arrivals are uncertain and all ocean freight rates are advanced in some instances as high as 300 per cent. War insurance and rates of exchange continue high."

Jobless Man Freed.

Alfred Pfingst and his wife Frances of 1202 South Racine avenue were discharged by Municipal Judge Torrison yesterday. Pfingst admitted giving his wife a check made out to himself and signed "H. O. Shipiro," who has an account with the Foreman Bros. bank. His wife, he said, did not know the check, which was for $3.10, was bad, and cashed it in Charles Baum's grocery, at 2257 Thirteenth street. He said he was out of work and his wife was sick in the county hospital. Baum did not want to prosecute them.

Union Pacific.

S. P.—Union Pacific stock is in a strong position. The company recently reported to the interstate commerce commission earnings for the year, after paying taxes as $31,626,214. This compares with $34,941,965 for the year ended June 30, 1913, being a decrease of 9½ per cent. As the company earned more than 15 per cent on its common stock the year before, this decrease leaves it with about 13½ per cent earned on common. Ten per cent was paid on the common for some years up to last spring, when Baltimore and Ohio stock held in the treasury of the company was distributed to common shareholders, and the dividend rate was reduced to 8. The common stock is outstanding at the rate of $29,478 a mile, and for last year the surplus with which to pay dividends on it amounted to 29.5 per cent of gross earnings, comparing with an average of 12 or 15 per cent for similar railway systems. The company still holds in its treasury more than $80,000,000 of stocks and bonds of other roads, after disposing of its Southern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio shares. The Panama canal may reduce the earnings of the road. The effect of the canal on transcontinental railways is not yet known.

Bonds on Installment Plan.

J. E. S., Springfield, Ill.—The purchase of good bonds on the installment plan is sound if you are dealing with a sound firm and if the interest you must pay on balances due is not greater than the yield of the bond you are buying. The buying of stocks on such a plan is inadvisable. We fail to find the firm you mention rated in commercial agency reports, and the list submitted consists of stocks only.

Medical Protective Company.

B. T. R.—The Medical Protective company of Fort Wayne, Ind., insures against loss or damage by physicians or surgeons for accidents or injuries occurring in their practice and for which they may be liable. The company is controlled by its directors, who are all influential business men of Fort Wayne. The last annual statement showed capital paid in $100,000 and $42,879 net surplus. Total income for the year was $100,456; losses paid, $21,410; expenses paid, $43,326.

Brief Answers.

W. H. G.—The H. J. Mapp company has increased its capital stock from $2,000 to $50,000. It says it earned 80 per cent on the $2,000 and hopes with its enlarged facilities to make large earnings on the increased capitalization. The company deals in drugs and physicians' and dental supplies and reports that it has been turning away business because of lack of capital to carry accounts receivable. It also wants to manufacture its own drugs.

B. B. L.—The Worth-Huskey Coal company refuses information on its financial status. It is therefore impossible to advise you as to the soundness of its bonds. The bank you ask about is a member of the clearing house and subject to inspection by that association's examiners. This is an assurance that the bank is sound and reasonably conservative.

Miss M. L.—The bank you ask about is subject to examination by the Chicago clearing house, and there is no reason to question its conservatism and soundness.

EXCHANGE DROPS FURTHER

Foreign Part in New York City Loan Held Reason.

DOMESTIC STOCKS BETTER.

Good Reports Continue to Be Heard from Middle West.

New York, Sept. 18.—There was another sharp decline in foreign exchange today. Announcement was made that the new $100,000,000 New York City loan had been oversubscribed, and the further break in exchange was accepted as a measure of the foreign participation in the loan.

Dealing in bills on London was quite extensive, being quoted at as low as 4.93, with moderate recovery later. Taking this low figure as a basis, exchange is down about 6c from the week's highest level, and more than 10c since the first of the month. This points strongly to a return of fairly normal money conditions between New York and London before long.

Domestic Securities Improve.

An indubitable sign of improvement in domestic securities was found on the retirement of call loans which had hung over the last fortnight. There also were freer acceptances of commercial paper by interior banks.

Sentiment among bankers favors organization of the $150,000,000 gold pool, which was temporarily abandoned at the suggestion of the federal reserve board when local banking institutions agreed to finance this city's maturing debts abroad. It is felt that the plan which involves the assistance of inland banks would strongly fortify this country's credits in Europe and call for little if any additional gold exports.

Moderate shipments of gold to Canada were made, but they had no bearing on the city loan. Banks in the dominion were again offering money here at 6 per cent, but the character of the collateral demanded was so high as to make the loans almost prohibitive. Local banks are expected to show a cash gain tomorrow, but interest centers about the loan account, which is likely to show some expansion.

Bank Clearings Smaller.

Bank clearings continue in smaller volume, but returns from outside of the city are relatively favorable, declines in some sections being partially offset by gains elsewhere, so that the total is only 6.3 per cent under the corresponding period of last year. New Orleans shows a large contraction by reason of the unsettled cotton market.

Trade authorities report some favorable developments in textiles and general merchandise, especially in the middle west, that section deriving some benefit from big crops and higher prices. Improvement is noted in copper, but demand for iron and steel continues light.

Former Member of Board of Trade Gathered Fortune Without Realty.

Personal property valued at $124,967 was left by George H. Sidwell, member of the board of trade, who died more than a year ago. An inventory of his estate was filed in the Probate court yesterday. He left no real estate. Chicago City Railway company bonds valued at $25,000 represent the largest item.

Mrs. Frances O. Terry, 1812 Hinman avenue, Evanston, is the sole beneficiary of $36,000, the estate left by her husband, Milton S. Terry, college professor, who died at Los Angeles, Cal., July 13.

In the will of Peter W. Coppersmith, South Water street merchant, who died July 26, five daughters and four sons share equally his $9,000 estate.

BUSINESS GAINS IMPETUS: BANKS IN GOOD POSITION

R. G. Dun & Co. Say in Review Seasonable Recovery Is Being Shown in All Branches of Industry.

Dun's Review, published today by R. G. Dun & Co., will say:

"The improving tendencies gather more force, with business on the whole reflecting seasonable recovery in various branches outside the principal industries. Official bank exhibits this week disclosed a strong position, and, while no change appears in discount conditions, credits are well sustained and trading mortality is less disturbing.

"Successful crop marketings at profitable returns, the increased agricultural wealth and purchasing power, and betterment in export trade and exchange are factors directly stimulating the outlook for producers and distributers. The activities in this section derive further strength in the demands from abroad, and this gratifying development is an inducement to wider enterprise.

"Purely local progress proved satisfactory in the renewal of operations at large plants in the Calumet district. This recovery is notable in car and locomotive building. New demands in iron and steel have continued limited owing to high cost of financing railroad needs. In heavy outside construction, new building and miscellaneous needs there is much absorption of materials. Increasing movements of factory outputs are noted.

"Bank clearings, $298,398,557, compared with $221,717,402 last week, and are 5.2 per cent less than corresponding week last year. Failures reported in the Chicago district numbered 28, against 22 last week, 50 in 1913, and 26 in 1912. Those with liabilities over $5,000 number 10, against 6 last week, 22 in 1913, and 4 in 1912."

Three creditors, with claims amounting to $12,600, were named. It is alleged the company owes $75,000 and has assets of $50,000. Federal Judge Landis appointed the Central Trust company receiver. The bond was $1,000.

BUSINESS. COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL SECTION

THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE: SATURDAY. SEPTEMBER 19. 1914.

LEASE PROPERTY ON NORTH CLARK

Owners of Building at 180-182 Negotiate Rental for Ninety-nine Years.

USED BY HOTEL ASTOR.

An interesting deal has been closed in the downtown district in the long term lease of the property at 180-182 North Clark street, on the west side of the street, 56 feet north of Couch place, in the block between Randolph and Lake streets. The lot fronts 15 feet, with a depth of 70 feet, and was leased for a term of ninety-nine years by S. A. Cohn and James M. Lovellette from the Northern Trust company, trustee, representing a half interest, and Colin M. Jones, owner of the other half interest. The lot is improved with a four story and basement building, the upper floors of which are occupied by the lessees, who operate the Hotel Astor, at 172-176 North Clark street.

The lease provides for an annual ground rent of $3,600 for the first six years and $4,000 for the remaining years of the term. The average annual rent is $3,977.77, which capitalized on a 4 per cent basis gives a leasing value of $99,444, which is at the rate of $94.70 a square foot.

White & Tabor represented both parties to the transaction, while the legal details were attended to by Abe Meyer for the lessee and William S. Miller for the lessors.

Gaylord Sells Residence.

Truman P. Gaylord, vice president of the Westinghouse company, who is moving to Pittsburgh, has sold to Charles Y. Freeman of the law firm of Sheric, Dent, Dobyns & Freeman, his residence at 1540 Dearborn parkway, in the block between Burton place and North avenue. The property is 150 feet south of Lincoln park, the lot fronting 25 feet with a depth of 149½ feet, and is improved with a three story stone front dwelling, containing fourteen rooms. There also is a garage in the rear. The sale was negotiated by Paul Steinbrecner & Co., the consideration being withheld.

The Ostrander-Seymour company, printing presses, has acquired, in several transfers filed for record yesterday, a total of about 140 feet of frontage on Shields avenue, north of Garfield boulevard, the considerations being of a nominal character, which will be improved with one and two story buildings to be used as additions to the present plant of the company, which is across the alley from the property acquired.

Buys Flat Property.

Raymond P. Parker has purchased from Charles Schoenfeld the apartment house property in Colorado avenue, 85 feet west of Millard avenue, with 50x150 feet of ground, northwest front, for a stated consideration of $25,000, subject to an incumbrance of $10,000.

The apartment house property in Avers avenue, 226 feet south of West Thirteenth street, lot 50x125 feet, west front, has been sold by Joseph Goldblatt to Samuel and Maurice M. Johnson for a stated consideration of $25,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000.

The six apartment building at 5737-39 Drexel avenue, with 50x130 feet of ground, west front, has been sold by Clara Fischer to C. E. Krug for a stated consideration of $20,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000.

West Side Sale.

The property on Polk street, fifty-eight feet west of St. Louis avenue, lot 30x125 feet, with brick improvements, has been sold by Sarah Muller to Caroline Ziegler for a stated consideration of $17,000, subject to an incumbrance of $9,000.

Clifford F. Hatch has purchased from William Lawrence the property at the southeast corner of Clifton Park avenue and West Fifteenth street, 50x125 feet, with flat improvements, the consideration being nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $19,900.

Molly Wagman has sold to Sol Klausner the three story brick building at 1922 Irving Park boulevard, near Lincoln avenue, and now occupied by the Western Casket and Undertaking company for a reported consideration of $16,500, subject to an incumbrance of $9,100. George J. Kappes was the broker.

Trade Makes Record.

Paul E. Hartung & Co. have sold for R. E. Armstrong to Mrs. Sarah Prinn the three flat building at 1200 Norwood street, for $13,000, said to be the record price for such a building in that district.

Albert F. Keaney, a northwest side operator, has purchased from Victor Bardonski a tract of seven acres at the northeast corner of North Sixtieth avenue and Wellington street at the reported rate of $1,000 an acre. It adjoins the twenty acres purchased by Mr. Keaney on Belmont avenue running through to Wellington street.

Henry C. Kracker has purchased from Louis G. U. S. GRAND JURY RESUMES LABOR AGENT INVESTIGATION

Four Witnesses Go Before Body in Connection with Alleged Blackmailing Plots.

The federal grand jury resumed yesterday its interrupted investigation of the activities of alleged blackmailing labor agents and their connection with alleged violations of interstate commerce laws. Four witnesses, all laborers, it was said, went before the inquisitorial body.

District Attorney Charles F. Clyne said he could not discuss the subject at this time and declined to reveal the identity of the witnesses. It is understood the grand jury wanted to resume the labor inquiry despite the report from Washington at the time Justice McReynolds was attorney general that the department considered the case one for the state courts to handle and that the interstate commerce feature was "far fetched."

The grand jury, however, desired to go ahead, it was reported, with a view to learning, if possible, to what extent labor agents might have power to interfere with interstate shoipments during strikes, lockouts, boycotts, and other labor difficulties. Mr. Clyne took personal charge of the inquiry, assisted by Assistant District Attorney Albert L. Hopkins, who was in charge of the earlier part of the investigation.

RECEIVERS FOR LOZIER CO. ASKED BY THREE CREDITORS.

Present Claims Aggregating $2,397 and Allege Insolvency of Detroit Motor Firm.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18.—[Special.]—Creditors of the Lozier Motor company have filed in the federal court here a petition for the appointment of receivers for the company.

The petitioners are the Detroit Pressed Steel company, the Welded Steel Parrell company, and the Brightman Nut and Manufacturing company. They have unpaid claims aggregating $2,397 and allege insolvency. Judge Tuttle set the hearing for next Wednesday afternoon. Referee in Bankruptcy Lee E. Joslyn was appointed custodian of the property.

It is understood that attorneys for the Lozier company will contest the appointment of a receiver. They decline to admit insolvency, though they have given no statement of liabilities. The statement of financial condition issued last December gives the assets as $4,067,051, with liabilities of only $1,572,567.

Albert Burrage Farwell Complains to Mayor That Druggist Has Been Fined for Illegal Acts.

Arthur Burrage Farwell, secretary of the Hyde Park Protective association, yesterday wrote to Mayor Harrison asking him to revoke the license of H. L. Losch, a druggist at 77 East Forty-third street, on the ground that he has been fined $25 for selling liquor without a license. In this case Ald. Thomas D. Nash of the Third ward represented the defendant. Mr. Farwell also called attention to newspaper reports that Losch had been fined $50 on another occasion for illegally selling cocaine.

"We would like your opinion," said Mr. Farwell, "as to whether it is right for an alderman, a city father, to defend blind pig keepers? This is the second time he has done that."

Ald. Nash said last night he saw no impropriety in representing the druggist in a legal capacity.

WALLACE SEES END OF STEAM

Predicts Use of Electricity Soon for All Internal City Traffic.

BACK FROM EUROPE.

Steam as a motive power for railroads within the confines of a large city must be abandoned, according to John F. Wallace, first engineer of the Panama canal and chairman of the railway terminals commission, who returned to the city yesterday from a European tour. Mr. Wallace's assertion was considered significant in view of the fact that the city council has directed the terminals commission to study the feasibility of electrification.

"The day of steam as a motive power in internal city traffic is gone, or is rapidly going," declared Mr. Wallace.

"The terminals commission has before it a dozen or more matters relating to electrification which were referred to it by the city council. The first step that must be taken is to work out a rearrangement of railroad tracks so as to reduce the number and provide for an interchange of facilities. Here in Chicago there are numerous instances where railroads parallel and cross each other so as to double and triple the amount of necessary trackage. An improvement in the precent track situation is bound to come, and that will make possible a change in motive power.

Ahead of Europe.

"American cities are far ahead of Europe in the electrification of railroad terminals, though London and Paris are using electric motive power for a few suburban lines. But there is no development abroad that can be compared with the electrification of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the New York Central, and the Pennsylvania railroads in New York."

Mr Wallace said the railway terminals commission would soon begin active work. During the summer Mr. Wallace's staff of engineers has gathered data and prepared maps relating to the terminal question. The first matter to come before the commission probably will be the request of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad for an extension of the terminal facilities of the Dearborn station.

Involves Whole Problem.

"This request," continued Mr. Wallace, "involves the whole terminal problem with respect to the railroads using the Grand Central, the La Salle, and the Dearborn stations. In handling this problem some way must be found to confine railroad occupancy to private property and thus open up more north and south and east and west streets. In London the railroads are compelled to keep the highways open, and we should follow the same policy here."

The wharves and docks in English ports are open to all railroads, Mr. Wallace said. He thought this system better than the prevailing one in the United States, where particular railroads exercise monopolistic control over wharfage privileges.

Mr. Wallace was one of the members of the commission of city officials that went to Europe to study municipal conditions.

BALLOU GIVES $3,000 BOND.

Capitalist and Doctor Arraigned on Serious Charge Furnish Bail for Appearance Today.

Laurence D. Ballou, a retired capitalist, who resides at the Hamilton club, and Dr. L. W. Rowell, Western Springs, Ill., whose office is at 159 North State street, were arraigned yesterday afternoon before Municipal Judge Gemmill on serious charges preferred against them by H. B. Waterman, 605 West Sixty-third street, uncle of Laona Johnson, 18 years old, of Laona, Wis.

They were placed under $3,000 bond to appear at the hearing this morning before Judge Gemmill.

Assistant Corporation Counsel George L. Reker said the Johnson girl is in a critical condition in St. Bernard's hospital as a result of an illegal operation.
